Dr. Humphrey, from the Committee on Bills and Overtures, reported back from that Committee several papers which were referred to other Standing Committees. He also reported back the following papers, with a recommendation that they be referred to a Special Committee, viz., 1st. A memorial from several ministers and elders of the Presbytery of Potosi. 2d. An overture from the Synod of New York. 3d. An overture from the Presbytery of Steubenville. 4th. A resolution of the Presbytery of Zanesville. 5th. An overture from the Presbytery of St. Clairsville. 6th. An overture from L. H. Moore, of North Henderson, Illinois. 7th. A memorial from sundry "Ministers and Ruling Elders residing in and near the city of Philadelphia," all relating to various matters connected with the Presbyterian Churches and Synods in the southern and border states.

The report was adopted, and the Moderator appointed as the Special Committee to whom these papers were referred, the following persons, viz., Ministers—S. J. Niccolls, D.D., A. A. Hodge, D. D., M. B. Grier, D. D., George Hill, L. Merrill Miller, D. D. Ruling Elders—William F. Allen, David Keith, Robert Carter, James M. Ray.

The Rev. Dr. Grier, from the Standing Committee on the Report of the Freedmen's Committee, reported that certain papers had been placed in the hands of the Committee by order of the Assembly, which, upon examination, were found to consist of a manifesto issued by the Knox Presbytery in the State of Georgia, declaring their separation from the Southern Presbyterian Church; and second, an extract from the Minutes of the Knox Presbytery, asking to be taken under the care of this General Assembly.

This Presbytery consists of four ministers, regularly ordained, having under their care one licentiate and nine churches—said churches having six hundred and twenty-two members. The Presbytery appointed the Rev. Joseph Williams, Commissioner to this Assembly, and he is here present with a commission duly signed. The Committee recommend that the Presbytery be received by this Assembly, the name of its Commissioner placed on the Roll of the Assembly, that the boundaries of the Presbytery be the lines of the State of Georgia, and that the Presbytery be attached, for the present, to the Synod of Baltimore.

The report was adopted.

The first order of the day was taken up, and the Rev. A. P. Happer, D. D., chairman of the Standing Committee on the Board of Church Extension, presented its report. The Rev. H. I. Coe, Secretary of that Board, by invitation addressed the Assembly.

On motion of the Rev. N. G. Parke the report was amended by inserting the words "through this Board," in the fifth resolution.

The report, as thus amended, was adopted, and is as follows:

The Committee to which was referred the Report of the Board of Church Extension, together with the volume containing their minutes, would respectfully report, that they find that the minutes present a clear and satisfactory statement of the action of the Executive Committee in conducting the business of the Board, and they recommend their approval. They find that the Report gives a clear and succinct statement of what has been done during the year ending April 1st, 1868.

There are several items in this Report worthy of special notice.

1st. The contributions from churches to this Board have been larger this year than in any previous year by $5264.

2d. One hundred and nineteen more churches have contributed to its funds than in any previous year.

3d. The appropriations to churches have exceeded those of any previous year by fourteen per cent., and they exceed the receipts by $3137.

4th. Notwithstanding the gratifying increase of contributions, yet they are less than one-half of the amount which has been applied for by one hundred and eighty churches during the year.

5th. While it is very gratifying to state that 119 more churches have contributed to this Board during this year than in any previous year, yet there are in all only 948 which have contributed to its funds, leaving sixteen hundred churches in our connection which have not contributed to this object through this Board.

6th. The review of this Board's labours for thirteen years shows that it has granted the sum of $376,178 to aid 830 churches, and has thus helped these congregations to obtain houses of worship of the aggregate value of two and a half millions of dollars, or nearly seven times the amount of the aid granted to them, and which are capable of seating 175,000 worshippers.

The Committee would commend the whole of the Report to the attention of every member of the Assembly, as it presents the best possible view of what has been done and what yet remains to be done, and the importance of all the churches contributing funds to carry forward the very important and necessary work of assisting feeble churches to erect houses in which to worship God our Saviour.

The following resolutions are respectfully submitted to the Assembly for its adoption in reference to this Board.

1*st*. That the Report of the Board of Church Extension be approved, and that it be published under the direction of the Board, and that a copy be sent to all our ministers and church sessions.

2*d*. That the Assembly gratefully recognizes the gratuitous and faithful services of those members of this Board, and especially of the Executive Committee, who have devoted much of their time and attention to the business of the Board.

3*d*. That the Assembly has heard with devout gratitude to Almighty God of the success of this Board in aiding feeble churches to secure houses of worship.

4*th*. That the Assembly finds great satisfaction in the fact that this Board, during the fiscal year just closed, has enabled 122 churches in 50 Presbyteries in twenty different States to complete their houses of worship and dedicate them to the Triune God free of debt.

5*th*. That while it is a cause of thankfulness that 119 more churches have contributed to the funds of this Board during this year than in the preceding year, yet it is with deep regret the Assembly learns that 1600 churches in our connection have given nothing to aid this very important work of our Church through this Board.

6*th*. That the Assembly regards the work of this Board as of the highest importance to the prosperity of the Redeemer's kingdom, and it does most earnestly recommend all our churches to contribute liberally for the advancement of Christ's cause through this appointed means.

The second order of the day, viz., the report of the Standing Committee on the Board of Publication, was postponed, the Committee not being ready to report.

On motion, the Rev. Henry Darling, D. D., Delegate from the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church now sitting at Harrisburgh, Pa., addressed the Assembly, and was responded to by the Moderator, with an interchange of fraternal salutations.

The Committee on Devotional Exercises presented an additional report, which was approved.

Letters of invitation were received as follows: 1st. From the Young Men's Christian Association of Albany, tendering the use of its rooms, library, &c. 2d. From the Secretary of the Trustees of the State Library, Cabinet of Natural History, &c., inviting the Assembly to visit and examine the Library and Cabinet. 3d. From Thomas W. Olcott, Esq., President of the Medical College, the Hospital, and the Dudley Observatory, inviting the Assembly to visit those institutions. The invitations were all accepted with the thanks of the Assembly for these courtesies.

The Assembly proceeded to appoint a place for its next meeting, when the Second Church in the city of Brooklyn was unanimously chosen.

After spending a half hour in devotional exercises, the Assembly adjourned to Monday next, at 9 A. M.

MONDAY Morning, May 25, 9 o'clock.

The Assembly met, and was opened with singing, reading the Scriptures, and with prayer by the Moderator.

The minutes of Saturday were read and approved.

The Committee on Commissions reported that the following Commissioners had presented their credentials and been enrolled; viz., Minister, Watson Russell, from the Presbytery of Zanesville; Ruling Elder, S. F. Glenn, from the Presbytery of Dubuque.

The Permanent Clerk reported that he had received on Saturday, after the adjournment of the Assembly, the following telegram:

To Rev. W. E. Schenck, D. D., Permanent Clerk of the Assembly sitting in Albany:

The General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in session at Harrisburgh, Pa., sends fraternal and Christian salutations to the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church holding its sessions in Albany, N. Y., with the suggestion that the first morning hour of Tuesday be devoted by both Assemblies to prayer for divine guidance in their deliberation and action upon the report of the Joint Committee on Re-union.

J. Glentworth Butler, Permanent Clerk.

To J. Glentworth Butler, D. D., Permanent Clerk of the General Assembly sitting at Harrisburgh, Pa.:

The General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church now in session at Albany, N. Y., sends its warm Christian greetings, in response to the salutations of the General Assembly now in session in Harrisburgh, and have fixed the first hour of Tuesday's sessions for prayer to God for divine guidance in their discussions and decision, on the Basis of Re-union.

William E. Schenck, Permanent Clerk.

Dr. M. B. Grier, Chairman of the Standing Committee on the Freedmen's Committee, presented its report. The Rev. S. C. Logan, Secretary of the Freedmen's Committee, by invitation addressed the Assembly. Dr. J. C. Backus offered as an amendment an eighth resolution, which was adopted. The Report as thus amended was then adopted, and is as follows:

The Committee has examined the Minutes of the Freedmen's Committee, and also the Minutes of its Executive Committee, and recommends their approval.

The Report of the Committee has also been examined, and we find that the work has been prosecuted during the past year with great fidelity and zeal, and with increasing and most gratifying success. As the result of its work, we have three organized Presbyteries, represented on the floor of this Assembly, to which belong twenty ministers, and which have under their care four licentiates, and more than fifty churches, containing four thousand two hundred and eight members. In addition to these we have churches connected with other Presbyteries, which have over four hundred members. The success of this work is indicated by the fact that the membership of these churches has been doubled during the past year. It has built twenty-three houses of worship, and seven manses or teacher's houses. Over eight thousand dollars have been raised from the Freedmen themselves in support of this work. The Committee has had in its employ since the last report, one hundred and sixty-five missionaries, who have performed eighty-one years' and eight months' of service, at an average salary of $250. One hundred and ten of these were of the African race. The Committee has in successful operation thirty-eight schools with about three thousand pupils and fifty-one Sabbath-schools. Your Committee is of opinion that this recital of facts, showing what has been already accomplished with the comparatively meagre amount of means placed in the hands of the General Assembly's Committee, entitles those who have conducted this work to the thanks of the Church, and the cause to the sympathy and aid of all who love the extension and glory of the kingdom of Jesus Christ. Manifestly, the Church is called by Christ to a great work for the race which God has connected so intimately with all the interests, political, social, and religious, of this land and nation. Her past success in this behalf should be gratefully accepted as the fruit of God's blessing upon our work, and as an incentive to increased earnestness and faithfulness in the task which we have taken upon us to fulfil. It is proper to add that the Boards of Domestic Missions, Church Extension, Education, and Publication have heartily co-operated in the production of these cheering results.

Your Committee would respectfully submit to the Assembly the following resolutions, to wit:

1. In view of the responsibilities of the Presbyterian Church to this race, and of its immediate necessities, as well as the success which has attended our efforts in its behalf, this Assembly declares its purpose to continue as a permanent work the effort to plant the Church with its educational and gospel privileges among the African race in this country, and earnestly calls upon the ministers and churches to support the Assembly's Committee in the effort to fulfil the purpose thus distinctly and solemnly announced.

2. That an additional column be placed in the statistical tables of the Assembly for the contributions to the Committee on Freedmen, and that the time of the annual collection be changed from the first Sunday in October to the first Sunday in December.

3. That there be an addition of one minister and one ruling elder to each of the classes into which this Committee is now divided.

4. That in view of the divided opinion of our ministers and people, as to the question whether this work should be conducted as a separate mission, or merged in the general home-work of the Church, a Committee consisting of the following persons, to wit: Rev. E. P. Humphrey, D. D., Rev. William M. Paxton, D. D., Rev. Cyrus Dickson, D. D., Rev. James M. Crowell, D. D., with ruling elders Henry Day, John D. McCord, and Robert Carter, be appointed to consider the whole subject, and report thereon to the next General Assembly.

5. That in view of the vastness of this field, the ripeness of the harvest, and of its pressing necessities, and in view of the fact that large contributions have been made by our Presbyterian brethren in Great Britain to Associations not connected with our Church, thereby expressing their interest in the cause, the Assembly's Committee be authorized to consider the propriety of sending a delegation to our brethren in that land, to set before them the work in which we are engaged, and the methods through which we are prosecuting it, and ask their aid and sympathy in fulfilling the task imposed upon us in the providence of God.

6. That the Assembly rejoices in the fact, that the various Boards of the Church have been able to coöperate efficiently in the work of the Committee, and requests them to continue their co-operation in their several departments, in such mode as will prove most efficient in furthering the interests of the cause.

7. As the great demand of the work among the Freedmen is for educated ministers and teachers of their own race, and as there are three institutions in existence whose object is to meet this demand, to wit: Lincoln University, in Pennsylvania; Biddle Memorial Institute at Charlotte, N. C., and Quindaro High School, in Kansas, each of which is accomplishing a most valuable work as an auxiliary in the work of evangelizing the colored race, but which are not fully equipped for the work, and still need aid both for completing their buildings and to support such worthy young men as flock to their halls, this General Assembly would therefore declare that it regards these institutions of primary importance in the successful prosecution of the work among the Freedmen, and it commends them and their appointed agents to the confidence and liberality of the churches and of individuals, for such pecuniary aid as is necessary to equip them fully for their good work.

8. That the Secretary of the Freedmen's Committee be requested to confer with the Secretary of the Freedmen's Committee of the New School Presbyterian Church, and with the Secretary of the Instruction Fund of the Southern Presbyterian Church, and ascertain whether these bodies cannot co-operate in the great work, so that it can be carried on more harmoniously and efficiently by Presbyterians.

The second order of the day was taken up and the Report of the Standing Committee on the Board of Education was, in the absence of the Chairman, presented by the Rev. S. J. Milliken.

Rev. Wm. Speer, D. D., Secretary of the Board of Education, by invitation addressed the Assembly. The report was left as unfinished business.

Letters were received from Churchhill and Dwight, and from E. S. M. Haines expressing each a desire to take a photographic picture of the Assembly in a group. On motion, the two invitations were accepted.

The Assembly adjourned after spending a half-hour in devotional exercises.

MONDAY Afternoon, 3½ o'clock.

The Assembly met, and was opened with prayer by the Moderator.

The unfinished order of the day was taken up; viz. the report of the Standing Committee on the Board of Education.

The Rev. George S. Mott offered as an amendment the following addition, viz.

That the Executive Committee be requested to inquire in what way more attention can be directed to the establishment of Presbyterian schools and the education of our own children in institutions under Presbyterian influence.

The amendment was adopted.

The whole report as thus amended was then adopted and is as follows.

Your Committee on Education would respectfully report that it has examined the Report of the Board, and the several volumes of their Minutes.

The Minutes present a full and clear exhibition of the various branches of their business, and the Committee recommends their approval. The Report has evidently been prepared with great care and labour, and we are confident that our ministers and churches will be richly rewarded by a careful perusal of it.

The year of the Board's labours has been one of prosperity. Its receipts have been increased above those of last year to the amount of $1,644, and without detriment to any of its objects its expenditures have been diminished.

The number of new candidates received during the year has been increased. Last year it was 84, this year 106.

This will create a necessity for a much larger increase in the contributions of the churches, and for a special remembrance from those which have not yet taken them up. The information collected and presented as to the past history and work of the Board, and as to its candidates is specially valuable, and worthy of the consideration of the Church, and of use to pastors and others in their addresses upon the subject.

Your Committee would recommend the following resolutions for the adoption of the Assembly:

Resolved, 1. That the Report of the Board of Education be accepted and adopted, and that it be published and a copy be sent to all our ministers and church sessions.

Resolved, 2. That the Assembly acknowledges with gratitude the valuable services of the members of the Board and Executive Committee, to whom the Church owes much for the time and efforts they have devoted to its interests.

Resolved, 3. That we acknowledge with sincere gratitude and devout thanksgiving to God, his goodness in bestowing upon so many of our churches and schools of learning the reviving influences of the Holy Spirit—thereby confirming the promises, and inspiring the hope that from this number will come forth many, in whose breasts will be awakened by the Divine Spirit an ardent desire to preach the gospel of the Son of God.

Resolved, 4. That whilst within the past few years the Church has been called to mourn over the paucity of candidates for the gospel ministry, and thereby led to entertain anxious solicitude for the prosperity of our beloved Church, we are now led to rejoice that through the fervent prayers of God's people to the Lord of the harvest and the faithful labours of those to whom more especially the care of the Board has been entrusted, He has in his infinite grace placed under the care of the Church nearly one-third more candidates during the past than the previous year, and has also increased the contributions to the Board for the prosecution of its work.

Resolved, 5. That in the statistics and extracts gleaned from letters read by the Board from our candidates within the past several years respecting their steadfastness, earnestness, and inner life, we find facts that are encouraging, and lead us to believe that the type of piety in many cases is of a high order, and that their condition and peculiar trials call for the sympathy, prayers, and cordial, liberal support of the Church.

Resolved, 6. That the Assembly recognizing the fact that in past years the Head of the Church has been pleased to hear the prayers of God's people and given signal displays of His grace—even beginning upon the day of prayer in behalf of schools, colleges, and theological seminaries, with the view of an increase to the gospel ministry, do hereby recommend that the last Thursday of February be observed by our churches in rendering hearty thanks to God for his gracious gifts upon our youth, and in the offering up of earnest prayers to Him, in accordance with the instructions of the Master, who has said, "Pray ye the Lord of the harvest that he would send labourers into his harvest." It is recommended that collections be taken up on that day for the General Education Department, and further, that the first Sabbath of March be devoted to such instructions from the pulpit as shall tend to awaken the minds and consciences of parents, teachers, and young men to the claims which God has upon the time and talents of youth in the Church, for the spread of the Gospel, by his ordained ministry, and that on that day collections be taken up in behalf of the Board of Education.

Resolved, 7. Being convinced that the character of the future ministry depends largely upon the faithfulness and watchful care of Presbyteries in receiving young men as candidates for the ministry under their care, and upon their supervision of them while candidates, we hereby remind them of their solemn duty in this matter, and we enjoin it upon them to instruct their Committees on Education to obtain from their instructors and other sources, all the information within their power, and report the same to the several Presbyteries. Also, that the Presbyteries require annually an examination of their candidates, either by personal appearance or correspondence.

Resolved, 8. Being assured that our candidates would become more efficient workers in the ministry by some practical experience, at least in some parts of the work, before taking charge of a congregation, the Assembly recommends, that, where it is practicable, their respective Presbyteries obtain for them, during their vacations, employment with pastors who may desire such assistance, or in other ways approved by the Presbyteries.

Resolved, 9. That the General Assembly is pleased to see, in the support by the Board of a number of coloured candidates for the ministry, the beginning of a supply of ministers of the gospel from that race, for their own vast and extreme necessities. It desires the Board of Education to use all proper endeavours to increase that number, by aiding so far as possible the individuals whom the Committee on Freedmen, in the performance of the work of its great and important sphere, may here and there choose out, as persons of suitable age, mental capacity and previous instruction, and as professors of religion and men of reliable character, and bring through the Presbyteries before the Board, and that the Board shall extend encouragement and help to sincere and promising young coloured men, wherever they may be found in our churches.

Resolved, 10. That the marked advance in the general interest of the Church in the School Department ought to be a cause of thankfulness, and it is the hope of the Assembly that our people will guard and cherish our own denominational schools and seminaries—both male and female—which are so important to ourselves and to the cause of the Redeemer; and it earnestly admonishes all concerned to watch against the insiduous efforts to introduce Roman Catholic and infidel influences among our children and families.

Resolved, 11. That the German, French, and other foreign schools, are of importance far beyond any present conception, and the General Assembly earnestly and anxiously commends them, and particularly the Theological School at Dubuque, Iowa, to the warm sympathies and prayers, and the liberal contributions of the Church.

Resolved, 12. That the Executive Committee be requested to inquire in what way more attention can be directed to the establishing of Presbyterian schools, and the education of our own children in institutions under Presbyterian influence.

The following action is recommended to the General Assembly, to be taken in answer to the resolution from the Presbytery of Carlisle, asking the General Assembly to appoint a separate Secretary for the department of General Education.

It has not been the practice of the General Assembly to appoint Secretaries of the Boards, and it fully relies upon the wisdom and zeal of the Board to whom it has entrusted this cause, to do in regard to it what its interests require.

The Committee also report the following paper, received from the Board of Education as an answer to the Memorial from the Presbytery of Highland, referred to the Board by the last Assembly.

The Board of Education would respectfully report as follows to the General Assembly, in answer to the Memorial referred to it by the last General Assembly, requesting that an additional department be added to the Board, or additional powers be granted to it, so that it may collect and appropriate, where required, endowments for the literary institutions under the care of the Church.

First. This conception was considered unwise by the most intelligent and able advocates of church schools. At a time when this Board was better prepared than at any other time in the past, or perhaps than it ever can be prepared again, to enter upon such a scheme, through the services of a secretary combining the energy, pecuniary resources, and personal popularity of Dr. Van Rensselaer, supported by men so capable, and possessing so much of the confidence of the Church as Drs. Chester, Wood, and a host of zealous friends in every Synod and State, North and South, East and West, to inaugurate, control, and give success to it, yet it avoided it; and in all his labours as the General Agent of the Board, Dr. Chester took care not commit the Board in any of those cases where he aided in the collection of funds for an endowment, but only acted as a helper to the appointed agents of an institution. And so with Drs. Van Rensselaer and Wood. But even with this caveat announced to the people, the very presence of those servants of the Board has, in several cases where the projects were unsuccessful, involved the Board in serious difficulties, subjected it to reproach, and materially prevented the churches of the region from performing their duty to its primary claims in the ministerial department. Such was the experience which controlled the course of the fathers who have departed, and of the Board in days past. And to adopt a scheme which they wisely rejected would surely bring upon the Board the disasters which they saw and to some extent realized.

Second. No other Church or denomination of Christians has organized, amid the multitude of their boards and committees, so far as we are aware, one for such an object. Ardently anxious as they are to fit their own rising membership for a more elevated ecclesiastical grade, and to control the education of the youth of the land, yet they have been warned by the manifest evils and dangers of such a plan of operations to avoid it. And the only voluntary society of the kind of which we know is one which is comparatively little known, and has not accomplished encouraging results. The sentiment of the various churches is against the incorporation of such an organ as a part of their ecclesiastical systems.

Third. It is impossible for the Board, or Church, as such, to secure the great sums of money, and the variety of valuable property, which are necessary to constitute competent endowments, from being wasted by injudicious, careless, and dishonest men. It is an easy matter for even one appointed to conserve a great interest to have it so mortgaged and fettered that he shall control it, and finally own it. And any system of paid agents by which the funds necessary or desired could be collected and guarded would be so expensive as at once to seal such a plan as unwise and wrong. Nor is there any apparent disposition in the Church to launch anew upon such bygone methods of obtaining and applying money.

Fourth. The experience of our own Church, even in connection with the voluntary and extra-official efforts of the able and eminent men referred to, has been too often painfully disastrous in the matter of aiding in the endowment of literary institutions. Hundreds of thousands of dollars subscribed on paper, large sums of money paid, land, buildings, and apparatus, and libraries, and salaries of officers, and percentages and salaries, and other outlays of agents, (which in some cases consumed the half, or whole, of what they obtained, or, as in one instance of which we know, a salary for which only a small sum was collected, which would have been given without such an application) may be said to be worse than sunk in the sea. Other churches, private individuals, societies of free masons, &c., are enjoying the fruits of our hard toils and sufferings, and of the liberality and love towards this cause of many of our people.

The Board trusts, for the sake of the memory of good men who have gone to their rest above, for the credit of the Church in many parts of our country, and for the welfare of the numerous existing institutions, however deserving, whose present and future appeals for aid would be prejudiced in the public mind, that it may be spared the further defence of its judgment and position in this matter, by citing particulars, stating cases, and adducing evidence of various kinds. Enough has been said to show that it regards the scheme now proposed, of collecting and using funds for endowments, to have been in its own experience too often calamitous and unwise.

The Board considers, in conclusion, its present powers to be as much as it is safe and judicious to entrust to one organ of the Church; and that in regard to endowments, the plans, labours, and responsibility to contributors, to public opinion, to the momentous interests of general education, to the Church, and to God, should in every case lie upon the people, congregations, and parties most concerned, and to be most benefitted by them. The Church at large, and its organ, the Board of Education, cannot then, in the opinion of the Board, considering the course of its wisest men, the example of other Christian churches, the difficulties inherent in such a scheme, and its own painful experience, undertake them, or assume responsibility for them. The Board, therefore, cannot recommend to the General Assembly the adoption of the suggestions of the Memorial from the Presbytery of Highland.

The Committee on Commissions reported that the Rev. Randolph A. De Lancey, D.D., had presented his credentials as a Commissioner from the Presbytery of Londonderry, and had been enrolled.

The subject of Re-union was taken up, the resolutions offered on Friday last by Judge Leavitt being before the Assembly, and after discussion it was left as unfinished business.

An invitation to visit the Albany Penitentiary was received from the Hon. Amos Pillbury, and was accepted with thanks.

The Assembly adjourned with prayer by the Rev. R. M. Wallace.

TUESDAY Morning, May 26, 9 o'clock.

The Assembly met, and was opened with singing, reading the Scriptures, and with prayer by Dr. E. P. Humphrey.

The Minutes of yesterday were read and approved.

The Committee on Commissions reported that the Rev. Alexander R. Thompson, D.D., had presented his credentials as Delegate from the General Synod of the Reformed Protestant (late Dutch) church in America, and had been enrolled. Also George Junkin, Ruling Elder from the Presbytery of Philadelphia.

The Rev. S. I. Prime, D.D., presented the credentials of the Rev. George Appia, a pastor of the Waldensian Church, who appeared as a Delegate from that Church. The Commission was referred to the Committee on Foreign Correspondence.

Ruling Elder Henry Day presented a communication inviting the Assembly to meet next year in the Brick Presbyterian Church in the city of New York. On motion, the former action of the Assembly in fixing upon Brooklyn as the place was reconsidered, and the Assembly unanimously agreed to meet next year in the Brick Presbyterian Church in the city of New York.

Dr. Monfort, chairman of the Judicial Committee, reported the following Judicial cases.

Case No. 1, a complaint of the Rev. Alexander M. Cowan against the action of the Presbytery of Sidney. The case was put upon the docket.

Case No. 2, the complaint of Joseph Connell and others against the decision of the Synod of Pittsburgh, sustaining the complaint of S. G. Byers and others, against the action of the Presbytery of Ohio, and ordering said Presbytery to dissolve the pastoral relation between the Rev. William Hunter and the church of Hopewell. The Committee find the case in order, and, with the consent of the parties, recommend that it be issued by a Judicial Commission of five, to be appointed by the Assembly.

Case No. 3, the complaint of the Rev. T. W. Hynes and others against the action of the Synod of Illinois, sustaining the complaint of Rev. A. N. Denny against the Presbytery of Kaskaskia for approving the sessional records of the church of Greenville in reference to the periodical election of ruling elders. The Synod having failed to send up the action of the Presbytery of Kaskaskia in the case, the Committee recommend that the case be laid over until the next General Assembly, and that the Synod of Illinois be directed to furnish the deficient records.

The report was adopted.

Case No. 4, the complaint of the Rev. W. P. Carson against Synod of Iowa, for dismissing his complaint against the Presbytery of Dubuque. The Presbytery, upon application both of the pastor and the congregation, dissolved the pastoral relation, and Mr. Carson complained to Synod, on the ground that the session and trustees united in calling the meeting of the congregation without the presence or coöperation of the pastor, at which action was taken asking for the dissolution of the pastoral relation. The Committee recommend that the complaint be dismissed, there being no sufficient ground of complaint.

The report was adopted.

The Assembly then spent an hour in devotional exercises, as yesterday agreed upon, in concert with the Assembly now in session at Harrisburgh, Pa.

The first order of the day was then taken up, and the Rev. R. J. Breckinridge, D. D., chairman, presented the Report of the Standing Committee on the Board of Foreign Missions.

By invitation, the Rev. John C. Lowrie, D. D., Secretary of the Board, addressed the Assembly.

The Assembly adjourned, after spending half an hour in devotional exercises.

TUESDAY AFTERNOON, 3½ o'clock.

The Assembly met, and was opened with prayer by the Moderator.

The Rev. A. A. Hodge, D. D., Chairman of the Committee on Foreign Correspondence, presented a report, which was adopted, and is as follows:

The Committee on Foreign Correspondence report, that they have received a copy of a resolution passed by the General Synod of the Evangelical Lutheran Church, meeting in Harrisburgh, Pa., May 14th, 1868, taking the initiatory step in establishing practical relations with this General Assembly, and commissioning their venerable President, the Rev. H. N. Pohlman, D. D., to represent them before this body.

The Committee recommends that this General Assembly cordially accept this friendly overture, and enter accordingly into correspondence with this honoured Christian communion.

They further report, that the Rev. Alexander R. Thompson, D. D., from the General Synod of the Reformed (late Dutch) Church in America, and the Rev. H. N. Pohlman, D. D., from the General Synod of the Evangelical Lutheran Church; the Rev. Pastor George Appia, delegate from the Evangelical Waldensian Church of Italy, and the Rev. J. B. Clark, D. D., delegate from the General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church, are all present, and the Committee propose that these brethren be heard to-morrow morning.

The unfinished business of the forenoon, viz., the Report of the Standing Committee on the Board of Foreign Missions, was taken up. The Rev. L. I. Drake offered as an amendment a 10th resolution, which was adopted, when the entire report, as thus amended, was adopted unanimously. The 7th resolution was adopted unanimously by a rising vote.

The report is as follows:

The Committee to whom was referred the Report of the Board of Foreign Missions, respectfully submit the following:

We have learned with deep regret of the removal during the past year of the Rev. Dr. Krebs, the presiding officer of the Board; and of the Rev. Dr. Junkin, Rev. Dr. Gray, Hon. R. H. Walworth, and Joseph Patterson, Esq., members of the Board. Also, that the Hon. Walter Lowrie, for so many years the devoted and efficient senior Secretary of the Board, has on account of his advanced age and impaired health, delined a re-election.

In presenting a general view of the operations of the Board, we would first call your attention to the significant fact, that in the wonderful providence of God, the whole world is open, as it never has been before, to the introduction of the gospel; and its teeming millions are, in almost every portion of it, accessible to our missionaries. In this fact we cannot but recognize the guiding hand of Him who has all power in heaven and in earth, and is, by the use of different agencies, and in marked providences, opening the way before his church and saying, "enter in and possess the world."

The Board has entered and occupied these fields so far as the Church has enabled it to do so; and our missions are found in every continent; the great proportion of them being in those two great nations of the East, whose vast populations comprise so large a portion of the heathen world, India and China.

We learn from the Report that our missions now comprise more than 50 stations. In these there are employed 79 ordained missionaries, and 85 assistant missionaries and teachers, sent out from our own country; 12 ordained native ministers, and 10 licentiates; and 179 native teachers and assistants. The aggregate number of native Christians in the stations is 1616; showing an increase of about one-tenth upon the number reported last year. In China, the number of native Christians received into our churches during the year is about 140, being an advance of more than one-third on the whole number reported in 1867; and this has been nearly the uniform ratio of increase during several years.

The Board has sent out within the past year 24 missionaries and assistant missionaries; and eight candidates for the ministry have been appointed, who expect soon to leave for their several stations.

The amount contributed by the churches during the year is 177,938 dollars; which is an advance of about 35,000 dollars on the receipts of the previous year.

In reviewing the work as it is presented before us, we have no cause for regret that we have not the fullest and most encouraging opportunities which we could desire for preaching the gospel in every land; but rather that the interest and efforts of the Church have been so disproportionate to the magnitude of the work, and her ability to perform it. The facts which now claim our consideration, and which we must look at in view of our responsibility, and that of the churches which we represent, are these. In almost every field where our missionaries are stationed, they have been restricted and retarded in the extension and development of their work by a want of the requisite men and means; and after having been obliged to give up for the present the idea of expansion, except in a very small degree, and exercising the strictest economy in the stations now occupied, the Board of Foreign Missions are obliged to close the year with a debt of 27,000 dollars. In different fields, important matters, such as the building of houses, the establishment of schools, and the forming of new stations, which have been deferred during the late war and also since, on account of the high rates of exchange and our consequent want of funds, cannot be longer deferred without serious embarrassment. In order to pay off the debt of the present year, send out missionaries already under appointment, and to meet the expenses of such enlargements of our work as seem imperative, considerably larger contributions will be required from the churches than have been received during any former year. The practical question is, shall we endeavour to keep pace with the developments of God's providence; or let the work which he has put in our hands, and in which he is so greatly blessing us, languish for want of material support.

Your committee feel some hesitancy in presenting facts and appeals which are for the most part but a repetition of those contained in Reports of former years, without suggesting some modifications or changes in our modes of reaching and interesting the churches. As we understand that this general subject is to come before the Assembly in the Report of a Committee appointed to recommend measures to secure the greater efficiency of one of the other Boards, we purposely refrain from anything more than this simple reference to it at present.

In view of the facts stated above, we recommend for adoption the following resolutions;

Resolved, 1st. That we acknowledge with devout gratitude, the gracious providence of our covenant-keeping God, who, in answer to the prayers of his people, has opened before the Church such a wide and effectual door of access to the heathen; and sent forth labourers into his harvest; and crowned our feeble and inadequate efforts to evangelize the nations, with such an encouraging measure of success.

Resolved, 2d. That the work of preaching the gospel throughout all the world, and to every creature, is preëminently the mission of the Christian church; and that this truth should have a prominent place in the ordinary gospel-preaching in our churches, and be represented as a necessary part of Christian duty.

Resolved, 3d. That our thanks are due to those who at home and abroad have administered and conducted our work of Foreign Missions; and that we assure our representatives in the field, of our Christian love and sympathy, and fixed purpose to sustain them according to our ability.

Resolved, 4th. That it is the duty of all the office-bearers of the Church, and of each church member individually, to coöperate in efforts to diffuse information, and increase a missionary spirit, and also to seek to induce suitable persons to enter upon the missionary work. To assist in the performance of these duties, we would recommend to our Secretaries and the Executive Committee the continued improvement and increased circulation of our valuable missionary periodicals.

Resolved, 5th. That while using all the means and instrumentalities which the Master has appointed, our only trust and hope are in his presence and blessing; and that we will endeavour to pray with more earnestness and faith for the outpouring of his Spirit upon our churches and mission stations; awakening our people to a higher standard of Christian consecration; constraining labourers to enter into the harvest; and making the truth mighty through God to the pulling down of strongholds, and the universal establishment of the Redeemer's kingdom among the nations.

Resolved, 6th. That the Executive Committee be instructed to authorize the gradual and necessary expansion of our work wherever the necessities of the case are most urgent; and to go forward, trusting in the favour and blessing of God, and the ability and liberality of the Church.

Resolved, 7th. That we take great pleasure in recording our high appreciation of the invaluable services of the retiring Secretary, the Hon. Walter Lowrie; and we tender to him our heartfelt thanks and sympathy, praying that the gospel which he has striven for so many years to make known to the perishing, may be his all-sufficient consolation in his declining years; and that in God's own time he may have "an abundant entrance administered to him into the everlasting kingdom of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ."

Resolved, 8th. That the Report of the Board be approved and published; and recommended to the careful perusal of the churches.

Resolved, 9th. That we approve the action of the Board in refusing to appoint a financial secretary; and that we leave the appointment of another corresponding secretary to the discretion of the Executive Committee.

Resolved, 10th. That we recognize in the liberal contributions of the Sabbath-schools of the Church to the great work of Foreign Missions during the last year, the hand of God and the voice of God bidding us continue to seek a regular contribution from all our Sabbath-schools for this Board, and that the Presbyteries be directed to see that this matter is statedly attended to by the several church sessions under their care.

The second order of the day was taken up, and the Rev. H. N. Brinsmade, D. D., Chairman of the Standing Committee on the Disabled Minister's Fund, presented its report. The Rev. Joseph H. Jones, D. D.,

Secretary in charge of the Fund, by invitation addressed the Assembly, after which the report was unanimously adopted. It is as follows:

The Committee to whom was referred the Report of the Trustees on the "Fund for Disabled Ministers in need, and the needy widows and orphans of deceased ministers," are highly gratified with the energy and success with which this cause has been conducted.

They find that relief has been afforded to 58 ministers, 67 widows, and 11 families of orphans, to the amount of 26,191 dollars. The balance of 4370 dollars, reported by the Treasurer on the 1st of April, has been expended already in meeting the large drafts made during the months of April and May. Thus, in respect both to the number relieved, and the amount of money disbursed, there is an advance beyond what has been accomplished in any previous year.

The Committee would recommend the following resolutions to be adopted by the General Assembly:

Resolved, 1*st*. That the Assembly recognizes, with thankfulness, the continued zeal and prudence with which the Trustees and Secretary have discharged their trust.

Resolved, 2*d*. That in view of the greatly enlarged number of applications for aid, and the insufficient sum reported as on hand April 1st to meet present demands, it is earnestly enjoined upon the churches to increase their contributions to this Fund.

Resolved, 3*d*. That those churches which have not contributed to this object, be requested to give it the earliest possible attention.

The Assembly again took up the subject of Re-union, and after discussion, left it as unfinished business.

The Assembly appointed the following persons as the Commission on Judicial Case No. 2, viz., Ministers—George S. Mott, Randolph A. De Lancey, D. D., and Frederick H. Wines; with Ruling Elders—J. K. Findlay and D. W. Woods.

The Assembly adjourned, after prayer by the Rev. Robert Davidson, D. D.

WEDNESDAY Morning, May 27, 9 o'clock.

The Assembly met, and was opened with singing, and reading the Scriptures, and with prayer by the Moderator.

The minutes of yesterday were read and approved.

On motion, the following persons were added to the Commission on Judicial Case, No. 2., viz., the Rev. Benjamin C. Swan, and Ruling Elders J. C. Havens, A. G. Ritchie, and James M. Ray.

On motion, it was agreed that the Report of the Standing Committee on the Board of Publication be taken up immediately after the disposal of the Report on the Board of Domestic Missions.

The Assembly entered upon the hearing of delegates from Corresponding bodies, when the following delegates were heard, viz., the Rev. Alexander R. Thompson, D. D., from the General Synod of the Reformed (late Dutch) Church in America; the Rev. H. N. Pohlman, D. D., from the General Synod of the Evangelical Lutheran Church; the Rev. Pastor George Appia, from the Evangelical Waldensian Church of Italy; and the Rev. J. B. Clark, D. D., from the General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church. At the close of the Rev. Dr. Pohlman's address, the Assembly, on motion, were led in prayer by the Rev. S. I. Prime, D.D., on behalf of the Evangelical Lutheran Church. These delegates were severally responded to by the Moderator in the exchange of fraternal salutations.

On motion of Dr. Prime, it was Resolved, That the General Assembly has heard with profound interest the statements of the Rev. Mr. Appia, respecting the evangelization of Italy, through the labours of the Waldensian Church, and that this work is commended to the effective sympathies of the churches under our care.

The Assembly took up the order of the day, when the Rev. Robert Davidson, D. D., Chairman, presented the report of the Standing Committee on the Board of Domestic Missions.

The Rev. Thomas L. Janeway, D. D., Secretary of the Board, by invitation addressed the Assembly. After discussion, on a motion to adopt the report, it was left as unfinished business.

The Assembly spent half an hour in devotional exercises, after which it adjourned.

WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON, 3½ o'clock.

The Assembly met, and was opened with prayer by the Moderator.

The unfinished business of the forenoon was taken up, viz., the report of the Standing Committee on the Board of Domestic Missions. After discussion, the Report was adopted, and is as follows:

The Committee appointed to examine the Report of the Board of Domestic Missions, begs leave to report as follows, viz.

The Report of the Board of Domestic Missions presents much that is gratifying and satisfactory. During a part of the year great anxiety was felt, on account of deficient funds, but the apprehensions proved unfounded, and the fiscal year ended prosperously. The receipts from the churches amounted to $113,109.69. This sum, however, would have proved inadequate to the expenditures, had it not been for the previous balance of the year preceding, and the reserve fund, which enabled the Committee to pay out $144,600 05, and to close the year with a balance of $19,443.99. Of this balance, $12,250.50 were due to missionaries, leaving a working balance of only about $7,000.00. This result, gratifying as it is, inasmuch as the Board ends the year without debt, was only reached by curtailing the salaries of the missionaries, already scanty enough, twenty-five per cent., as well as by voluntary economy in the office.

The number of missionaries employed during the year was 619, in thirty-two States and Territories; 59 churches have been organized; 3382 persons have been admitted on profession of their faith; and 2120 by certificate. The baptisms reported were 3079. Many of the missionaries report revivals and times of refreshing from on high.

The Financial Report has been duly audited, and appears to be satisfactory.

The Board, after making trial of District Secretaries, is still favourable to the plan.

It is exceedingly desirable that the Board should have larger resources placed at its disposal. Without such resources this right arm of the Church must be crippled. It will be impossible to carry out the large and liberal plan recommended by the last Assembly, unless ample means are furnished. The sum of $500,000 would not be too much to enable the Board to guarantee a supply to every vacant pulpit in the land, and to give employment to every unemployed minister who is willing to work. If the Board only had the money, it would easily find the men. Then the wilderness would blossom as the rose. It is not creditable to us as a denomination, that only the fourth of that amount is raised, and that we are left out of debt only by curtailing the small salaries of the missionaries. It is hoped that this necessity may not occur again. Your Committee begs leave to urge the Assembly to press this matter on delinquent Presbyteries and Churches. Nine hundred and thirty-seven churches have contributed nothing to the funds of the Board.

In view of the contemplated resignation of Dr. Janeway, for seven years the laborious and successful Corresponding Secretary, the Presbyteries of St. Paul, Southern Minnesota, Winnebago, Milwaukie, and Dane, have sent overtures, or memorials, praying that Dr. Janeway may be retained another year, and that an Associate Secretary may be chosen, who shall visit the mission fields and share the duties of the office, enjoying the benefit of Dr. Janeway's experience and advice, so as to be the better qualified to succeed him at the end of the year. The Presbytery of Bureau prays that a practical man may be appointed, who has been himself a missionary, full of experience and sympathy. The Committee contents itself with laying these suggestions before the Assembly.

The Committee recommends the following resolutions, viz.,

Resolved, 1. That the Report of the Board of Missions be adopted, and published as usual.

Resolved, 2. That the Board is entitled to the thanks of the Church for its assiduous and prudent management.

Resolved, 3. That every pastor, or supply, be required to present this cause before his congregation annually; that a collection, however small, be taken up in every church; and that each Presbytery inquire whether this direction has been complied with.

Resolved, 4. That the claims of the border states and western cities be strongly commended to the attention of the Board.

It was moved and carried, that the report of the Special Committee on the Board of Domestic Missions, appointed by the last General Assembly, be taken up as unfinished business immediately after the close of the discussion on Re-union, and be considered continuously, without any other interruption therein by orders of the day already appointed.

The second order of the day was taken up, viz., the report of the Standing Committee on the Board of Publication, which was presented by the Rev. S. J. Niccolls, D. D.

The Rev. William E. Schenck, D. D., Secretary of the Board, by invitation addressed the Assembly.

The resolutions were adopted seriatim, after which the whole paper was adopted and is as follows:

The Committee on the Records and Reports of the Board of Publication, after carefully examining the papers committed to them, would respectfully present the following report:

Your Committee has been deeply impressed with the peculiar importance of the work committed to this Board, and the urgent necessity there is that it should be done vigorously and efficiently. A good, wholesome, religious literature, is not only indispensable in securing the perpetuity of a church constituted like ours, but it is also, as experience has shown, one of the best means for carrying on the work of evangelization. It ought then to be a subject of no ordinary concern to the Assembly, to know what efforts the Board is making to supply the wants of the Church through the channel of the press, and what success has attended its attempts to preach the gospel by means of the printed page.

The Thirtieth Annual Report presented by this Board is so complete and satisfactory, that your Committee has had no difficulty in reaching a unanimous opinion concerning its work.

From this Report it appears that the receipts of the Board have been in advance of the preceding year; and ample testimony is furnished to show that it has not only grown in favour with the ministers and people of our Church, but also that its work has been graciously owned and blest of God to the conversion of sinners. 133,600 copies of new publications and 556,750 reprints of former publications have been issued during the year, making in all 690,350 copies. In the Sabbath-school Department, the Board has succeeded in issuing a series of books, surpassed by none in their worth and adaptation to the young. It has also in accordance with the direction of the last Assembly, issued the Sabbath-School Visitor semi-monthly. It has now a circulation of 90,000 copies, a gain of 8,000 over last year.

In the department of distribution and sustentation there has been a pleasing increase, both in the amount of sales and in the contributions from the churches. But your Committee regrets to find that only 778 out of 2,600 churches have contributed during the past year to this important object. In view of all this your Committee would recommend the adoption of the following resolutions:

Resolved, 1. That the Assembly has heard with pleasure and gratitude to God of the increased measure of success that has attended the labours of the Board of Publication during the past year, in face of more than ordinary difficulties. While it commends the fidelity of the Board to its sacred and important trust, it would also call the attention of all under the Assembly's care to the importance of sustaining it, that it may be rendered still more efficient.

Resolved, 2. That it gives special pleasure to the Assembly to learn that the Sabbath-school books issued by the Board are so generally and cordially approved by those engaged in the Sabbath-school work. In order to make this department still more effective, it is recommended to the Board to make diligent effort to print and circulate a larger number of books adapted to that class of the young who are of more advanced years and culture.

Resolved, 3. The Assembly hereby approves the action of the Board in publishing the Sabbath-School Visitor semi-monthly; and it calls upon pastors and sessions to assist in extending its circulation in preference to all other papers of like character.

It also approves the efforts made to improve the hymnology used in our Sabbath-schools, by the issuing of a book entitled, "Children's Praise." It would also recommend to the Board to issue an edition of this book without the music.

Resolved, 4. The Assembly hereby recommends that collections be taken up in our Sabbath-schools for this Board, and that the funds thus contributed be used in supplying libraries to Sabbath-schools in destitute neighbourhoods.

Resolved, 5. The Assembly directs the Board to make special efforts during the coming year to enlarge and extend the work of colportage.

Resolved, 6. Your Committee having examined the Records of the Executive Committee and of the Board, recommends their approval.

The Committee also reports that a Commissioner from the Presbytery of Albany appeared before it, asking that the Board of Publication be directed to keep on hand a supply of the first edition of The Hymnal. The Committee would recommend that this matter be referred to the Board, with the direction, that if in its judgment there is a sufficient demand for it, such an edition shall be continued.

The Rev. I. J. Cushman moved the following, which, on motion of ruling elder James Ross Snowden, was referred to the Board of Publication:

Resolved, That the Board of Publication be authorized to furnish the Sabbath-School Visitor to those Sabbath-Schools which regularly contribute to the funds of the Board.

The Rev. L. M. Miller, D.D., Chairman of the Committee on Elections, presented the following report, which was adopted, and the Rev. George W. Chamberlain was ordered to be enrolled:—

The Committee on Elections would report that the Rev. George W. Chamberlain of the Presbytery of Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, is present without a commission. Mr. Chamberlain asks admission to the Assembly on this ground: He was appointed a Commissioner regularly to the Assembly of last year, and attended. He has remained in this country ever since, doing work in behalf of his mission in that country. Only three ministers belonging to that Presbytery remained in Brazil. A meeting was appointed in which it was intended to re-commission Mr. Chamberlain. Just previous to the time indicated, the Rev. Mr. Simonton, one of the presbyters, died and thus prevented organization. The members remaining, desire that he may be permitted to represent that Presbytery in this Assembly. The only principle which bears upon the case is found in the Digest on page 286, § 129. The Committee recommends that the Assembly act upon the question of his admission without discussion.

The Assembly took up the unfinished business of the forenoon, viz., the consideration of the subject of Re-union, which, after discussion, was again left as unfinished business.

Dr. E. P. Humphrey offered the following paper, which was adopted unanimously by a rising vote:

This General Assembly having heard, since our sessions began, that the Rev. Dr. George Junkin has departed from this life, record with sadness our sense of loss in his death and our memory of the long and signal service he has rendered the Church, as a teacher, an author, a defender of the faith, and an exemplary patriot, in times of trial and perplexity, when the foundations of order in the State and in the Church were overturned.

The Stated Clerk is hereby directed to communicate this minute to the family of the deceased.

The Committee on Devotional Exercises presented a report relating to religious exercises for this evening, which was approved.

The Assembly then adjourned, after prayer by the Rev. Willard M. Rice, D.D.

THURSDAY Morning, May 28, 9 o'clock.

The Assembly met, and was opened with singing, reading the Scriptures, and with prayer by the Moderator.

The minutes of yesterday were read and approved.

The Rev. A. A. Hodge, D.D., chairman of the Committee on Foreign Correspondence, presented the following report:

The Committee on Foreign Correspondence reports that it has received a complaint addressed to this General Assembly by the General Synod of the Reformed (late Dutch) Church, originating in the Classis of Wisconsin, against certain action of the Presbytery of Milwaukie, which the Committee proposes be committed to a special Committee of five, viz. Ministers—W. W. Blauvelt, D. D., N. G. Parke, and George Hill. Ruling Elders—A. T. McClintock, and George Junkin.

The report was adopted, and the above persons appointed a special Committee as proposed.

The Rev. Charles Hodge, D. D., Chairman of the Special Committee on the Basis of Union presented by the Philadelphia National Presbyterian Convention of September last, presented the report of that Committee, which was placed upon the docket.

The Rev. R. J. Breckinridge, D. D., Chairman of the Special Committee on the Continuation of the Digest, presented its report, which was placed upon the docket.

The Rev. J. C. Backus, D. D., Chairman of the Standing Committee on Theological Seminaries, presented its report. The Rev. D. M. Stewart, offered a paper signed by a number of Commissioners and nominating the Rev. T. E. Thomas, D. D., for election to the vacant professorship in the Seminary of the Northwest. It was made the order of the day to take up these papers immediately on the disposal of the Special Committee's report on Domestic Missions, and to continue their consideration until disposed of.

The Rev. L. M. Miller, D. D., of the Committee on Elections, reported that ruling elder Henry W. Green, alternate to ruling elder Stephen Alexander, Commissioner from the Presbytery of New Brunswick, is present without his commission, but has made it appear that he was duly commissioned. The Committee recommended that Mr. Green be enrolled, and the recommendation was adopted.

The unfinished business of yesterday, the subject of Re-union, was again taken up and left as unfinished business, ruling elder Henry Day having the floor.

After spending half an hour in devotional exercises, the Assembly adjourned.

THURSDAY Afternoon, 3½ o'clock.

The Assembly met, and was opened with prayer by the Rev. W. G. T. Shedd, D. D.

The unfinished business of the forenoon was again taken up, viz., the consideration of the subject of Re-union, ruling elder Henry Day having the floor.

On motion of Dr. S. I. Prime, it was unanimously

Resolved, that the General Assembly has heard with great satisfaction of the acceptance by the Rev. James McCosh, LL. D., of the presidency of the College of New Jersey, at Princeton, which institution was founded by the Synod of New York and New Jersey, a body which was at that time the supreme judicature of our Church, for the special purpose of raising up an educated ministry.

The Assembly adjourned, after prayer by the Rev. Henry L. Doolittle.

FRIDAY Morning, May 29, 9 o'clock.

The Assembly was opened with singing, reading the Scriptures, and with prayer by the Rev. A. C. McClelland.

On motion of S. I. Prime, D. D., it was

Resolved, That the question on Judge Leavitt's resolutions be taken without further debate, at 4 o'clock this afternoon, and that any amendment submitted may be explained by its mover for five minutes

On motion, ruling elder R. McKnight and Dr. C. C. Beatty, were invited, as members of the Re-union Committee, to address the Assembly, and they did so.

The Committee on Mileage, reported by ruling elder Robert Carter, its chairman. The report was adopted, and is as follows:

The Committee on Mileage would respectfully report, that 750 dollars have been received for the Commissioners' Fund; that 15,726 miles have been travelled by Commissioners in coming to this Assembly, which, at 4¾ cents per mile, will amount to the sum of $749.28, leaving a balance of 72 cents in the treasury. It therefore recommends that the Assembly direct their Trustees to draw an order on the Treasurer for the said amount, and that he pay the sums as herein specified.

The Assembly took up the unfinished business of the forenoon, viz., the subject of Re-union, when, upon the invitation this morning extended, Chancellor Henry W. Green addressed the body.

The following telegram was received and ordered to be entered upon the minutes.

Harrisburgh, Pa., May 29, 1868.

Rev. William E. Schenck, D. D., Permanent Clerk of the General Assembly sitting in Albany, N. Y.

The General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in session here, informs the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church now holding its sessions in Albany, N. Y., that after an informal expression of dissentient opinions upon single articles of the proposed terms of Re-union, the basis as reported by the Joint Committee was approved, and directed to be overtured to the Presbyteries by a unanimous vote, four members being excused from voting.

By order of the General Assembly.

J. Glentworth Butler, Permanent Clerk.

On motion, the Rev. Dr. Darling was allowed to make an explanation.

The Rev. R. J. Breckinridge, D. D., moved that the Clerk read from a Harrisburgh paper the report of the Special Committee on Re-union, (Dr. L. P. Hickok, chairman) appointed by the General Assembly sitting in that place, and made to that body.

On a motion to lay Dr. Breckinridge's motion on the table, the vote stood 97 to 97, when the Moderator gave a casting vote in the negative.

The motion of Dr. Breckinridge was then adopted, and the report was read.

The Committee on Devotional Exercises reported respecting the services of Sabbath next, and its report was approved.

It was ordered that when the Assembly adjourns it be to 7.45 P. M. this evening.

The Assembly adjourned, with prayer by the Rev. A. H. Kerr.

FRIDAY Evening, 7.45 o'clock.

The Assembly was opened with prayer by the Moderator.

The unfinished business of the afternoon, the subject of Re-union, was taken up. The resolutions of Judge Leavitt being before the Assembly, they were taken up seriatim. The first resolution—to approve the report of the Joint Committee—being under discussion, a division of the question was called for, and the articles of the proposed terms of Re-union contained in that report were taken up seriatim.

On a motion to adopt the first of these terms, Dr. Eagleson moved to amend by dropping therefrom the following words, viz., "It being understood, that this Confession is received in its proper, historical—that is, the Calvinistic or Reformed—sense; it is also understood, that various methods of viewing, stating, explaining, and illustrating, the doctrines of the Confession, which do not impair the integrity of the Reformed or Calvinistic system, are to be freely allowed in the United Church, as they have hitherto been allowed in the separate churches."

Dr. R. J. Breckinridge moved to lay this amendment on the table, and the motion was carried.

Ruling elder D. W. Woods, moved to amend by striking out the words, "it is also understood, that various methods of viewing, stating, explaining, and illustrating the doctrines of the Confession, which do not impair the integrity of the Reformed or Calvinistic system, are to be freely allowed in the United Church, as they have hitherto been allowed in the separate Churches." The amendment was laid upon the table.

Dr. E. P. Humphrey moved to amend, by inserting the following, after the words "separate churches,"—"In approving of this article as part of the terms of Re-union between these two branches of the Presbyterian Church, this Assembly desires it to be distinctly understood, that no form of doctrine heretofore condemned by the General Assembly of either branch shall be deemed consistent with the system of doctrine taught in our common standards. And the Assembly desires it to be distinctly understood still further, that no Presbytery in the United Church shall be at liberty to license or ordain to the work of the ministry, any candidate who maintains any form of doctrine which has been condemned by the General Assembly of either branch." This amendment was laid upon the table by a vote of 155 to 80.

Ruling elder E. B. Miller moved to amend the first article so that it shall read as follows: "The Re-union shall be effected on the doctrinal and ecclesiastical basis of our common standards; and all questions arising in consequence of such Re-union, and all matters requiring adjustment thereto, shall be settled and determined by the Re-united Church, according to the principles and policy of said standards." This amendment was laid upon the table.

Dr. J. C. Backus moved to amend by striking out the words, "as they have hitherto been allowed in the separate Churches."

This amendment was laid upon the table by a vote of 162 to 80.

Dr. J. C. Backus moved that his, and all the other amendments offered, be recorded, as far as possible with the vote thereon. Carried.

The vote on the first article of the proposed terms of Re-union was then taken. The ayes and noes were called for, and the call was sustained. The first article of the terms was adopted by the following vote:

YEAS.—Ministers—J. Woodbridge, M. L. P. Hill, R. A. De Lancy, A. De Witt, James Coulter, Thomas X. Orr, A. Dilworth, S. C. Alexander, Joseph Williams, Alex. McLean, L. Merrill Miller, A. G. Hall, W. B. Truax, George T. Crissman, J. H. Nesbitt, S. D. Crothers, J. G. Monfort, I. J. Cushman, F. M. Wood, D. R. Colmery, C. H. Raymond, L. I. Drake, R. G. Ross, I. A. Cornelison, J. R. EXCUSED FROM VOTING.—Minister—Robert Scott. Ruling Elder—A. T. McClintock. Excused 2.

The Assembly then adjourned with prayer by the Rev. J. Agnew Crawford.

SATURDAY MORNING, May 30, 9 o'clock.

The Assembly was opened with singing, reading the Scriptures, and with prayer by Dr. J. C. Backus.

The minutes of yesterday were read and approved.

Nominations to fill vacancies in the several Boards and Theological Seminaries were called for, and the Clerk was directed to have tickets printed for use in voting.

It was made the order of the day for Tuesday next, at 10 o'clock, A.M., to go into the election to fill vacancies in the Boards and Theological Seminaries. The Moderator called upon the Rev. Dr. Shedd to lead the Assembly in prayer for divine guidance in the election of Professors to fill vacancies in the Theological Seminaries, which he did.

It was ordered that when the Assembly adjourns at noon, it be to meet at 9 o'clock on Monday morning.

The Committee on Leave of Absence reported that leave had been granted after the sessions of Friday, to ministers—Wm. Clark, Daniel E. Marshall—after Monday forenoon to the Rev. Owen Reidy—after Saturday to the Rev. S. V. McKee and the Rev. Thaddeus Wilson. To ruling elders after the sessions of Friday—Thomas J. Fulton, W. S. Gilman, and Joshua Teller—after the sessions of Saturday, to James C. Woodruff and John Foot. After Saturday forenoon, to Freeman Edson and C. A. Howland.

Dr. J. C. Backus moved that in view of its inadequacy hitherto, the salary of the Permanent Clerk be fixed at one hundred and fifty dollars per annum. The Rev. Alexander McLean moved as an amendment that it be fixed at two hundred dollars. The amendment was carried unanimously. Dr. Backus moved as a further amendment that the salary of the Stated Clerk be also fixed at two hundred dollars per annum. The amendment was adopted. The resolution as thus amended was adopted unanimously.

It was agreed that Commissioners who were absent last evening be allowed to record their votes on the first article of the Terms of Union, and several did so.

The Assembly took up the unfinished business of last evening, viz., the voting upon the several articles of the proposed Terms of Re-union. Article second of these terms being under consideration, the Rev. Henry S. Doolittle offered the following amendment: That the second clause beginning with the words "imperfectly organized" be stricken out, and that the following be substituted in its place, viz., "but this is to apply to such churches only as are thoroughly Presbyterian in their organization." This amendment was laid on the table. Dr. Humphrey moved to amend by adding to the 2d article, "Committee-men shall not, after the union is effected, be enrolled as members of any court of the Church." This amendment was laid on the table. The 2d article was then adopted without amendment.

The 3d and 4th articles were adopted.

The 5th article was adopted unanimously.

The 6th article being under consideration, Mr. Doolittle moved to amend by striking out the last clause commencing with the words "though free, &c." The amendment was laid upon the table, and the article was adopted.

Upon the 7th article, Mr. Doolittle moved to strike out all after the word "Assemblies." The amendment was laid upon the table, and the article adopted.

On the 8th article, Dr. Humphrey moved to add thereto the following words, "That this Assembly cannot assume the responsibility of sanctioning the issue of the publications of the Publication Committee of the other branch." The amendment was laid upon the table, and the article adopted.

Dr. Humphrey moved to amend the 9th article by substituting the words "the General Assembly," for the words "one or more of the adjacent Synods." The amendment was laid upon the table by a vote of 150 to 66. Mr. Doolittle moved as an amendment to strike out the last clause, commencing with the words "in which case." This was laid upon the table. Dr. Backus moved to amend by adding thereto the words "the General Assembly shall have the power to veto the election of any professor in the seminaries." This was also laid upon the table, and the whole article was adopted.

Dr. Backus moved to amend article 10th by inserting the following after the words "from other Presbyteries," viz., "and to judge what is consistent with the integrity of the Reformed Calvinistic system." This amendment was laid upon the table by a vote of 160 to 66. The Rev. R. M. Wallace moved to amend the same article so that its first clause shall read "it is agreed that the Presbyteries possess the right, and shall be required to examine ministers applying for admission from other Presbyteries"—striking out the clause beginning, "but each Presbytery, &c." The amendment was laid upon the table. The article was then adopted, as was also the 11th.

Upon the 12th article, Judge Findlay moved as an amendment to add the following words, viz., "Provided, That the said Terms of Union shall not be considered as ratified by any Presbytery unless assented to by three-fourths of the members present;" which was laid upon the table, and the article was adopted.

Article 13th was adopted unanimously.

The question then recurred upon the first resolution of Judge Leavitt's paper, when Dr. Niccolls moved that this resolution be so amended as to read as follows:

"Resolved, That the Report of the Joint Committee on the Basis of the Union of the two branches of the Church, now made, be and the same is hereby accepted, and the Terms of Re-union are hereby approved by this Assembly; and it is ordered that the whole be sent down to the Presbyteries for their final action upon said Terms of Re-union."

The motion of Dr. Niccolls was carried, and the 1st Resolution of Judge Leavitt's paper, as thus amended, being before the Assembly, the ayes and noes were called for, and the call was sustained.

The resolution was adopted by the following vote:

EXCUSED FROM VOTING.—Minister—Robert Scott. Excused, 1.

The Terms of Re-union* thus approved and sent down to the Presbyteries for their action are as follows:

1. The Re-union shall be effected on the doctrinal and ecclesiastical basis of our common standards; the Scriptures of the Old and New Testaments shall be acknowledged to be the inspired Word of God, and the only infallible rule of faith and practice: the Confession of Faith shall continue to be sincerely received and adopted, "as containing the system of doctrine taught in the Holy Scriptures;" it being understood, that this Confession is received in its proper, historical—that is, the Calvinistic or Reformed—sense; it is also understood, that various methods of viewing, stating, explaining, and illustrating, the doctrines of the Confession, which do not impair the integrity of the Reformed or Calvinistic system, are to be freely allowed in the united church, as they have hitherto been allowed in the separate churches: and the Government and Discipline of the Presbyterian Church in the United States shall be approved as containing the principles and rule of our polity.

2. All the ministers and churches, embraced in the two bodies, shall be admitted to the same standing in the united body, which they may hold in their respective connections up to the consummation of the union; imperfectly organized churches shall be counselled and expected to become thoroughly Presbyterian, as early, within the period of five years, as is permitted by the highest interests to be consulted; and no other such churches shall be hereafter received.

3. The boundaries of the several Presbyteries and Synods shall be adjusted by the General Assembly of the united church.

4. The official records of the two branches of the Church, for the period of separation, shall be preserved and held as making up the one history of the Church; and no rule or precedent, which does not stand approved by both the bodies, shall be of any authority, until re-established in the united body, except in so far as such rule or precedent may affect the rights of property founded thereon.

* The entire Report of the Joint Committee on Re-union may be found in the Appendix to these Minutes.

5. The corporate rights, now held by the two General Assemblies, and by their Boards and Committees, shall, as far as practicable, be consolidated, and applied for their several objects, as defined by law.

6. There shall be one set of Committees or Boards for Home and Foreign Missions, and the other religious enterprises of the Church, which the churches shall be encouraged to sustain, though free to cast their contributions into other channels, if they desire to do so.

7. As soon as practicable after the union shall be effected, the General Assembly shall reconstruct and consolidate the several permanent Committees and Boards, which now belong to the two Assemblies, in such a manner as to represent, as far as possible, with impartiality, the views and wishes of the two bodies constituting the united church.

8. The publications of the Board of Publication, and of the Publication Committee, shall continue to be issued as at present, leaving it to the Board of Publication of the united church to revise these issues, and perfect a catalogue for the joint Church, so as to exclude invidious references to past controversies.

9. In order to a uniform system of ecclesiastical supervision, those Theological Seminaries that are now under Assembly control may, if their Boards of direction so elect, be transferred to the watch and care of one or more of the adjacent Synods; and the other Seminaries are advised to introduce, as far as may be, into their Constitutions, the principle of Synodical or Assembly supervision; in which case, they shall be entitled to an official recognition and approbation on the part of the General Assembly.

10. It is agreed, that the Presbyteries possess the right to examine ministers applying for admission from other Presbyteries; but each Presbytery shall be left free to decide for itself when it shall exercise the right.

11. It shall be regarded as the duty of all our judicatories, ministers, and people in the united church, to study the things which make for peace, and to guard against all needless and offensive references to the causes that have divided us; and, in order to avoid the revival of past issues, by the continuance of any usage in either branch of the Church that has grown out of our former conflicts, it is earnestly recommended to the lower judicatories of the Church, that they conform their practice in relation to all such usages, as far as is consistent with their convictions of duty, to the general custom of the Church prior to the controversies that resulted in the separation.

12. The Terms of the Re-union, if they are approved by the General Assemblies of 1868, shall be overtured to the several Presbyteries under their care, and shall be of binding force, if they are ratified by three-fourths of the Presbyteries connected with each branch of the Church, within one year after they shall have been submitted to them for approval.

13. If the two General Assemblies of 1869 shall find, that the Plan of Re-union has been ratified by the requisite number of Presbyteries in each body, they shall, after the conclusion of all their business, be dissolved by their respective Moderators, in the manner and form following, viz.:—Each Moderator shall address the Assembly over which he presides, saying, "By virtue of the authority delegated to me by the Church, and in conformity with the Plan of Union adopted by the two Presbyterian Churches, let this Assembly be dissolved; and I do hereby dissolve it, and require a General Assembly; chosen in the same manner, by all the Presbyteries in connection with this body, and all those in connection with the General Assembly meeting this year in ————, to meet in ————, on the ———— day of May, A. D. 1870; and I do hereby declare and proclaim, that the General Assembly thus constituted will be the rightful General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, now, by the grace of God, happily united."

The 2d resolution of Judge Leavitt being under consideration, ruling elder S. T. Thompson proposed to amend by adding the following words, viz., "And with it the record of the votes of the ministers and of the ruling elders in each Presbytery."

Dr. Monfort moved to amend the 3d resolution, so as to order 5000 copies of the entire Report of the Joint Committee to be printed at the expense of the Board of Publication.

The motion was carried, and the resolution adopted.

On a motion to approve the whole paper of Judge Leavitt, Dr. J. C. Backus moved to postpone it indefinitely for the purpose of taking up the following:

Whereas, the General Assembly in 1866, "expressed its earnest desire for a re-union with the New-school branch of the Presbyterian Church at the earliest time consistent with agreement in doctrine, order, and polity, on the basis of our common standards, and the prevalence of mutual confidence and love, which are necessary to a happy union, and to the permanent peace and prosperity of the united church"; and appointed a committee to confer with a similar committee of the New-school Presbyterian Church in regard to the practicability and desirableness of re-union:

And whereas, it has been found as the result of such conference during the last two years, that there is not at the present time such an agreement as to the sense in which these "common standards" are to be received; the New-school insisting upon such an adoption as it has always allowed, which the Old-school is not prepared to accept:

And whereas, the convention of delegates from various Presbyterian bodies, which met in Philadelphia in November last, recommended the appointment by all the Presbyterian churches there represented, of a committee of five from each church or denomination, on the subject of a general re-union of all the Presbyterian churches in the land: Therefore,

Resolved, 1. That the further consideration of a re-union of the Old-school and New-school be postponed for the present; and that a committee of five be appointed by this Assembly to confer with similar committees of the other Presbyterian churches on the subject of a general Presbyterian union, at such time and place as may be agreed upon, and report the result of said conference to the next General Assembly.

Resolved, 2. That it be recommended to all our churches and church courts, and to all our ministers, ruling elders, and church members, to cherish fraternal sentiments, cultivate Christian intercourse in the worship of God, and in the promotion of the cause of Christ, with the New-school and other branches of the Presbyterian family, and to avoid all needless controversies and competitions adapted to perpetuate schism and strife.

Resolved, 3. That the Board of Domestic Missions be instructed to confer with the Home Missionary Committees or Boards of the New-school and other Presbyterian churches, respecting feeble missionary churches, and ascertain if some plan cannot be devised, fair and honourable to all parties concerned, for their uniting in one church, in places where two or more cannot be sustained.

The motion of Dr. Backus was laid upon the table, and the whole paper of Judge Leavitt as amended was adopted, and is as follows:

Resolved, 1. That the report of the Joint Committee on the basis of the union of the two branches of the Church now made, be, and the same is hereby, accepted, and the terms of Re-union are hereby approved by this Assembly; and it is ordered that the whole be sent down to the Presbyteries for their final action upon said terms of Re-union.

Resolved, 2. That the Presbyteries be requested to report to the Stated Clerk their action approving or disapproving the proposed basis of union, before the meeting of the Assembly in 1869.

Resolved, 3. That the Stated Clerk be directed to cause to be printed, at an early day, five thousand copies of the entire report of the Joint Committee at the expense of the Board of Publication, for distribution to the ministers and sessions of the churches.

Dr. Monfort moved the following as an addition to the action of the Assembly on this subject, and it was adopted.

Resolved, 4. While the Assembly has approved of the report of the Joint Committee on Re-union, it expresses its preference for a change in the first item in the basis, leaving out the following words, viz., "It being understood that the Confession is received in its historical—that is, the Calvinistic or Reformed sense. It is also understood that various methods of viewing, stating, explaining and illustrating the doctrines of the Confession, which do not impair the integrity of the Reformed or Calvinistic system, are to be freely allowed in the united church, as they have hitherto been in the separate churches." The Assembly believes that, by omitting these clauses, the basis will be more simple and more expressive of mutual confidence, and the Permanent Clerk is directed to telegraph this proposed amendment to the Assembly at Harrisburgh, and if that Assembly shall concur in the amendment, it shall become of effect as the action of this Assembly also.

The Assembly also appoints the Rev. C. C. Beatty, D. D., Rev. V. D. Reed, D. D, and ruling elders Robert Carter and Henry Day, a committee to proceed at once to Harrisburgh and personally to lay this action before the other Assembly.

Ruling elder S. T. Thompson moved the adoption of the following:

Resolved, That the Assembly hereby expresses its preference for the following amendment to Art. 4th of the Basis of Union. Strike out the latter clause beginning with the words "and no rule," and insert the following: All rules and precedents, not otherwise provided for, approved by either Church, shall be held as of full force until otherwise ordered by the united Church, and that a committee of five be appointed to report to the first General Assembly of the united church all such rules and precedents as conflict, interfere, or are inconsistent.

The motion of Mr. Thompson was laid upon the table.

Dr. E. P. Humphrey gave notice for himself and others, of protest against the action of the Assembly in approving and sending down to the Presbyteries the report of the Joint Committee on Re-union.

Dr. S. J. Niccolls, chairman of a Special Committee on Churches in the Southern and Border states, presented the report of that committee, which, on motion, was placed upon the docket.

The Assembly took up the next order of the day, viz., the report of the Special Committee appointed by the last Assembly in reference to the Board of Domestic Missions. Ruling elder William Rankin Jr., moved that the report be published in the Appendix to the Minutes, and referred to the next Assembly, which motion was carried by a vote of 100 to 81.

The next order of the day was suspended for five minutes, when the Rev. T. P. Hunt offered a paper relating to the terms of Re-union, which was laid upon the table.

William Rankin, Jr., Chairman of the Finance Committee, presented the report of that Committee, as follows:

The Committee on Finance reports that it has examined the accounts of the Trustees of the General Assembly, and the accompanying papers:

The balance on hand, May 1, 1867, was . . .	$8,249.50
Received from May 1, 1867 to April 1, 1868, . .	48,906.41
	$57,155.91
Expended during eleven months, . . .	50,608.80
Leaving balance April 1, 1868, . . .	$6,547.11

The papers accompanying the accounts are as follows:

1. A certificate signed by the Committee of Trustees of the correctness of the foregoing statement.
2. Ledger balance sheet.
3. Specification of the several Funds to which the above balance belongs.
4. A general Income Report.
5. A statement of payments and re-investments since the last Report of a portion of the Permanent Funds certified to by a Committee of Trustees.
6. A tabular statement of the several investments, amounting in all to $159,138.53, which is certified to by the Finance Committee of Trustees—all of which to your Committee is satisfactory.

The Committee also report as received from the Treasurer, a copy of the will of the late Maria E. Stewart, of Philadelphia, making the Trustees of the General Assembly her residuary legatee. Also a statement of funds received by the Treasurer on account of said legacy, their estimated value being about $10,000. Said will contains the clause following, to wit: "The residuary fund to be applied by them (the Trustees) to the uses of the Board of Education of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, and the Board of Foreign Missions, and of Domestic Missions of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, in such way and manner and in such shares and proportions as may be considered best by the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, and most conducive to the interests of religion."

The Committee recommends that these funds, consisting of ground-rents and other investments be sold under the direction of the Trustees, and the proceeds be paid over to the Treasurers of the several Boards in the following proportion, to wit:—One fourth to the Board of Education; three-eighths to the Board of Foreign Missions; three-eighths to the Board of Domestic Missions.

The Committee also report the death of Dr. John M. Krebs, one of the Trustees, as having occurred since the adjournment of the last General Assembly.

The report was adopted.

The Committee on Commissions reported that Walter H. Clark, minister, had presented his credentials as a Commissioner from the Presbytery of Corisco, and been enrolled.

The Committee on Devotional Exercises reported respecting the services of the coming Sabbath, and the report was approved.

Dr. E. P. Humphrey, Chairman of the Committee on Bills and Overtures, reported as follows:

Overture No. 1. The Presbytery of Raritan requests the General Assembly to transfer the Church of Forrestville from the Presbytery of Raritan to the Second Presbytery of Philadelphia. The Committee recommends that this request be granted. The recommendation was adopted.

Overture No. 2. A request of the churches of Bedford and Shellsburg, to be transferred from the Presbytery of Carlisle to the Presbytery of Huntingdon.

The Committee is informed that the Presbytery of Carlisle has not been consulted on this subject. For this reason the Committee is of opinion that it is inexpedient for the Assembly to take action on the subject.

The report was adopted.

Overture No. 3. A request of the Presbytery of Washington, of the Synod of Wheeling, to transfer the Bethlehem Church from the Presbytery of Ohio, in the Synod of Pittsburgh, to the said Presbytery of Washington. The Committee recommends that this request be granted.

The report was adopted.

Overture No. 4. Being a request from the Presbytery of Peoria, to be transferred from the Synod of Illinois to the Synod of Chicago. The Committee is of opinion that it is inexpedient for the Assembly to take action upon the subject at this time.

The report was adopted.

Overture No. 5, respecting the Metropolitan Church in Washington City, was placed upon the docket.

On motion of ruling elder William Rankin, Jr., the Special Committee appointed by the last Assembly to consider the subject of Systematic Benevolence, composed of the Secretaries of the several Boards, was continued, and the matter in its charge postponed to the next Assembly.

The Assembly then adjourned, after spending half an hour in devotional exercises.

MONDAY Morning, June 1, 9 o'clock.

The Assembly was opened with singing, reading the Scriptures, and with prayer by the Moderator.

The minutes of Saturday were read and approved.

The Committee on Leave of Absence reported that they had granted leave after the sessions of Saturday, to Ministers—A. Van der Lippe, James L. Scott, and R. A. De Lancey, D. D. Ruling Elders—W. H. Foster, James M. Burchfield, E. J. Crane, M. Pettingill, Nelson Prentiss, E. Wood, Joseph Pierce, Isaac Winans, D. McArthur.

The report was approved.

On motion, it was made the order of the day for 4 o'clock this afternoon, to call for and act upon the reports on Synodical Records.

The Rev. A. Sterrett presented a memorial relative to the formation of a Presbytery in Colorado, which was referred to the Committee on Bills and Overtures.

Ruling elder George Junkin presented the report of the Special Committee on the complaint of the Classis of Wisconsin, of the Reformed (late Dutch) Church, against the Presbytery of Milwaukie. The report was unanimously adopted, and is as follows:

The Special Committee to whom was referred the Letter of "The General Synod of the Reformed Church in America," in reference to the action of the Presbytery of Milwaukie, respectfully reports, that it has carefully considered the matters to which this communication refers. No member of the Committee appointed by the General Synod was present during the sessions of the Assembly, so that your Committee had to depend upon the written complaint of the Classis of Wisconsin sent to the General Synod and forwarded to this Assembly, for the reasons set forth by them as the ground of their complaint. A member of the Presbytery of Milwaukie attended a meeting of the Committee, and gave some explanations and additional statements which did not materially vary from, but explained, those narrated in the communication of the Classis. The facts in the case are substantially these. The Reformed (Dutch) Church of Ostburg was composed of Hollanders, and was in connection with the Classis of Wisconsin. Its pastor was quite old, and by reason of his age and infirmities, was compelled to give up his charge. Previously to this, however, the Rev. G. de Rooi (a Hollander) appeared among the people, and having been theretofore recognized as an ordained minister in some of the Reformed (Dutch) Churches in the Eastern States, although not admitted to any Classis, he preached among them with acceptance, so that the great body of the congregation desired to have him for their pastor. Meanwhile some difficulties arose between the old pastor, the consistory, and Mr. de Rooi. When the Classis met, this trouble found its way there; and the Classis intimated an unwillingness to admit Mr. de Rooi upon the credentials he produced, although no action was taken upon the subject. At the same meeting a call for the services of Mr. de Rooi was presented to the Classis.

The Classis desired Mr. de Rooi to submit his credentials to it, and to agree to abide by its decision in regard to the whole matter. He had, as he supposed, good reason for believing that his case had been prejudged, and declined to accede to this. The Classis then refused to take any action in the premises, and so informed the Ostburg Church. These things occurred about April, 1867.

Upon this a very large majority of the congregation resolved to leave the Reformed (Dutch) Church, to form a new church, and to unite with the Presbytery of Milwaukie. The Classical Committee, at the instance of the Consistory of the Ostburg Church, sent a letter to the Presbytery remonstrating against their reception of Mr. de Rooi and the formation of the new church. The Secretary of this Committee was sent for by the Presbytery, met them at their meeting in July, and gave the views of the Classis. The Presbytery also heard the delegates from the Ostburg applicants; and finding that the separation of these people from the Dutch Church was a fixed fact—that they were determined to have Mr. de Rooi for their pastor and to leave the Reformed (Dutch) Church, the Presbytery resolved to appoint a committee to visit the ground, and to organize a church at Ostburg, if the way were clear.

Mr. de Rooi submitted his credentials, was examined and received into the Presbytery. Whether these credentials were the same as those exhibited to the Classis did not appear.

Before the meeting of Presbytery the members of the Ostburg Church who had resolved to form a Presbyterian Church had already commenced, and they subsequently completed, a new church of their own, leaving those who desired to adhere to the Reformed (Dutch) Church in possession of the former church edifice, which had been built only a short time previously.

When the Committee came to organize the new Church, about the middle of August, they found the people in possession of their new church building; but the Consistory refused to give them certificates of dismission, but brought to the Committee a paper which certified that they were not sound in their relations to the Reformed (Dutch) Church, because they wanted to leave it, not because of an honest preference of the Presbyterian Church, but on account of Mr. de Rooi not having been received by the Classis. There was considerable difficulty even in getting this paper; and the Committee, finding the people determined in the matter, and that it was only a question whether the new church should unite with our's or some other, proceeded to examine all the parties upon profession of their faith, and organized those from the Reformed (Dutch) Church and others, numbering in all about one hundred and ninety, into a church. Those adhering to the Reformed (Dutch) Church were between thirty and forty.

In so far as the reception by the Presbytery of Mr. de Rooi is concerned, it is not perceived that the Classis of Wisconsin has any cause for complaint. It was entirely competent and proper for the Presbytery to do as it did. Mr. de Rooi did not formally submit his credentials to the Classis; and even if he had, and they had refused to receive him, it is not seen how the comity which exists between the Reformed (Dutch) Church and ours in any way prevents this or is disturbed by it.

Nor can it be said that the Presbytery violated this comity in the formation of the new Church. Neither the Presbytery nor its members originated or fostered the troubles in the Ostburg Church. Application was made to the Presbytery by a large body of people to be organized into a Presbyterian church. They showed the strength of their determination by giving up to the small minority all their rights in the property of the Reformed (Dutch) Church, and going out and building a new church edifice for themselves. The Presbytery heard all the objections of the Classis and then proceeded carefully and not hastily to act in the premises. And with all the light your Committee now has, we cannot say that they did not act wisely and properly. For the state of things whose result was this new Presbyterian church growing out of the troubles between the majority of the people composing the Ostburg Church and the Classis, the Presbytery was in no way responsible. They had to deal with the case as they found it; and your Committee are unable to report that their action was wrong.

The Committee recommends the adoption by the Assembly of the following minute, viz.,

The General Assembly having carefully considered the complaint of the Classis of Wisconsin against the Presbytery of Milwaukie, for receiving the Rev. G. de Rooi, and for organizing the Presbyterian Church of Ostburg, and also the statements and explanations made on behalf of the Presbytery, has been unable to see that the Presbytery of Milwaukie has violated the Articles of Correspondence between the Reformed (Dutch) Church and this Assembly, in either of the particulars complained of, while at the same time it sincerely regrets that the General Synod should have so concluded. It is hoped that the explanations of the Presbytery embodied in the Report of the Committee of this Assembly to whom the whole subject was referred for investigation, will satisfy the General Synod of the correctness of the conclusions at which the General Assembly has arrived; and that the ancient Christian fellowship existing between our respective churches, and all their individual churches and judicatories, may be fully maintained. It is ordered that the Stated Clerk forward to the Stated Clerk of the General Synod a copy of this minute and of the Report of the Committee, together with the original complaint of the Classis of Wisconsin.

Ruling elder George Junkin offered a resolution in reference to the examination of candidates for the ministry, on the Bible and Shorter Catechism, which was referred to the Committee on Bills and Overtures.

Dr. A. A. Hodge, chairman, presented a report from the Committee on Foreign Correspondence, which was adopted, and is as follows:

The Committee on Foreign Correspondence reports that the following papers have been referred to it, viz.:

1st. A letter from the Rev. James I. Brownson, D. D., reporting that neither he nor his principal, the Rev. Loyal Young, D. D., is able to attend the meeting of the General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church, sitting this year in Argyle, N. Y., and recommending that another should be sent in his place. The Committee recommends that the Rev. Joseph Nesbit be appointed to represent this Assembly before that body this year.

2d. A letter from the Rev. Peter D. Oakey, stating that he had attended to the duty assigned to him as the delegate from this body to the General Synod of the Reformed Church. The Committee recommends that his report be accepted, and his fidelity approved.

3d. A letter reporting the attendance of the Rev. J. M. Hickok, D. D., and the Rev. N. G. Parke, as delegates of this Church to the General Assembly of the Free Church of Scotland, and to the Synod of the United Presbyterian Church of Scotland. The Committee recommends that their report be accepted, and their fidelity approved.

4th. Also a letter from E. A. Raymond, ruling elder, reporting his attendance as delegate from this Church to the General Assembly of the other branch for last year. The Committee recommends that his report be accepted, and his fidelity approved.

5th. A letter reporting the attendance of the Rev. Wilson Phraner, as a delegate of this body to the Synod of the Reformed Presbyterian Church. The Committee recommends that his report be accepted, and his fidelity approved.

The Committee further recommends that the following persons be appointed to represent this Assembly to the several ecclesiastical bodies with which we are in correspondence.

To the Free Church of Scotland and the United Presbyterian Church of Scotland, the Rev. Robert Davidson, D. D., the Rev. William C. Cattell, D. D., and the Rev. Cyrus Dickson, ministers, and Hugh Campbell, M. D., ruling elder.

To the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church of Ireland, the Rev. S. A. Mutchmore, and the Rev. Alexander Reed, D. D.

To the General Synod of the Reformed (late Dutch) Church in America, the Rev. Abram Gosman, D. D., principal, and the Rev. C. K. Imbrie, D. D., alternate.

To the General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church of North America, the Rev. John F. McLaren, D. D., principal, and the Rev. William T. Findley, D. D., alternate.

To the General Assembly of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, the Rev. J. T. Lapsley, D. D., principal, and the Rev. John Leighton, alternate.

To the Synod of the Reformed Presbyterian Church, the Rev. William McMillan, principal, and the Rev. A. C. McClelland, alternate.

To the General Synod of the Evangelical Lutheran Church, the Rev. S. F. Scovel, principal, and the Rev. Samuel Wilson, D. D., alternate.

The Assembly took up the order of the day, viz., the report of the Standing Committee on Theological Seminaries, which was read and adopted, and is as follows:

The Committee on Theological Seminaries respectfully submits to the General Assembly the following Report:

The Annual Reports of the Directors and Trustees of the Seminaries at Princeton, N. J.; at Allegheny, Pa.; at Danville, Ky.; at Chicago, Ill., and an overture from the Presbytery of Saltsburg on the subject of Seminaries, have been placed in the hands of the Committee, and carefully examined.

As these reports will no doubt be printed in the Appendix to the Minutes, as is customary, it will only be necessary to state here in the general, that the whole number of students connected with three of these institutions during the past year has been 211; the whole number of new students received, 84; and the whole number graduated, 58. The number in the Western Seminary has increased, and was greater the last year than for the six previous years. In Princeton and the North-West Seminaries, the number is less than during the last and some previous years. Danville was not re-opened till this spring, and of course had no students.

The reports state that the Professors of those Seminaries, that have been in operation during the year, have faithfully discharged their responsible duties; that the students generally have been diligent in their studies, exemplary in their deportment, and passed creditably their examinations. A highly encouraging missionary spirit continues to be manifested in each of these institutions; some have already gone and others are expecting to go into the foreign field. Many of the students have been profitably engaged in Sabbath-School and Home Mission work, for which ample opportunity is afforded in the communities about them, especially the large cities of Pittsburgh and Chicago.

The following vacancies in the respective Boards of Directors are to be filled at this time; in respect to which the Assembly will take such action as it may see fit, viz.

In the Board of Directors of the Seminary at Princeton, H. A. Boardman, D. D., W. E. Schenck, D. D., J. C. Backus, D. D., E. R. Craven, D. D., W. C. Cattell, D. D., Moses Allen, E. B. Fuller, and D. L. Collier, whose term expires; and that of John M. Krebs, D. D., long a valued member of the Board, and for some time its President, but now deceased.

In the Western Seminary, W. B. McIlvaine, J. Alexander, D. D., C. Dickson, D. D., John Kerr, A. O. Patterson, D. D., H. B. Fry, D. McKinney, D. D., Luke Loomis, William Bakewell, and George A. Berry, whose term expires; that of Alexander Cameron, deceased, and that of D. H. Riddle, D. D., resigned.

In the Danville Seminary, R. F. Caldwell, T. F. Cortelyou, J. T. Lapsley, George Morrison, J. L. McKee, D.D., David Curry, B. N. Penick, E. A. Moore, S. R. Williams, and R. Rodes.

In the Board of the Seminary of the North-West, J. G. Bergen, D. D., J. H. Nixon, D. D., Robert Patterson, D. D., Charles Crosby, J. D. Thorpe, J. Sheets, David Keith, and Warren Norton, whose term expires; also, that of J. M. Lowrie, D. D., deceased, and that of A. A. E. Taylor and J. W. Sterling, resigned.

The Committee recommends that the reports of the Boards of Directors and Trustees be printed in the Appendix to the Minutes.

The Directors of the Western Theological Seminary have represented in their Report that serious evils must result to our educational system by assigning different seasons of the year to different Seminaries for their term of theological study.

1. Because the practical effect of such a course must be to hurry many of our students through the theological curriculum so as to compass the studies intended for three years in the space of nineteen calendar months, which not only does not afford sufficient time for the mastery of the subjects, but must be detrimental to the bodily health of such as are at all diligent in their studies.

2. It must tend to make the curriculum itself of a very desultory, if not fragmentary, character, to the great injury of our standard of ministerial education.

3. It operates especially to the prejudice of those Seminaries whose course of study is based upon the plan of conducting three separate classes through each Academical year.

The Committee has also had put into its hands by the Assembly an overture from the Presbytery of Saltsburg, requesting the Assembly to consider the expediency of extending the term of study in our Theological Seminaries, dividing each year into two terms or sessions of five months each, so as to complete the full course in two years; and also of requiring each professor to devote his undivided time to his chair.

The Committee recommends that the Assembly decline to direct any changes in the present arrangements in these respects. The summer term is only an experiment in behalf of an institution that it is extremely desirable to save to the Church. It is hoped that this Seminary will soon be restored to the prosperity which it enjoyed before the interruption by the late civil war. The Committee thinks, however, that the General Assembly should re-affirm the repeated action of former Assemblies requiring "that the period of continuance in the Theological Seminaries shall in no case be less than three years previously to an examination for a certificate of approbation;" (See Assembly's Digest, b. v., § 198, art. iv., sec. 2.) and should urge upon the Presbyteries that when licensure is granted after two years of study, it shall be with the express direction to fulfil the third Seminary year, unless in special cases it may be impracticable. The allowing a Summer term was not intended to shorten in any way the course of study, by virtually compressing two Seminary years into one calendar year.

The Board of Directors of the Danville Theological Seminary reports that having, at the first meeting after being re-organized, taken into consideration the time of holding its sessions, which was referred to them by the last Assembly, it was unanimously resolved that the yearly session shall commence on the first secular day of May, 1868, and extend to the last secular day of October; and so from year to year till further ordered.

Also, that the Rev. E. P. Humphrey, D. D., had signified his declination of the chair to which he was elected by the last Assembly. The Board therefore asks this Assembly to fill said vacant chair of Biblical and Ecclesiastical History. And at their suggestion the Committee would recommend that the Assembly grant this request, and would nominate to that vacant chair the Rev. Nathaniel West, D. D., of the Presbytery of Nassau.

The Directors of the Seminary of the North-West represent "that they have endeavoured in vain to procure the services of some competent person to give instruction in Biblical and Ecclesiastical History. Feeling the need of having the Institution fully manned, and relying upon that God who has so manifestly exhibited his favour to us in the past, they resolved unanimously to ask this General Assembly to fill the Professorship of Biblical and Ecclesiastical History, now vacant."

The Committee is of opinion that if there is a reasonable hope that adequate funds can be secured for the support of such Professor, the vacancy should now be filled. There is, however, considerable doubt in respect to this, unless some one can be found, who will command the confidence of the friends of the Seminary generally. After mature deliberation, with all the light that could be obtained, and in the absence of any suggestions from the Board of Directors, the Committee agree unanimously to nominate Nathan L. Rice, D. D., of the Presbytery of New York, a former Professor in that Seminary; whose health is understood to be sufficiently restored to enter upon the work, and whose election the Committee is assured, will secure, without difficulty, the requisite funds.

The matter of a report from the Synod of Baltimore, in reference to the Presbyteries of Concord and Catawba, required by the Assembly of last year (see Minutes of 1867, page 360), was referred to the next General Assembly.

Judicial Case No. 1, was taken from the docket, and the report of the Judicial Committee was read as follows:

The complaint of the Rev. Alex. M. Cowan, against the action of the Presbytery of Sidney, for refusing to enrol his name, on the ground that he acknowledged himself to be a signer of the "Declaration and Testimony," and refused to sign the declaration prescribed by the Assembly of 1867, in such cases.

The Committee finds the case to be in order, and recommends that it be tried according to the order prescribed in the Book of Discipline.

The Assembly having decided to proceed with the case, the Moderator announced that the body was about to pass to the consideration of judicial business, and enjoined on the members to recollect and regard their high character as judges of a court of Jesus Christ. The papers in the case were then read. The parties were called, and the Rev. Alex. M. Cowan, the complainant, appeared and addressed the Assembly. Before he had finished, the hour for adjournment arrived, when

The Assembly adjourned, after spending half an hour in devotional exercises.

MONDAY AFTERNOON, 3½ o'clock.

The Assembly met, and was opened with prayer by ruling elder Robert McKnight.

The Moderator announced that he had just received a telegram, informing him of the death of Matthew Newkirk, Esq., of Philadelphia.

Ruling elder James Ross Snowden offered the following minute in reference thereto, which was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That this Assembly has heard with deep emotion the announcement of the death of Matthew Newkirk, Esq., of Philadelphia, an eminent and distinguished Christian gentleman, who has, during a long and useful life, rendered great and valuable services to our Church, as a Trustee of the General Assembly, a Director in the Theological Seminary at Princeton, and as an officer and member of several of the Boards of the Church.

Resolved, That the Stated Clerk send a copy of this minute to the family of the deceased.

The Assembly took up the unfinished business of the forenoon, and the Rev. A. M. Cowan, complainant, continued his remarks.

At 4 o'clock, P. M. the Assembly, according to the order of the day, called for reports from the Standing Committees on Synodical Records.

The Records of the following Synods were approved, viz., Albany, Allegheny, Buffalo, Chicago, Cincinnati, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Missouri, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Pittsburgh, St. Paul, Sandusky, Southern Iowa, Wheeling, and Wisconsin.

It was reported that no Records were present from the Synods of Baltimore, Nashville, Northern India, Pacific, and the Committees thereon were discharged.

The records of the Synod of Northern Indiana were approved, with the exception of the mode of recording the minute of a joint session of the two Synods of Indiana and Northern Indiana, which, instead of being written, is cut from a newspaper and pasted in the book.

The records of the Synod of Philadelphia were approved, with the exception that no record is made of the names of absentees, and no excuse for absence required.

The unfinished business, Judicial Case, No. 1, was again taken up, when the Rev. L. I. Drake appeared to defend the Presbytery. The roll was called in part, when the calling was suspended, and the Rev. A. G. Hall, D. D., presented the following which was unanimously adopted.

Resolved, That this Assembly hereby desires it to be distinctly understood, that the first article of the Report of the Joint Re-union Committee, which is the doctrinal basis of union, and which was adopted on Friday evening last by this Assembly, is not to be interpreted as giving license to the propagation of doctrines which have been condemned by either Assembly, nor to permit any Presbytery in the united church to license or ordain to the work of the ministry, any candidate who maintains any form of doctrine condemned by either Assembly.

Dr. Backus moved that the Permanent Clerk be directed to send by telegraph to the General Assembly at Harrisburg, the resolution of Dr. Hall, just adopted. Carried.

Dr. E. P. Humphrey, for himself and others, presented a protest, which, on motion was received and admitted to record, and the following persons were appointed a Committee to prepare an answer; Ministers—W. G. T. Shedd, D. D., J. G. Monfort, D. D., and Samuel I. Prime, D. D., with Ruling Elders H. H. Leavitt, and Robert McKnight.

It was ordered that when the Assembly adjourns, it be to 7.45 o'clock this evening.

The Assembly then adjourned, with prayer by the Moderator.

MONDAY EVENING, 7.45 o'clock.

The Assembly was opened with prayer by the Moderator.

The unfinished business of the afternoon, viz., Judicial Case No. 1, was resumed, and the calling of the roll finished. Dr. Backus moved the following paper as the action of the Assembly in this case; and it was adopted.

The General Assembly having heard the complaint of Mr. Cowan, it is resolved that it be not sustained, the Presbytery having acted entirely in accordance with the directions of the Assembly of 1867.

But inasmuch as the emergency that called for the action of that and of the previous Assembly has passed; and inasmuch as many throughout the church, and entirely loyal to it, have scruples in respect to the constitutionality and expediency of the orders of 1866; and inasmuch as Mr. Cowan declares, that in signing the Declaration and Testimony, he had no intention to rebel against, or to show any disrespect to the church, but merely to protest against what he regarded as an unconstitutional act; and inasmuch as he desires to adhere to the General Assembly and to be subject to its authority—Therefore

Resolved, That his case be referred to the Presbytery to which he belonged, with instructions to deal tenderly with his scruples, and if in the judgment of said Presbytery he can be restored in accordance with the spirit of the action of 1867, that Presbytery have authority to restore him without further acknowledgment than that stated above in the hearing of this body.

The report of the Special Committee on the Basis sent from the Philadelphia Presbyterian Convention was taken from the docket and unanimously adopted. It is as follows:

The Committee to which was referred the communication from the Presbyterian Convention, held in Philadelphia in November last, recommends the adoption of the following resolutions:

Resolved, 1. That, agreeably to the request of that Convention, this General Assembly appoint five representatives (three ministers and two ruling elders), to meet with representatives to be appointed by the several bodies whose delegates constituted that Convention for the purpose of conferring on a plan of union between those churches.

Resolved, 2. That in the judgment of this Assembly, if a more intimate union be found inexpedient or impracticable, our representatives be instructed to confer with the representatives of the other bodies, on some plan of confederation of the separate Presbyterian Churches in the United States.

The following persons were appointed the Committee of Conference: Rev. George W. Musgrave, D. D., Rev. A. T. McGill, D. D., Rev. E. P. Humphrey, D. D., with ruling elders Robert McKnight and George Junkin.

The report of the Special Committee on the continuation of the Digest was taken from the docket and referred to the Board of Publication. It is as follows:

The Committee appointed at the close of the Assembly of 1867, and renewed at this Assembly of 1868, to consider and report on the subject of the Digest, with special reference to the continuation thereof, from the close of the last revision and edition; and also to the inspection of an unpublished digest of the later proceedings of a number of Assemblies, made and forwarded in April, 1867, by Dr. S. J. Baird, the compiler of the existing Digest, to the chairman of the Committee, and by him laid before the Assembly of that year, having considered the matters referred to it, reports as follows:

1. That the unpublished Digest of Dr. Baird, laid before the Committee, embraces the years 1857—1866, and is in a condition quite ready for final revision and publication; and that it is in its method exactly like that of the existing Digest. In the judgment of this Committee, this unpublished digest ought to be revised by the author, and afterwards by some special committee of the Board of Publication, and ought to be made to embrace the proceedings and deliverances of the Assemblies of 1867–1868, and as many others as may be held before the work is finished and published; and ought then to be published by the Board of Publication in a separate volume, uniform with the present Digest, and as the second volume thereof, to be enlarged, as needful, by subsequent additions from time to time.

2. That the said unpublished Digest, thus put at the disposal of the Assembly by the authority of Dr. Baird, be committed to the Board of Publication, with the opinion of this Assembly, that its compiler, Dr. Samuel J. Baird, the compiler also of the existing Digest, ought to be employed by that Board to revise and complete it up to the time of its revision by the Committee for publication, as before explained; and that the important services of Dr. Baird, on the part of it already printed, and the rest yet to be finished, should be liberally compensated, so far as money can compensate such services.

The report of the Special Committee on the churches in the Southern and Border States, was taken from the docket and adopted. It is as follows:

The Special Committee appointed to take into consideration certain matters relating to the Southern churches, respectfully reports that the following papers have been placed in its hands, and have been carefully considered, viz.,

1. An Overture from the Presbytery of Zanesville, asking "that the Assembly strike from the lists of Synods, Presbyteries, and churches, those at the South, which have ceased to report or be in connection with us, and that they be recognized as an independent body of Presbyterians, and overtures of friendly correspondence be made to them."

2. An Overture from the Presbytery of St. Clairsville of like import.

3. An Overture from the Presbytery of Steubenville, asking that the aforementioned Synods, Presbyteries, and churches be stricken from the roll.

4. A memorial signed by certain ministers and ruling elders, asking in general terms that the General Assembly "devise such wise and conciliatory measures as may open the way for the renewal of fraternal relations with our brethren of the Southern churches."

In view of all these, your Committee would recommend the adoption of the following preamble and resolutions:

Whereas, the Synods of Alabama, Arkansas, Georgia, Memphis, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, Texas, and Virginia, with the several Presbyteries under their care, have, with the exception of the Presbytery of New Orleans in the Synod of Mississippi, voluntarily withdrawn from our connection and organized themselves into a separate Church. Therefore,

Resolved, 1. That the Permanent Clerk is directed to drop their names from the list of our Synods and Presbyteries, and they are no longer to be regarded as a part of the Presbyterian Church under the care of this Assembly, with the exception of the Presbytery of New Orleans, which is hereby attached to the Synod of Nashville

Resolved, 2. That the Assembly does hereby recognize the organization into which these Synods have formed themselves, as a separate and independent Church, sustaining to us the same relation which we accord to other branches of the Presbyterian Church; and hereafter it is to be treated accordingly by all the courts under our care.

Resolved, 3. That the Assembly also takes this occasion to say, that while it cannot justify those brethren in separating themselves from the Church of their fathers, it regrets their withdrawal, and expresses the earnest hope that they may see their way clear to return to their former relations.

Your Committee also received a memorial from certain ministers and elders of the Presbytery of Potosi, asking that they be recognized as the true and only Presbytery of Potosi. The Committee recommends that the memorialists have leave to withdraw their paper in order to place it before the Synod of Missouri.

There was also referred to your Committee an Overture from the Synod of New York, asking for a modification of the action of the last General Assembly, with reference to the signers of the Declaration and Testimony. The Committee recommends the adoption of the following resolution as a final disposition of the whole matter:

Resolved, That the Assembly is not prepared to modify or repeal the action of the last Assembly with reference to the signers of the Declaration and Testimony, and others who acted with them; but it hereby refers the whole matter to the Synod of Kentucky and the Synod of Missouri, and other Synods concerned, with liberty to take such action consistent with the honour and authority of the General Assembly, as may in their judgment secure peace and order to the Church.

Overture No. 5 was taken from the docket. It relates to the metropolitan church of Washington City.

The Committee recommends the adoption of the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Trustees of the General Assembly located in the city of Philadelphia, in whom the title of a lot purchased for a Metropolitan church in the City of Washington, D. C. is now vested, and which was conveyed to them by Joseph A. Clay, trustee, and B. P. Fletcher, by deed of conveyance dated Nov. 22, 1862, and recorded in Washington County, D. C. Dec. 23d, 1862, in Liber J. A. S. No. 227, folio 153, &c., be and are hereby directed to unite with Joseph A. Clay and Mrs. B. P. Fletcher in a deed of confirmation, conveying or quit-claiming any title that may be vested in them to the said lot, to Charles E. Lathrop, George A. Bohrer, and John R. Arrison, as Trustees for the said General Assembly.

The report was adopted.

Dr. Eagleson presented the Report of the Committee on Systematic Benevolence, which was put upon the docket.

Dr. E. P. Humphrey, from the Committee on Bills and Overtures, reported

Overture No. 6, a memorial of the Presbytery of Luzerne in reference to the support of the ministry.

The Committee recommends,

1. That the Assembly acknowledge that by the ordinance of Christ every minister of the gospel devoted to his work, is entitled to an adequate support.

2. That the duty of providing such support does not rest exclusively on the congregation which is served by the minister, but upon the Church as a whole.

3. That the Board of Domestic Missions be directed to carry out these principles in the best manner, and at the earliest period possible.

The report was adopted.

Overture No. 7, a communication from the joint conveners of the Colonial and Continental Committees of the Free Church of Scotland, suggesting the "adoption of some method of combined action for supplying gospel ministrations to English-speaking Presbyterians travelling on the continent of Europe, or residing at places of public resort."

The Committee recommends to the Assembly the adoption of the following minute:

1. The Assembly learns with much satisfaction that the Free Church of Scotland has opened and is maintaining permanent stations, with settled ministers, in several of the European cities frequented by English-speaking people.

2. We earnestly recommend to our people at home to contribute to the support of these stations and ministers, and advise our people who may visit the continent of Europe to give effective encouragement to this good work.

3. William Rankin, jr., Esq., Treasurer of the Board of Foreign Missions, is requested to receive and forward to the Free Church any contributions that may be sent to him for this purpose.

4. Samuel I. Prime, D. D., W. G. T. Shedd, D. The Rev. George S. Mott, Chairman, presented the Report of the Commission on Judicial Case, No. 2, which was adopted, and is as follows:

The Commission appointed by the Assembly to issue Judicial Case No. 2, makes the following report:

This case originated in a petition presented to the Presbytery of Ohio, December 27, 1866, asking the dissolution of the pastoral relation existing between the Rev. William Hunter and the Church of Hopewell. The reasons of this petition were based upon troubles in the congregation, which arose out of a state of things upon which Presbytery and Synod had already acted. This petition was signed by a minority. A counter petition was presented from a large majority of the congregation, begging the continuance of the pastoral relation. Presbytery refused by a small majority to dissolve the relation. The case was then taken by a complaint of the minority of the congregation, to the Synod of Pittsburgh. Synod sustained the complaint by a vote of 50 yeas to 11 nays; and by a unanimous vote directed the Presbytery of Ohio to dissolve the pastoral relation. From this action of Synod an appeal is made to the Assembly by Joseph Connell, of the Church of Hopewell, for the following reasons:

1. Because the pastoral relation between the Rev. William Hunter and the congregation is ordered to be dissolved on the petition of less than one-fourth of the members of the congregation, greatly against the will of the congregation, and to our injury, and in contravention of our Christian and constitutional rights.

2. Because the petitioners were not only a small minority, but because some of them were not members of the congregation, and those who were members had lost their status, they having for more than a year neither communed in the church nor contributed their just proportion of the expenses of the congregation.

3. Because the decision of Synod is highly injurious to the pastor as well as to the congregation, and hurtful also to the cause of truth, righteousness, and equity, as taught in the Holy Scriptures, and assured to congregations and pastors by our church standards.

All the papers and records relating to the case were read before the Commission, and all the parties desiring a hearing were heard.

It appeared that the principal cause, if not the origin of these difficulties, was the use of harsh and intemperate language on the part of Mr. Hunter toward some of his parishioners. This led to charges and a trial before the Presbytery, the result of which was an admonition to Mr. Hunter, to "restrain his temper and cultivate a meek and quiet spirit." In connection with this trial, the request of petitioners for the removal of Mr. Hunter was granted, and the pastoral relation dissolved. From this act of dissolution Mr. Hunter appealed to Synod, who sustained his appeal on account of deficiency in the records.

A new application for the dissolution of the pastoral relation was then made to Presbytery by the discontented minority, based upon the existing troubles, which was refused, as already stated, by a small majority of Presbytery, but granted by a unanimous vote of Synod.

The facts and statements of the parties, satisfied your Commission that, while a majority of the congregation clung to Mr. Hunter, he had taken such a course as to alienate a part of the people, and seriously to impair his usefulness in that congregation. The matter has been for two years before Presbytery, and they have sought to secure a reconciliation by sending committees to confer with the people, but to no purpose. And the case has become so complicated in Presbytery, as to divide that body about equally. When Synod came to decide upon the merits of the case, their judgment was unanimous against the continuance of the pastoral relation.

Your Commission had this case several days before them, and bestowed upon it careful consideration; and have unanimously determined to report to the Assembly that the sense of this Commission is, that the interests of the Church of Hopewell require the dissolution of the pastoral relation, and that they agree with the decision of Synod, and they recommend the following minute:

This Assembly recognizes the right of each congregation to decide whether a pastor is acceptable to them, and the wishes of a majority are to be set aside only for weighty reasons: yet such a state of things may exist between the pastor and a portion of his people, as shall require, for the fair name of religion, that the relation be dissolved. And for this reason the appeal and complaint of Joseph Connell against the Synod of Pittsburgh is not sustained.

The Rev. Dr. Monfort offered the following, which was adopted:

Resolved, That the Assembly appoint a Committee of five to act with a similar Committee of the other branch, in preparing and proposing to the first General Assembly of the united church changes in the constitution as recommended by the Joint Committee on Re-union.

The following persons were appointed as the Committee, viz.; Ministers, Alex. T. McGill, D.D., William E. Schenck, D. D., and J. T. Backus, D.D., with Ruling Elders, Hovey K. Clarke and James M. Ray.

Dr. E. P. Humphrey, Chairman of the Committee on Bills and Overtures, reported as follows:

Overture No 8, from the Presbytery of New Lisbon, asking for the preparation of a literal version of the Book of Psalms, for use in singing. The Committee recommends the reference of this Overture to the Board of Publication, with the request that it correspond with the United Presbyterian Church Publication Committee on the subject.

The report was adopted.

Overture No. 9, from the Presbytery of Susquehanna respecting the week of prayer.

The Committee are of opinion that it is not expedient for the Assembly to prepare a schedule for these services. The appointment is for prayer for the conversion of the world, and the ordering of the services should be left in the hands of the ministers and sessions.

The report was adopted.

Overture No. 10, is from the Presbytery of Dubuque, calling the attention of the General Assembly to the German Theological School at Dubuque.

The Committee recommends the adoption of the following minute:

1. Touching the qualification of young men seeking the Gospel ministry there is no power in the General Assembly to dispense with any of the examinations or points of trial required in the Form of Government.

2. We cordially commend this Institution to the liberality of the people of God under our care.

3. In accordance with the request of the Presbytery of Dubuque, Stewart Mitchell, S. J. Wilson, S. M. Osmond, G. P. Bergen, ministers, and S. F. Glenn, Samuel Sharpless, and Joseph Barker, ruling elders, are appointed a committee to visit the Institution and report its condition, prospects, and wants to the next Assembly.

The report was adopted.

Overture No. 11, is from the Presbytery of Catawba asking for the erection of a new Synod.

The Committee recommends the adoption of the following orders:

1. The Presbyteries of Catawba, Atlantic, and Knox, are hereby erected a Synod, to be called the "Synod of Atlantic."

2. The said Synod shall hold its first meeting in Charlotte, N. C., on the Thursday before the second Sabbath of October, 1868, and shall be opened with a sermon by the Rev. Sidney S. Murkland, (or in his absence by the oldest minister present,) who shall also preside until another moderator be chosen.

The report was adopted.

Overture No. 12. A memorial from the Presbytery of Allegheny City touching the employment of educated laymen as expounders of the word of God.

The Committee recommends that this subject be referred to the most serious consideration of the sessions and Presbyteries under our charge, to the end that the General Assembly may hereafter be able to adopt some mature and well-considered action on the subject.

The report was adopted.

Overture No. 13, from Dr. J. C. Backus and others respecting the injustice done to this church, in connection with others, in the selection of chaplains for the army and navy.

The Committee recommends the adoption of the following minute:

That in the judgment of this Assembly a rule ought to be adopted, by Act of Congress or otherwise, forbidding the appointment of more than one-fourth of the chaplains from any one denomination in the army and navy, and in the military and naval academies.

The Stated Clerk of the Assembly is instructed to forward a copy of this memorial minute to the Secretaries of War and the Navy.

The report was adopted.

Overture No. 14, from the Seamen's Friend Society.

The Committee recommends the adoption of the following minute:

The Assembly desires to call the attention of the churches under its care to the fact that five millions of their fellow-men are said to be seamen, doing business on the great waters, and therefore in a great measure deprived of the means of grace: that these people are not readily reached by the efforts of the Church to give the gospel to the destitute, and so strong is the claim of these sailors upon our Christian sympathies and aid, that we commend to the churches to seek their salvation through the American Seamen's Friend Society, which has long been faithfully labouring, and with great success, in this important department of Christian work.

The report was adopted.

Overture No. 15, from W. L. Moore, respecting the control of the pulpit.

The Committee recommends that this overture be answered by a reference to the action of the Peoria Assembly, 1863, upon this whole subject.

The report was adopted.

Overture No. 16, from the Synod of the Reformed Presbyterian Church, and from the National Association, with reference to a proposed amendment to the Constitution of the United States, recognizing the being of almighty God, and the Christian religion.

The Committee recommends that the General Assembly content itself at present with calling the attention of the people of God under its care to this important subject.

The report was adopted.

Overture No 17, from a member of the Synod of Pittsburgh, as follows:

Is a church having two pastors, one aged or infirm, the other associate or co-pastor, entitled to two elders in Presbytery and Synod? Or what is the meaning of a "Collegiate Church" in Chap. 10, Sec. 3, of the Form of Government?

The Committee recommends this answer:

The general principle of our polity is that there shall be in our church courts an equal number of ministers and ruling elders. But vacant churches are entitled to a representation. The term "collegiate church" is used in two senses, first, of a church with more than one pastor; second, of two or more churches united under the care of one pastor.

The report was adopted.

Overture No. 18, from the Presbytery of Genesee River, calls the attention of the General Assembly to a recent decision of the Kentucky Court of Appeals.

The Committee recommends the following minute for adoption:

The General Assembly of 1866 adjudged that B. F. Avery, D. McNaughton, and J. N. Leach, had been duly elected and ordained as ruling elders in the Walnut Street Presbyterian Church, Louisville, Kentucky. It has now come to the knowledge of the Assembly that the Court of Appeals of Kentucky has uttered a judicial opinion in these words:

"That the said order of the Synod directing said election of additional ruling elders in said church, was contrary to the constitution of the Presbyterian Church, and not obligatory upon the session and congregation of said Walnut Street Church, and said Avery, McNaughton, and Leach, not having been elected as ruling elders according to the laws and regulations of the Church, were not thereby constituted ruling elders, nor were they so constituted by said declaration of the General Assembly."

Whereupon the Presbytery of Louisville adopted and published a Protest against this decision of the judges. The Presbytery denies that it is competent for the secular tribunals to look into or to set aside the election of office-bearers in the church; or to revise the decisions of the spiritual courts in regard to such elections; or to define the jurisdiction of our church courts in matters purely spiritual; or to go behind the judgments of the General Assembly upon questions of church government or discipline. The Presbytery, still further, in its said Protest, declares this particular decision of the secular tribunal to be an encroachment on religious liberty, and a violation of the principle which determines the independence of the church upon the state. Finally, the Presbytery declares that the ruling elders so attempted to be deprived of office, are, before the law of this church, still ruling elders therein, by a perfect ecclesiastical tenure.

And now, the General Assembly declares its full approval of the fidelity of the Presbytery of Louisville in this whole matter. We unite with the Presbytery in protesting against this encroachment on the liberties of a free church. We approve the judgment of the Presbytery declaring their brethren to be ruling elders of the Walnut street congregation, the decision of the secular court to the contrary notwithstanding; and we express our satisfaction in recognizing among the commissioners, now sitting in this Assembly, the person of one of these ruling elders.

The Assembly of 1867 carefully described and identified the Synod and the six Presbyteries in Kentucky which are in connection with the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America. The present General Assembly deems it proper to re-affirm and declare anew at this time, that the ecclesiastical position of this Synod and its Presbyteries remains as it was defined and settled by the last Assembly, (see Minutes of 1867, &c.) and thus are declared to be the true and only Synod and Presbyteries in connection with the General Assembly of this Church in the State of Kentucky.

Still further, this Assembly expresses its sympathy with the churches in the Synod of Kentucky in the difficulties and trials into which they have been brought by their adherence to the Presbyterian Church. We will aid them to the full extent of our ability in defending and protecting their church property. And we will encourage the people of God everywhere, under our charge, to contribute liberally to repair the pecuniary losses which may be sustained by their churches and schools of learning.

We counsel these brethren also, on the one hand, to yield a cheerful obedience to the law of the land, even to the extent of taking "joyfully the spoiling of their goods." But, on the other hand, we counsel the courts of the Church to continue to administer the spiritual government of Christ's house, which is in their hands; always disregarding the judgments of the secular tribunals on questions which belong to the spiritual jurisdiction alone. It is the constant faith of this Church that civil magistrates may not assume to themselves "the powers of the keys of the kingdom of heaven; or in the least interfere in matters of faith;" "and as Jesus Christ hath appointed a regular government and discipline in his Church, no law of any commonwealth should interfere with, let, or hinder the due exercise thereof, among the voluntary members of any denomination of Christians, according to their own profession and belief." (Confession of Faith, ch. xxiii.)

The report was unanimously adopted.

Overture No. 19, from the National Christian Convention against secret societies.

The Committee are of opinion that it is inexpedient for the Assembly to take any action on the subject.

The report was adopted.

Overture No. 20, from William E. Dodge and others, asking the Assembly to appoint delegates to a National Temperance Convention to be held in Cleveland, Ohio, in July next.

The Committee recommends that the Assembly in answer to this overture content itself by referring to the many distinct utterances which previous Assemblies have made upon the subject of temperance, and by renewedly calling the attention of our people to this important subject, and urging them to adopt all scriptural measures to suppress the vice of intemperance.

The report was adopted.

Overture No. 21, from the Presbytery of Baltimore respecting Foreign Missions.

The Committee recommends the reference of the overture to the Board of Foreign Missions.

The report was adopted.

Overture No. 22, in reference to the American Colonization Society. The Committee recommends the following minute:

Resolved, That the success of the efforts of the American Colonization Society to establish a Christian colony of coloured people from the United States, on the Western coast of Africa, fully indicates the practicability and philanthropy of the enterprise, and calls for devout thankfulness to God.

Resolved, That a cause which has done so much to give Christian civilization to a continent, and nationality to a race, is worthy of the continued confidence and support of our churches.

Resolved, That the desires expressed by thousands of the Freedmen to emigrate to Liberia, are manifest indications that renewed efforts should be made to enable the Society to prosecute its noble work.

The report was adopted.

Overture No. 23, from W. T. Hendren, Commissioner to this Assembly from the Presbytery of Chippewa, respecting the use of tobacco by students in our Theological Seminaries.

The Committee recommends the reference of the subject to the consideration of the Directors and Professors of our Theological Seminaries.

The report was adopted.

Overture No. 24, from W. A. Starrett and others, Commissioners in the Assembly, asking for the formation of a new Presbytery in the Territory of Colorado.

The Committee recommends the adoption of the following order:

1. The Rev. A. Y. Moore, of the Presbytery of Lake, the Rev. A. R. Day, of the Presbytery of Dane, and the Rev. Charles M. Campbell, of the Presbytery of Allegheny City, together with the churches at Denver and Boulder City, and as many other churches as may be found in the Territory of Colorado, are hereby erected into a Presbytery to be called the Presbytery of Colorado.

2. The said Presbytery is directed to meet in Denver City on the first Thursday in September next, at 7 P. M., and the oldest minister present shall open the Presbytery with a sermon, and preside until a new Moderator shall be chosen.

3. This Presbytery shall be a part of the Synod of Kansas, and the Synod shall describe the geographical boundaries therefor.

The report was adopted.

Overture No. 25. A memorial from a Presbyterian Union Convention, held at Indiana, Pa., on the subject of organic union among the various branches of Presbyterians.

The Committee recommends that the memorial be referred to the Committee of Five, already ordered on the proceedings of the Philadelphia Convention.

The report was adopted.

Overture No. 26, from the ruling elders of the church in Newport, Ky., Presbytery of Ebenezer, Synod of Kentucky, asking to be transferred to the Presbytery of Cincinnati, Synod of Cincinnati.

The Presbytery of Ebenezer and the Synod of Kentucky not having been consulted on this subject, the Committee recommends that the Assembly take no action thereupon.

The report was adopted.

Overture No. 27. A request from the Rev. D. F. McFarland, for the formation of a new Presbytery.

The Committee recommends the following action:

1. In case Mr. James M. Roberts shall be ordained to the work of an evangelist to labour among the Indians of New Mexico, and shall proceed to his field of labour, then, and in that case, the Rev. D. F. McFarland, of the Presbytery of Palestine, the Rev. John M. Shultz, of the Presbytery of Lake, with the aforesaid J. M. Roberts, ministers, and such churches as may be found in New Mexico, are authorized to form a new Presbytery to be called the Presbytery of Santa Fé, and the said Presbytery shall meet in Santa Fé, on the call of the Rev. Mr. McFarland, who shall preach the opening sermon, and preside until a new Moderator be chosen.

2. The Presbytery, if organized, shall form a part of the Synod of Kansas, and that Synod shall establish the boundaries of the new Presbytery.

The report was adopted.

Overture No. 28, from ruling elder George Junkin.

The Committee recommends the adoption of the following:

That the Presbyteries be required to see that the candidates for licensure be well versed in the Catechism, and well furnished with Scriptural proof texts.

The report was adopted.

Overture No. 29, from W. Maynard, Presbytery of Plainfield, respecting the tenure of the office of ruling elder.

The Committee is informed that the subject of this overture is directly involved in a judicial case, which has been referred to the next Assembly; and that for this reason, it is inexpedient to take any action on the subject at this time.

On motion, this overture and the whole subject were laid upon the table.

Dr. R. J. Breckinridge, Chairman of the Committee on the licensure and ordination of coloured men, stated that for reasons given, it was inexpedient to report on this subject at present, and on motion the Committee was discharged.

The Stated Clerk reported to the General Assembly that the injunction of the last General Assembly upon "all the Presbyteries within our bounds to ascertain the number of unbaptized children, whose parents are members of our communion," and report to this Assembly, has not been obeyed by a vast majority of the Presbyteries. Only the following nine have complied, viz., Benicia, Connecticut, Donegal, Elizabethtown, Oxford, Passaic, Rock River, Saltsburg, and Washington. Even the reports from these Presbyteries are mostly partial and indefinite. Not half the churches belonging to them have rendered exact compliance. The only specification of results which they enable us to make is, that in forty-three churches there are three hundred and two unbaptized children, whose parents, one or both, are members in full communion; being about seven to each particular church. It was Resolved, That this Assembly enjoin upon all Presbyteries which have been remiss in this regard to make return to the next General Assembly.

The report of the Committee on Systematic Benevolence was taken from the docket. The Rev. George Hill moved a a substitute for the third resolution, which was adopted. The 4th and 5th resolutions were stricken out, and the whole paper, as thus amended, was adopted. It is as follows:

The Committee on Systematic Benevolence submits, for the consideration of the Assembly, the following report, the facts of which are derived principally from the Annual Reports of the various Boards, as compared with the last printed Minutes of the General Assembly.

The whole amount received by the Board of Domestic Missions, during the year was $135,272.77—an average of $4665 per Synod—of $967 per Presbytery, and of $117 for each contributing church. The receipts for this Board were $16,132 more than those of the last year. Fourteen hundred and fifty-nine churches made no contributions to this object, during the year.

The Board of Foreign Missions received $285,690; forty-five thousand dollars of which was from the children of the church; making an average of $9852 to each Synod; of $2037 to each Presbytery; and $161 to each church. The receipts of this Board were $31,000 more than last year. The debt against the Board is $27,139. Eight hundred and thirty-nine churches made no contribution to this object during the year.

The Board of Education received $43,365, an increase of $1644 over the receipts of last year—making an average of $1496 dollars per Synod, and $310 per Presbytery.

The Board of Church Extension received during the year, $50,317, from 948 churches, this being 119 churches more than in the preceding year, and $5264 more than were contributed during that year. The amount received by the Board makes an average of $1735 per Synod; of $358 per Presbytery, and of $53 per church. Sixteen hundred and seventy-four churches made no contributions to this Board during the year.

The Board of Publication received for Colportage, $29,006 from 758 churches, leaving 1864 churches which have not contributed to this object during the year. The average amount is $1000 per Synod, $208 per Presbytery, and $39 per church.

The Committee on Freedmen have received $28,354.83, from 693 churches, leaving 1929 churches which have not made contributions to this object during the year. The amount received averages $978 per Synod, $202 per Presbytery, and $41 per church.

The Disabled Ministers' Fund received $30,561, a gain of $3088 over the receipts of last year. The amount received makes an average of $1054 per Synod, of $219 per Presbytery, and of $12 per church.

The contributions to all the Boards, amounting to $602,567, make an average of $20,728 per Synod, of $4305 per Presbytery, of $230 per church, and of $2.44 per member in communion.

From the foregoing statements, it appears that the contributions to all the Boards have been greater than during the previous year. Yet they are not sufficient to meet the demands made by the openings of Providence. Your Committee, therefore, recommends the adoption of the following resolutions:

1st. That the making of benevolent contributions, in a devout manner, is an act of religious worship, acceptable to God, and flows from a Christian grace, which ought to be cultivated.

2d. That it is the imperative duty of all pastors and stated supplies to instruct the people in the principles of Christian liberality, as they are found in the sacred Scriptures.

3d. That the Presbyteries be directed to call their rolls at the fall meeting of each year, to ascertain whether a collection has been taken up in each church under their care for each of the benevolent schemes of the General Assembly, and if it shall appear that any church has failed to make contributions to any of these objects, such delinquency shall be noticed in the minutes, and the pastor and session shall be enjoined to attend faithfully to the matter in the future.

4th. That the children should be trained to habits of Christian liberality; and that the pastors and sessions of the churches should give them opportunities for making their contributions to the various objects of benevolence, at such times and in such ways as they may see proper.

5th. That the Church be urged to make more liberal contributions, in order to enable the various Boards to enlarge their operations, and particularly to enable the Board of Foreign Missions to liquidate the debt resting upon it.

The Rev. William T. Carr moved the following, which was adopted:

Resolved, That in view of the peculiar condition of the missions among the Freedmen, the Synod of Atlantic and the Presbyteries under its care be enjoined to use great caution in licensing and ordaining coloured men to the gospel ministry.

The Assembly then adjourned, after spending half an hour in devotional exercises.

TUESDAY AFTERNOON, 3½ o'clock.

The Assembly was opened with prayer by Dr. E. P. Humphrey.

The Moderator announced the following Committees:

To inform the Rev. Nathaniel West, D. D., of his election to a Professorship in Danville Theological Seminary, the Rev. E. P. Humphrey, D.D., the Rev. G. J. Reed, and ruling elder B. F. Avery.

To inform the Rev. William M. Blackburn of his election to a Professorship in the Theological Seminary of the Northwest, the Rev. L. J. Halsey, D. D., the Rev. William B. Truax, and ruling elder Charles Crosby.

On motion of the Rev. J. Agnew Crawford, it was Resolved, That Presbyteries be directed to use, as fully as possible in supplying their vacancies, the unsettled ministers and licentiates under their care.

The Rev. W. S. Eagleson offered the following, which was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the thanks of this Assembly be tendered to the Pastor, Session, and Trustees of this Church, and to the Committee of Entertainment for their kind attentions to the comfort and enjoyment of the members of the Assembly, and to all the families and citizens of Albany who have shown hospitality to those who have been in attendance upon the Assembly; and also to the papers of this city, and their reporters, for faithful reports of the proceedings of the Assembly—this resolution to be published in the daily papers.

The members of the Committee appointed to proceed to Harrisburgh, Pa., and to carry to the General Assembly sitting there, the action of this Assembly on Re-union, reported severally and verbally in reference to their visit and reception there, and afterwards reported more fully in writing through Dr. C. C. Beatty, its Chairman, as follows:

The Committee reports that agreeably to instructions, its members proceeded, as soon as possible, to lay personally before the Assembly of the other branch, your action in regard to the first item of the Basis of Reunion. They travelled with all diligence, but could not reach Harrisburgh, without infringing on the Lord's day, until Monday afternoon. We found that Assembly upon the eve of adjournment, but they received us with great cordiality, suspended their business to hear our statements, and listened with much interest and courtesy to our reasons for desiring a change in the first article. They were evidently gratified at our explanations, and impressed by them, and if we understood the feeling of that Assembly, seemed generally disposed to accede to our proposition, and concur in the amendment.

But a large number of their members had left before hearing of our action. It was evident upon a vote, that even had they been unanimous—which was not entirely the case—two-thirds were not present to authorize a reconsideration; and all that could be done was to state this fact, in the form of the following minute, reported by their Committee, and adopted by their Assembly:

Resolved, That as our Assembly is on the eve of adjournment and greatly reduced in numbers, we regret that no action can now be had upon this subject, as it cannot, according to our rules, be reconsidered and amended at the present sessions of the Assembly; nor can the proposed amendment be now sent to our Presbyteries in such a form that its adoption would be of any legal effect.

We believe that our visit was productive of good, as it tended to remove difficulties and establish confidence: especially as, they having received the communication, it was best to explain to them the motives and reasons by which you were moved, and which seemed thus to impress them favourably, though no action could be had by them upon it. Having thus discharged our duty, we returned immediately, and now render this as our report.

On motion of the Rev. Alexander McLean, the report was accepted and the Committee discharged.

The Rev. L. J. Halsey, D. D., chairman, presented the Narrative of the State of Religion, which was read, adopted, and ordered to be printed in the Appendix to the Minutes.

The Committee to prepare an answer to the Protest of Dr. E. P. Humphrey and others, reported an answer, which was read and adopted, and ordered to be entered on the Minutes. The Protest and Answer are as follows:

PROTEST.

The undersigned respectfully request that the following protest be entered upon the Minutes of the Assembly.

We do not now protest against the re-union of the two branches of our Church; nor against the measures inaugurated for the accomplishment of that object, but simply against the Terms of Union approved by the Assembly, and its action in relation to them.

The first article of the plan proposes that "the Re-union shall be effected on the doctrinal and ecclesiastical basis of our common standards." . . . "it being understood that various methods of viewing, stating, explaining, and illustrating the doctrines of the Confession, which do not impair the integrity of the Reformed or Calvinistic system, are to be freely allowed in the united church as they have been hitherto allowed in the separate churches."

Under this term of the compact, we shall be bound to allow all those forms of doctrine which the New-school Church has hitherto allowed.

This interpretation, the article in question will, in our judgment, fairly admit, it is so interpreted by the other party to the contract; and it is so understood by the public.

We protest against its adoption, first, because it utterly unsettles our standard of doctrine. That standard ceases to be the system of doctrine contained in our Confession, but that system as interpreted by the New-school Church in their past history. Secondly, because that article binds us to approve of doctrines which our General Assembly has formally condemned.

We distinctly disavow any intention of imputing error in doctrine to the mass of our New-school brethren. With equal distinctness and earnestness we disavow any impeachment of their sincerity or integrity. We only say that they regard as consistent with our standards, forms of doctrine which our branch of the Church has officially, earnestly, and constantly condemned. What those are, may be learned by a reference to the Minutes of the Assembly of 1837, by which they were condemned.

Some of the more important of the errors there specified or implied are:

1. The denial of original righteousness. It is assumed that moral character presupposes moral conduct, and therefore, that there can be no moral character prior to moral action; consequently it cannot be true that man was created after the image of God, in knowledge, righteousness, and holiness.

2. As it regards our relation to our first parents, it is denied that there was any covenant made with Adam; that all mankind descending from him by ordinary generation, sinned in him, and fell with him in his first transgression. On the contrary, it is maintained that every man stands or falls for himself.

3. As to original sin, while it may be admitted that men are depraved by nature, and come into the world with a bias to sin, it is denied that there is anything of the nature of sin, or any desert of condemnation, until there is the personal and voluntary violation of known law. On this subject our standards teach, in accordance with the Scriptures, and with the faith of every historical church in Christendom, that the inherent, hereditary corruption of nature derived from Adam is truly and properly sin. This great doctrine is the foundation of the whole plan of redemption, and is professed and symbolized in every act of infant baptism.

4. In reference to the inability of sinners, it is taught that the distinction between moral, natural, and gracious ability is worthless. Inability of any kind is inconsistent with moral obligation.

5. It is taught that regeneration is the sinner's own act. It consists either in the change of his governing purpose, or in the choice of God, instead of the world, as the source of happiness. It is not the act of God, because God cannot effectually control the acts of free agents. He cannot prevent sin, or the present amount of sin, in a moral system. He can enlighten, persuade, and remonstrate; he can use all the means of moral suasion; but he cannot efficaciously or certainly determine the will. He, in fact, does all he can do (consistently with their liberty), to convert all who hear the gospel. This is in direct contradiction to the Scriptures and to our standards, which teach that regeneration is effected by the mighty power of God, analogous to the power which he wrought in Christ, when he raised him from the dead, and therefore, that the action of the spirit in regeneration is sovereign, certainly efficacious, and irresistible.

6. Election to life is not founded on the mere good pleasure of God. He elects those whom he foresees he can persuade to repent and believe.

7. While it is admitted that the work of Christ may be called a satisfaction to the law and justice of God, if by justice we understand a benevolent regard to the intents of his moral government, it is denied that it was a satisfaction to distributive or vindicatory justice. It is denied that his sufferings were penal, or vicarious, in the established sense of that word, securing the salvation of none, but simply rendering the salvation of some possible. They were not judicially inflicted, so that those to whom the merit of his obedience and death is imputed, are free from the demands of justice and become righteous in the sight of the law.

8. Justification, according to our standards, is an act of God's free grace, wherein he pardons all our sins, and accepts us as righteous in his sight, only for the righteousness of Christ imputed to us and received by faith alone. This is denied. In what is called justification, nothing more occurs than when the executive pardons a criminal, and that criminal is restored to his civil rights. He is not declared just. There is no imputation to him of righteousness. There is no pretence that he has satisfied the demands of the law. This error, therefore, involves the denial of the essential idea of justification as presented in our standards.

We are far from believing or insinuating that these doctrines are generally approved by the New-School Church. We have no doubt they are repudiated by many in that Church, as sincerely as they are by us. But they are allowed by them, as consistent with the system of doctrine contained in our Confession. This fact is notorious. It is confessed and avowed. These doctrines have been for years, matter of public discussion. They have been taught in some of the Theological Seminaries of our land. Students from those Seminaries, professing these errors, are freely admitted into the New-School Presbyteries. Men of the highest eminence in the other branch of the Church, teach them publicly from the pulpit and the press. They are contained, more or less of them, and some of the most serious, in books and tracts issued by the Publication Committee of the New-School body. They are openly avowed in some of the periodicals sustained by the ministers of that Church, and apologized for by others. These are not matters of speculation belonging to the Schools, but concern doctrines taught in the catechism, and presumed to be known even by the children of the church.

There are other points in the proposed terms of union, to which we have strong objection, which, out of regard to the pressure on the time of the Assembly, we abstain from mentioning. There are two provisions of the plan, however, which we cannot overlook. In the eighth article it is provided, that publications of the New-School Committee of Publication "shall continue to be issued as at present," until otherwise ordered.

Although the whole Church cannot be justly held responsible for all the works issued by its Board, it becomes thus responsible when it deliberately sanctions their publication. Believing, as we do, that there are books published by the New-School Committee, containing doctrines inconsistent with our Confession, we are constrained to protest against the sanction given to their publication.

Again, in article fourth, it is provided that, "no rule or precedent, which does not stand approved by both bodies, shall be considered of any authority, until re-established in the united body, except in so far as such rule or precedent may affect the rights of property founded thereon." This unsettles to an indefinite degree our past acts and deliverances. It is well known as one of the characteristic differences between the two bodies, that the one holds a much higher doctrine as to the prerogatives of church judicatories, than the other. The Congregational element, which, from the beginning, has so largely pervaded the New-School branch, has naturally led our brethren in that branch to resist, in many cases, the exercise of powers which Old-School men believe to belong, by Divine right, to the courts of the Church, and especially to the General Assembly. This being the case, we know not to what extent we are renouncing our Presbyterian principles in the adoption of that article.

We respectfully protest not only against the terms of union as they have been adopted by this house, but also against the action of the Assembly in regard to them.

In our view the parties to this negotiation for re-union are the two General Assemblies. They were to endeavour to agree on the terms of union, and when agreed, to send them down to their respective Presbyteries. It cannot be supposed that our General Assembly intended so to tie its own hands, or so to strip itself of its most important prerogatives, as to commit to any ten or fifteen men the work of deciding on what terms a union, confessedly so momentous in its consequences, should be consummated; reserving to the Assembly the poor prerogative of adopting those terms as a whole, or of rejecting them as a whole. The duty of the Joint Committee, in our judgment, was simply to confer among themselves as to the terms of union, and when agreed, to refer them to the two Assemblies for those bodies to consider, to modify, to adopt some and not others, or to approve or reject the whole. In this way a basis mutually acceptable might have been intelligently adopted. Now we are in the dark. These terms admit of a two-fold construction. This Assembly may, and probably does, put one interpretation upon them; and the New-School Assembly an opposite one. Thus, if this plan be carried through, we shall be hurried into a union with cross purposes, which must inevitably result in the renewal of our former troubles.

Instead of the Assembly taking this view of the case, no modification of the proposed terms was allowed. Amendment after amendment, to the number of six or eight, was summarily laid on the table without debate. These amendments were not offered in a factious spirit, or with the design of preventing Re-union, but with the honest purpose of putting the terms into a form in which, with a good conscience, they could be adopted by the Presbyteries which we represent.

We regard this as a wrong done to the ministry, and a much more serious wrong to the churches.

Under this head we specially protest against the laying the first amendment offered by the Rev. Dr. Humphrey upon the table without consideration. That amendment simply provided for fidelity to our former testimony against false doctrines. The action of the Assembly, however intended, we regard as a virtual renunciation of our former status, and as committing the Church, contrary to the Constitution which is and must continue to be binding on our conscience, to recognize as orthodox the errors which it has hitherto condemned.

Grateful to God for the Christian spirit which, notwithstanding our conscientious differences, has characterized our deliberations, we submit, with all deference, this our protest to the judgment of the Asssembly and of the churches.

ANSWER TO THE PROTEST.

In reply to the Protest against its action on the Terms of Union, the Assembly observes:

The authors of the Protest first speak of a series of doctrinal errors and heresies, which may be concisely stated as follows: (1.) There is no moral character in man prior to moral action, and therefore man was not created holy. (2.) There was no covenant made with Adam, his posterity did not fall with him, and every man stands or falls for himself. (3.) Original sin is not truly and properly sin bringing condemnation, but only an innocent tendency leading to actual transgression. (4.) Inability of any and every kind is inconsistent with moral obligation. (5.) Regeneration is the sinner's own act, and consists in the change of his governing purpose. (6.) God cannot control the acts of free agents, and therefore cannot prevent sin in a moral system. (7.) Election is founded upon God's foreknowledge that the sinner will repent and believe. (8.) The sufferings of Christ are not penal, and do not satisfy retributive justice. (9.) Justification is pardon merely, and does not include restoration to favour and acceptance as righteous.

These doctrinal errors the authors of the Protest are careful to say are repudiated by the great mass of the New-school Church. They say that "they are far from believing or insinuating that these doctrines are generally approved by the New-school Church"—that "they do not impute these errors to a majority, or to any definite proportion of our New-school brethren."

The charge that is made in this Protest, and the only charge made in this reference is, that while the other branch of the Presbyterian Church repudiate these doctrines for themselves, they at the same time hold that they are consistent with the Calvinism of the Confession of Faith. The authors of the protest allege that it is the judgment of the New-school body that a person can logically and consistently accept the Westminster symbol, and these nine or ten Pelagian and Arminian tenets, at one and the same time. This is the substance of their charge.

The Assembly pronounces this allegation to be without foundation, because:

1. Such a position, if taken by the New-school Church, or by any church whatsoever, would simply be self-stultifying and absurd. That a great religious denomination, which from the beginning of its organization in 1837, down to the present time, has held up the Westminster Confession as its symbol, has compelled every one of its ministers and elders to subscribe to that symbol, and has received its membership into church communion upon professing faith in the doctrines of that symbol; that an ecclesiastical body which has thus stood before the other churches of this and other lands as a Calvinistic body, and has been reckoned and recognized as such, should at the same time be jealous in behalf of the distinguishing doctrines of Pelagianism and Arminianism, and insist that these latter are consistent with the former, and are to be tolerated in a Calvinistic body, is too much for human belief. The entire history of the Church does not present such a phenomenon as that of a denomination adopting, before the world, a definite type of doctrine, and at the same time claiming that exactly the contrary type of doctrine is compatible with it, and must be tolerated within its communion. If the New-school Church are really doing what the signers of this Protest allege they are, then their position before the churches and the world would be as absurd as would have been the position of the Nicene Church if, at the very time that it adopted and defended the Trinitarianism of Athanasius, it had insisted that the tenets of Arius or those of the Humanitarians were consistent with those of the great father of orthodoxy, and must be allowed in the catholic Church. The human mind, even in its natural condition, never did work in this manner, and never will; and still less will the human mind, when renewed and sanctified by divine grace, be guilty of such a palpable inconsistency.

2. These very errors, charged by the signers of the Protest as allowed by the New-school Presbyterians, have already been distinctly repudiated by them. The Auburn Convention held in 1837, under the influence and doctrinal guidance of that excellent and sound divine, the late Dr. Richards, specified sixteen doctrinal errors, which contain the very same latitudinarian and heretical tenets mentioned in the Protest, rejected them in toto, and set over against them sixteen "true doctrines," which embrace all the fundamentals of the Calvinistic creed. This Assembly regards the "Auburn declaration" as an authoritative statement of the New-school type of Calvinism, and as indicating how far they desire to go, and how much liberty they wish in regard to what the terms of union call "the various modes of explaining, illustrating, and stating" the Calvinistic faith. We believe that a large number of our New-school brethren would prefer the modes of "explaining and illustrating" the tenets of Calvinism which are employed by the authors of this Protest themselves, and the other portion of the body claim only that degree of variation from these modes, which would be represented by the theology of Richards and the Auburn Declaration.

3. The Assembly is fully satisfied that any instances of laxity of doctrine among the New-school which have been exhibited, are exceptional cases, and that the great body of the other Church sincerely and firmly stand upon the basis of our common standards. The many disclaimers of the unsound views charged, and declarations that the standards are received as by us, which have been made by distinguished and representative men, and in the periodicals of the New-school Church, leave no room to doubt that the interests of sound doctrine will be safe in the united church.

4. That the allegation of this Protest is unfounded is proven by the fact that the New-school Church have adopted, by a unanimous vote, the Basis of Doctrine presented by the Joint Committee. Whatever may be the preferences and opinions of individuals respecting particular clauses in the first article in this basis, this General Assembly holds and affirms that it not only commits, but binds any ecclesiastical body that should receive it to pure and genuine Calvinism. It will be so understood by all the world. For it expressly lays down the Westminster symbol as the doctrinal platform, and expressly requires that no doctrine shall be taught that is not Calvinistic in the old, ancestral, "historical" meaning of this term, or that "impairs the integrity" of the Calvinistic system. We affirm that there is not a man upon the globe, possessed of a sane mind, and acquainted with the subject of doctrine, who would assert that the list of errors and heresies mentioned by the signers of this Protest is "Calvinistic" in the accepted and historical signification of the term, or that their reception would not impair the integrity of the Calvinistic system.

And it must be distinctly observed that if any doctrines had been hitherto allowed by the New-school body which "impair the integrity of the Calvinistic system," they are not to be allowed in the united church under the terms of union. Such doctrines are condemned, and any one who may teach them will be subject to discipline. It is the testimony of some of the protesters themselves that the great body of the New-school are sound in doctrine; our own body being the large majority in the union, when fortified by the accession of the great body of sound men in the other, will establish and confirm the testimony of the Church to the truth; will preserve it, by God's help, from error, and maintain intact, while it extends, the purifying and saving power of our venerated Confession.

5. The errors and heresies alleged in the Protest are combated and refuted in the Theological Seminaries of the New-school.

Such Seminaries in any denomination are important exponents of its doctrinal position and character. The Assembly knows that in the three Seminaries of our New-school brethren, Westminster Calvinism is fully and firmly taught. The Professors in these are obliged to subscribe the Westminster Confession, and heretical teaching throws the Professor out of his chair by the very constitution of these Seminaries. The Assembly notices this point, particularly, because the authors of the Protest assert that the doctrinal errors specified by them "have been taught in some of the Theological Seminaries of our land." This is not the proper manner in which to affix so grave and damaging a stigma upon our New-school Presbyterian brethren. The authors of this Protest ought to have made this allegation, not in the way of insinuation, but by distinct assertion and proof. Many things are "taught in the Theological Seminaries of our land," which are not taught in the Presbyterian Seminaries of the land, either New-school or Old.

6. The Protest alleges it to be a "notorious fact" that the New-school Church insists that the heresies mentioned are compatible with Calvinism. If the alleged fact had been so "notorious," as the Protest affirms, it would certainly have been known to this Assembly, and would have made it simply impossible to have secured for the Basis of the Joint Committee, or for any other conceivable basis, any favourable consideration. The idea of re-union would not have been entertained for a moment.

Furthermore, this Assembly emphatically holds up to the Church and to the world, that it receives into its ministry and membership those who adopt "the system of doctrine taught in our Confession," and that it never has held, and does not now hold, that its ministers or members shall "view, state, or explain" that system in any other than the words of the Holy Scriptures and our standards; and to show that this is the sentiment not only of the Assembly, but of the protesters themselves also, the Assembly here cites the testimony of one of the signers of the Protest, whose words have been referred to in the discussions just closed. Says Dr. Hodge:

"If a man comes to us, and he adopts 'the system of doctrine' taught in our Confession, we have a right to ask him, 'Do you believe there are three persons in the Godhead—the Father, the Son, and the Holy Ghost—and that these three are one God, the same in substance, equal in power and glory?' If he says, Yes, we are satisfied. We do not call upon him to explain how three persons are one God, or to determine what relations in the awful mysteries of the Godhead are indicated by the terms Father, Son, and Holy Ghost. If we ask, Do you believe that 'God created man male and female, after his own image, in knowledge, righteousness and holiness, with dominion over the creatures?' and he answers, Yes, we are satisfied. If he says he believes that 'the covenant being made with Adam, not only for himself, but for his posterity, all mankind descending from him by ordinary generation, sinned in him, and fell with him, in his first transgression,' we are satisfied. If he says that he believes that 'the sinfulness of that estate whereinto man fell consists in the guilt of Adam's first sin, the want of original righteousness, and the corruption of his whole nature, which is commonly called original sin, together with all actual transgressions which proceed from it,' we are satisfied. If he says, 'Christ executes the office of a priest in his once offering himself a sacrifice to satisfy Divine justice, and reconcile us to God, and in making continual intercession for us;' we are satisfied. If he says he believes justification to be 'an act of God's free grace, wherein He pardoneth all our sins, and accepteth us as righteous in his sight, only for the righteousness of Christ imputed to us, and received by faith alone,' we are satisfied. Is not this what is meant when a man says he adopts our 'system of doctrine?' Is not this—nothing more and nothing less—that which we are authorized and bound to require? God grant that we may unite on terms so simple, so reasonable, and, I must hope, so satisfactory to every sincere, humble, Christian brother."—(Remarks of the Rev. Charles Hodge, D. D., in the Philadelphia Convention).

The Assembly cannot enlarge the basis beyond the platform of God's truth as stated in our standards, and it would not narrow the basis by taking one tittle from the form of sound words therein contained. We declare our willingness to unite with all those who profess their faith in the Lord Jesus Christ, and their adoption of "the Confession of Faith and Form of Government" of our beloved Church.

The protesters object to the eighth item of the Basis, because it makes the united Church responsible for the publications of the New-School Committee. This is a misapprehension. The publications of the New-school Committee and our Board are to be issued as now, with the imprint of each, until the new Board shall prepare a new catalogue, for which alone the united church will be responsible.

Again, the protesters object to the fourth article as unsettling past acts of our Church. This is a matter of necessity where the action of the two bodies differs. It is believed, however, that except in the case of the imperative clause of the examination rule of 1837, no important difference can be found. If it is otherwise, the united church is the proper body to establish its own usages. We do not believe that our brethren of the New-school Church have now any sympathy with Congregational views of government, or any objection to usages that are strictly Presbyterian.

The various amendments proposed by the protesters were laid on the table, not because they were contrary to the sentiment of the Assembly, but because, under the circumstances, it was not possible to engraft them upon the terms of the union, and, in the judgment of the Assembly, were not essential to the integrity of the Calvinistic basis on which the union is to be effected.

On motion the thanks of the Assembly were also returned to the young gentlemen who have so faithfully served the body as pages.

It was then, on motion of Dr. E. P. Humphrey,

Resolved, That this General Assembly be now dissolved; and that another Assembly, chosen in like manner, be required to meet in the Brick

NARRATIVE OF THE STATE OF RELIGION.

ADOPTED BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH IN THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, AT ITS SESSION IN ALBANY, N. Y., MAY, A. D. 1868, AND ADDRESSED TO THE CHURCHES UNDER ITS CARE.

THE Committee appointed by the Assembly to prepare a Narrative on the State of Religion in the Presbyterian Church, during the past year, beg leave to submit the following report:

In reviewing the history of the year just closed, as contained in the annual reports of the Presbyteries, the General Assembly finds abundant cause for gratitude to the great Head of the Church, for the manifest tokens of His presence and blessing. It is a history full of the proofs of God's goodness and grace, in hearing the prayers, and rewarding the labours of his servants, giving success to the work of the ministry, and crowning the efforts of his people to extend the gospel, with the seal of his Divine favour. The tidings of peace and prosperity, of growth and expansion, which come to us from all parts of our wide-spread field, should fill all hearts with thankfulness and joy. It has been pre-eminently one of the years of the right hand of the Most High; and it becomes us to offer the sacrifice of praise, as we call to remembrance, and rehearse in this brief address to our churches, some of the wonderful things which God has wrought.

We have received reports from ninety-three Presbyteries. In about one half of these, the churches have been visited by revivals of religion, more or less extensive, marked by the presence and power of God's Spirit, quickening his people to newness of life, and converting a multitude of souls. Among the Presbyteries which have been thus signally visited and refreshed with seasons of revival, the following may be named—Indianapolis, Sangamon, Rock River, Erie, Allegheny, West Jersey, Luzerne, Bureau, Missouri, West Virginia, Steubenville, New York Second, Lake, Crawfordsville, Muncie, Cincinnati, Lafayette, Philadelphia, Ohio, Kaskaskia, New Lisbon.

In many other Presbyteries not named in this list, there have been seasons of awakening and increased interest, in which the means of grace have been greatly blessed, and large accessions made from time to time to the membership of the church. Most of the Presbyteries, indeed, report an increase of members in their churches, and many have been blessed with what they denominate a continual revival of religion. The gospel has been preached with power, the stated means of grace attended by the people with increasing interest, and the hearts of Christians greatly encouraged by the growth of their churches, and the signal tokens of the Divine favour.

The year has been marked as one of general external prosperity, exhibited in the organization of new churches; the erection of many new houses of worship and parsonages; the liquidation of long-standing church debts; in increased liberality in the support of the ministry; and in the contribution of large sums for other congregational and charitable purposes.

This activity has been manifested in carrying the gospel to many destitute regions, and especially in increased efforts for the evangelization of the neglected masses in our cities and larger towns, by means of mission schools and chapels. This is one of the strikingly marked and hopeful aspects of the period through which the church is now passing. These efforts have already resulted, in some cases, in the planting of new churches. The ministry and the membership of the churches in many places seem to be thoroughly awake to this good work, especially the younger portion, and great good has already been accomplished.

The reports from almost all the Presbyteries speak in the most encouraging terms of the efforts steadily made for the instruction of our children and youth in Sabbath-schools, Bible, and catechetical classes. This is evidently one of the great interests to which the people of God are devoting, more and more, their time and attention. The narratives from the Presbyteries also give the most cheering accounts of the blessing of God upon these labours, resulting in the conversion of large numbers from the ranks of the young.

While God's distinguishing grace has thus been manifested towards the young, the reports make special mention of many heads of families, and even of some far advanced in years, being gathered into the kingdom.

It is interesting to notice that many of the conversions, both of the aged and the young, seemed to be in answer to special prayer and special effort made in their behalf by God's faithful people. The Week of Prayer was very generally observed in our churches, and in very many cases was followed by protracted services, resulting frequently in many hopeful conversions and delightful revivals of religion.

The reports further show a greatly increased interest in the various benevolent operations of the Church, manifesting itself in systematic contributions to the several Boards, and in some instances in large donations for educational, religious, and charitable objects. A new and pleasing feature in this department of the Church's efforts is to be seen in the growing interest of the children of the Sabbath-Schools in the cause of Christian beneficence, especially in the large amount contributed by them for the relief of the Board of Foreign Missions.

Another feature of great interest to all our churches, brought to view in the reports of Presbyteries in the Southern field, is the degree of encouragement experienced in our efforts for the evangelization of the coloured race. While our missionaries have met with many trials and discouragements in their work, they have also found much to cheer their hearts and strengthen their faith in the eagerness of this people to hear the gospel and acquire an education. Their schools and places of worship in many instances have been filled to overflowing with their children and people, all anxious to receive instruction. The Presbytery of Catawba, for example, makes mention that there are upwards of two thousand persons connected with their several congregations, and seventeen hundred children in their Sabbath-Schools.

In this connection we may mention an interesting fact reported by the Presbytery of New Castle, that the Divine blessing has rested during the year upon the Lincoln University, at which one hundred young men of this race are now in a process of education for the gospel ministry.

From the Foreign field we have reports from five Presbyteries, viz., Ningpo, Shantung, Siam, West Africa, and Rio Janeiro. These all report a steady and encouraging progress in the work of missions. Most of the churches have been blest with revival influences, hopeful conversions from heathenism, and some important accessions to their membership; some of the converts being over seventy years of age. Among the items of special interest reported by the Ningpo Presbytery is that a proclamation which affects the interests of Christianity throughout the empire has been issued by the Chinese government, permitting the gospel to be preached in every place without let or hindrance, and forbidding that those who profess the Christian religion shall be molested on that account. In all these stations the work of the Lord seems to be making steady advancement under the labours of our faithful missionaries.

In closing this report we must not omit to mention that with all these signs of progress and prosperity, the reports from our home field make mention of many things calling for humiliation, watchfulness, and prayer on the part of the Church. Many of them lament the prevalence of covetousness and a worldly spirit among professing Christians, the desecration of the Sabbath, profanation of God's name, and wide-spread intemperance in the community, while pestilent errors and destructive heresies, arising from the presence of Infidelity and Popery, oppose the progress of the truth, and seduce the unwary into paths of disobedience and ruin. Still, after surveying the whole field, we find much in the condition and prospects of our Church to encourage us. They that are for us are more than they that are against us. Let the Church arise, gird on her whole strength, and in God's name go forward, with renewed zeal and energy, in the great work of evangelizing our lost and ruined world. In due season we shall reap a glorious harvest, if we faint not.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON RE-UNION.

The Committee appointed by the General Assembly of 1866, to confer with a similar Committee of the other Assembly, in regard to the Re-union of the two Branches of the Presbyterian Church; and continued by the Assembly of 1867, with directions and instructions to coöperate with the other Committee in furtherance of the object, and "report to the General Assemblies of 1868 any modification of the terms of Union which might seem desirable to the Joint Committee in view of any new light that may have been received during the year"—would now respectfully report:

That the two Committees again assembled in joint meeting, in the city of Philadelphia, on Wednesday A. M., the 11th of March, 1868, and continued in conference reviewing the terms of Union, with the further light which they had received, till Saturday afternoon, the 14th, when, having finished the important business with which they were intrusted, they finally adjourned.

Every member of these large Committees was present with the exception of Rev. Dr. Hitchcock, of Ohio, absent in Europe, Rev. Dr. Howard, of Pennsylvania, detained by severe illness, and Judge Strong of Missouri, prevented by unavoidable professional engagements. Rev. Dr. Patterson, of Illinois, arrived from a foreign voyage, after a long absence, in season to meet the Committee; but feeling himself obliged to leave for home on Thursday afternoon, did not participate in the final action. This large and patient attendance was a new indication of the deep interest, which is felt throughout the country in the subject under consideration, and also of the profound sense of responsibility on the part of the several members of the Joint Committee, charged to take action in a matter, which must affect extensively and permanently the interests of our country and the kingdom of our Lord Jesus Christ.

To our regret, the report expected from the Legal Advisers appointed to investigate questions of property and vested rights was not received, owing to the death of Mr. Daniel Lord, and the fact that Judges Strong and Sharswood had declined to act in the premises, because of their present official position on the Bench. After filling a vacancy by the appointment of Hon. William A. Porter, of Philadelphia, we requested the Legal Committee to meet as soon as practicable and prepare their report, which will be submitted by them directly to the Assemblies.

To affirm that all the meetings of the Joint Committee were distinguished, as heretofore, by Christian courtesy and kindness, would be but a faint expression of the truth. This sentiment of fraternal confidence and regard assumed such forms of expression, that all who participated in the conference will be sure to remember it, as one of the greatest and happiest privileges of their lives. This kindness of feeling, however, did not repress or modify the utmost frankness in the statement of difficulties, real and alleged, on either side. It ought to be stated distinctly, in justice to all the many interests and sections represented by these Committees, that there was not the least reserve in the expression of the objections, which had been urged in any quarter, against the proposed re-union. So frank and explicit was this utterance, that at times it appeared as if honest differences of opinion would render success uncertain. But the effect of continued and candid conference was the increase of confidence, through the correction of misapprehensions and the removal of obstacles, so that the very clouds, which threatened to obscure the light, arranged themselves at last so as to reflect and increase what they could not hide. The prayers of many churches and Conventions, in different parts of the country, known to the Committee to be ascending to God in their behalf, were abundantly answered in the entire harmony and unanimity to which they eventually attained. By this unanimity it is not meant, that in every article and act of the Committee the preferences of each member were fully met; but that all were finally agreed, that the basis of Union now to be reported was, in the circumstances, the best that could be framed in the way of adjusting divers conflicting views and interests; and as such it was adopted, in the final vote, with entire unanimity, pledges of cordial support, and sincere thanks to Almighty God.

Your Committee are fully persuaded that, if the ministers, elders, and members, of both branches of the Church had been present at our recent conferences, seen what we saw, and heard what we heard, they would heartily join in the result which was reached by their representatives. With this belief the Committee have judged it expedient and proper, to accompany their report with such explanatory words, as may serve to convey to others the facts and motives which proved of such weight to themselves.

Your Committee were not at liberty to forget or overlook the premises upon which they received their appointment. The Resolution of the General Assembly (O. S.) in which this movement originated, expressed the "earnest desire" of that body for re-union at the earliest time consistent with agreement in doctrine, order, and polity, on the basis of our common standards and the prevalence of mutual confidence and love." The General Assembly, (N. S.,) in responding to this action by a similar vote, expressed "its earnest wish for re-union" on a similar basis.

This EARNEST DESIRE for union, as confessed by both bodies, is a fact which antedates the appointment of your Committee. They were not commissioned to inquire whether it existed, or to take measures to excite and promote it. The existence of this acknowledged sentiment was the basis upon which the two Committees were appointed. These premises assumed, the position occupied by the Joint Committee, and the point of view from which they should survey their work, were already decided by both Assemblies.

The desirableness of re-union, if it can be consummated on satisfactory terms, is not to be treated and put aside as a blind and imbecile impulse; it is the act and expression of Christian wisdom. The movement, thus inaugurated and advanced, was not made necessary by the condition or prospects of either of the bodies now in conference. Each is thoroughly organized, equipped, and prosperous. Neither needs the accession of the other for its own sake merely. The motives which impel to union are higher and greater than any which pertain to denominational advantage. They relate to the welfare of the whole country, and the kingdom of our Lord in all the earth. On this high ground, chosen for them in the providence of God, by the action of both Assemblies, the two Committees took their stand, inclined in advance, when any concessions were to be made, that the lesser preference should defer to the greater and the stronger.

The changes which have occurred in our own country and throughout the world, during the last thirty years—the period of our separation—arrest and compel attention. Within this time the original number of our States has been very nearly doubled. It was in the year 1837 that what is now the great and prosperous State of Michigan was admitted into the Union. Florida, Texas, Wisconsin, Iowa, California, Minnesota, Oregon, Kansas, Nevada, Nebraska, have followed in rapid succession; with numerous territories already organized, soon to take their places in the National Union. And all this vast domain is to be supplied with the means of education and the institutions of religion, as the only source and protection of our national life. The population crowding into this immense area is heterogeneous. Six millions of emigrants, representing various religions and nationalities, have arrived on our shores within the last thirty years; and four millions of slaves, recently enfranchised, demand Christian education. It is no secret that anti-Christian forces—Romanism, Ecclesiasticism, Rationalism, Infidelity, Materialism, and Paganism itself—assuming new vitality, are struggling for the ascendency. Christian forces should be combined and deployed, according to the new movements of their adversaries. It is no time for small and weak detachments, which may easily be defeated in detail. A lesson has been given us in recent years, as to the ease with which diversities of sentiment may be harmonized and combined in one purpose to maintain the national life. The time has come when minor motives should be merged in the magnanimous purpose, inspired both by patriotism and religion, to Christianize the whole country.

The necessity of a closer union among Christians of a common faith and order has come to be felt, in a new sense, by the members of our several churches. It cannot be denied, that there exists a widespread and earnest longing for more of visible unity among all classes of Christian people. This is especially noticeable among the most intelligent, active, and generous in our connection. Responding to the teachings and challenges of the pulpit, the laity in our large cities and towns have entered upon a new stage of Christian activity, demonstrating the possibility of practical union in the stewardship of Christ. In many quarters there is an evident increase of evangelic life and energy. With these facts well authenticated before them, your Committee feel that, should the elements now stirred and converging toward union be diverted and repelled from their object, the effect would be most disastrous on the prospects of true religion. If the hearts of Christian people, combined already throughout the land in Christian work, should be disappointed as to that organic union which they crave, and this, through differences asserted by the clergy, which the laity either do not understand or with which they have no sympathy, the certain effect will be to lessen the sentiment of respect and confidence on their part toward their appointed leaders, and weaken the force of paramount motives.

Nor is the proposed union desirable on our own account only. It is inevitable that its effects should be felt throughout the whole of Christendom. Many of the ecclesiastical organizations of Protestant Europe had their origin in remote controversies connected with the Reformation. That was a time for the assertion of truth, rather than for the expression of love. It was not so much a season for extending Christianity as for purifying and preparing it for future aggression. If we must judge now, that segregation was then carried to an extreme beyond what was required by necessity and Christian charity, surely we possess peculiar advantages in this country and age, for availing ourselves of a wiser and happier policy. Nothing is so long-lived and inveterate as ancestral memories and prejudices. Before the world we are now engaged, as a nation, in solving the problem whether it is possible for all the incongruous and antagonistic nationalities thrown upon our shores, exerting their mutual attraction and repulsion, to become fused in one new American sentiment. If the several branches of the Presbyterian Church in this country, representing to a great degree ancestral differences, should become cordially united, it must have not only a direct effect upon the question of our national unity, but, reacting by the force of a successful example on the Old World, must render aid in that direction, to all who are striving to reconsider and readjust those combinations, which had their origin either in the faults or the necessities of a remote past. The results of our present movement are eagerly observed by many, and its success or failure must inevitably affect other efforts, at home and abroad, looking to the consolidation of other branches of the Christian Church; nor can we doubt that, if any hindrance should frustrate the consummation of that union now contemplated by ourselves, a pang of grief and disappointment would be felt not only in our own country, but throughout Protestant Christendom.

The third of a century, the life of a whole generation, has indeed wrought wondrous changes, of the greatest promise for the future. Another order of things exists. Old causes of irritation are removed. A new generation in the ministry and the membership of the church has arisen, with little sympathy for those controversies that resulted in division. A new evangelic spirit is abroad, like the breath of spring, inviting to a new style of action.

It would have betrayed a criminal temper, on the part of your Committee, had they been indifferent to those events and sentiments to which they owe their own appointment, and under the influence of which they addressed themselves honestly, patiently, and prayerfully to the duty assigned to them. The result of their deliberation is embodied in the following document, which they now submit for the consideration of the Assemblies.

Proposed Terms of Re-union between the two branches of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America.

The Joint Committee of the two General Assemblies of the Presbyterian Church, appointed for the purpose of conferring on the desirableness and practicability of uniting these two bodies, deeply impressed with the responsibility of the work assigned us, and having earnestly sought Divine guidance, and patiently devoted ourselves to the investigation of the question involved, agree in presenting the following for the consideration, and, if they see fit, for the adoption of the two General Assemblies.

Believing that the interests of the Redeemer's kingdom would be promoted by healing our divisions; that practical union would greatly augment the efficiency of the whole Church for the accomplishment of its divinely-appointed work; that the main causes producing division have either wholly passed away, or become so far inoperative, as that Re-union is now "consistent with agreement in doctrine, order, and polity, on the basis of our common standards, and the prevalence of mutual confidence and love;" and that two bodies, bearing the same name, adopting the same Constitution, and claiming the same corporate rights, cannot be justified by any but the most imperative reasons in maintaining separate and, in some respects, rival organizations; and regarding it as both just and proper, that a Re-union should be effected by the two Churches, as independent bodies, and on equal terms; we propose the following Terms and Recommendations, as suited to meet the demands of the case:

1. The Re-union shall be effected on the doctrinal and ecclesiastical basis of our common standards; the Scriptures of the Old and New Te taments shall be acknowledged to be the inspired word of God, and the only infallible rule of faith and practice: the Confession of Faith shall continue to be sincerely received and adopted, "as containing the system of doctrine taught in the Holy Scriptures;" it being understood, that this Confession is received in its proper, historical—that is, the Calvinistic or Reformed—sense; it is also understood, that various methods of viewing, stating, explaining, and illustrating, the doctrines of the Confession, which do not impair the integrity of the Reformed or Calvinistic system, are to be freely allowed in the United Church, as they have hitherto been allowed in the separate Churches; and the government and discipline of the Presbyterian Church in the United States shall be approved as containing the principles and rule of our polity.

2. All the ministers and churches embraced in the two bodies, shall be admitted to the same standing in the united body, which they may hold in their respective connections up to the consummation of the union; imperfectly organized churches shall be counselled and expected to become thoroughly Presbyterian, as early, within the period of five years, as is permitted by the highest interests to be consulted; and no other such churches shall be hereafter received.

3. The boundaries of the several Presbyteries and Synods shall be adjusted by the General Assembly of the united church.

4. The official records of the two branches of the Church, for the period of separation, shall be preserved and held as making up the one history of the Church; and no rule or precedent, which does not stand approved by both the bodies, shall be of any authority, until reëstablished in the united body, except in so far as such rule or precedent may affect the rights of property founded thereon.

5. The corporate rights, now held by the two General Assemblies, and by their Boards and Committees, shall, as far as practicable, be consolidated, and applied for their several objects, as defined by law.

6. There shall be one set of Committees or Boards for Home and Foreign Missions, and the other religious enterprises of the Church, which the churches shall be encouraged to sustain, though free to cast their contributions into other channels, if they desire to do so.

7. As soon as practicable after the union shall be effected, the General Assembly shall reconstruct and consolidate the several permanent Committees and Boards, which now belong to the two Assemblies, in such a manner as to represent, as far as possible, with impartiality, the views and wishes of the two bodies constituting the united church.

8. The publications of the Board of Publication, and of the Publication Committee, shall continue to be issued as at present, leaving it to the Board of Publication of the united church to revise these issues, and perfect a catalogue for the joint Church, so as to exclude invidious references to past controversies.

9. In order to a uniform system of ecclesiastical supervision, those Theological Seminaries that are now under Assembly control may, if their Boards of Direction so elect, be transferred to the watch and care of one or more of the adjacent Synods; and the other Seminaries are advised to introduce, as far as may be, into their constitutions, the principle of Synodical or Assembly supervision; in which case, they shall be entitled to an official recognition and approbation on the part of the General Assembly.

10. It is agreed, that the Presbyteries possess the right to examine ministers applying for admission from other Presbyteries; but each Presbytery shall be left free to decide for itself when it shall exercise the right.

11. It shall be regarded as the duty of all our judicatories, ministers, and people in the united church, to study the things which make for peace, and to guard against all needless and offensive references to the causes that have divided us; and, in order to avoid the revival of past issues, by the continuance of any usage in either branch of the Church that has grown out of our former conflicts, it is earnestly recommended to the lower judicatories of the Church, that they conform their practice in relation to all such usages, as far as is consistent with their convictions of duty, to the general custom of the Church prior to the controversies that resulted in the separation.

12. The Terms of the Reunion, if they are approved by the General Assemblies of 1868, shall be overtured to the several Presbyteries under their care, and shall be of binding force, if they are ratified by three-fourths of the Presbyteries connected with each branch of the Church, within one year after they shall have been submitted to them for approval.

13. If the two General Assemblies of 1869 shall find, that the Plan of Reunion has been ratified by the requisite number of Presbyteries in each body, they shall, after the conclusion of all their business, be dissolved by their respective Moderators, in the manner and form following, viz., each Moderator shall address the Assembly over which he presides, saying, "By virtue of the authority delegated to me by the Church, and in conformity with the Plan of Union adopted by the two Presbyterian Churches, let this Assembly be dissolved; and I do hereby dissolve it, and require a General Assembly, chosen in the same manner, by all the Presbyteries in connection with this body, and all those in connection with the General Assembly meeting this year in ————, to meet in ————, on the ———— day of May, A. D. 1870; and I do hereby declare and proclaim, that the General Assembly thus constituted will be the rightful General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, now, by the grace of God, happily united."

Signed by order of the Joint Committee,

CHARLES C. BEATTY, Chairman.

EDWIN F. HATFIELD, Secretary.

Philadelphia, March 14, A. D. 1868.

It will be observed that the Committee have agreed upon a few modifications of the Basis of Union, reported in May, 1867; this, not so much from any change of opinion on their own part, as with a view, if possible, of preventing or correcting misapprehension, and to meet, more fully, the views and wishes of the bodies which they represent.

In reference to the First Article, containing the doctrinal basis, the language employed is so explicit, that the Committee believe it will prove satisfactory to all who desire union on the terms of Christian confidence and honour. First of all, following the order of the "Constitutional Questions," proposed by our Form of Government to all who are ordained to the Ministry and Eldership of the Presbyterian Church, we assert the great Protestant principle—the sole supremacy and undivided authority of the word of God, in all matters of faith and practice: assigning to this the foremost place above Church, Creed, Confession, School, and System.

Magnifying the inspired Scriptures, we next adopt, indorse and honour, our common Confession, as "containing the system of doctrine taught in the Holy Scriptures." So far as they were concerned themselves, the Committees would have been content to rest on this prescribed form of words, as received and used by Christian brethren. Unhappily, misapprehension, prejudices, and distrust are engendered by divisions, to obviate which the Committee have endeavoured to modify the language of their former report, thought by some to be ambiguous, so as to make it precise, without surmising or exaggerating differences of opinion.

In their judgment, the line of distinction between the two Assemblies, as now drawn, does not consist, as some have supposed, merely in theological diversities. The same Confession is adopted by all. It is adopted in the same terms as containing the same system. To make this agreement the more determinate, the Committee have given this system its historic name. At the same time that we mutually interchange these guarantees for orthodoxy, we mutually interchange guarantees for Christian liberty. Differences always have existed and been allowed in the Presbyterian Churches in Europe and America, as to modes of explaining and theorizing within the metes and bounds of the one accepted system. What exists in fact, we have undertaken to express in words. To put into exact formulas what opinions should be allowed and what interdicted, would be to write a new Confession of Faith. This neither branch of the Church desires. Your Committee have assumed no such work of supererogation. Neither have they made compromises or concessions. They append no codicil to the old symbols. They have asserted, as being essential to all true unity, the necessity of adopting the same Confession and the same System, with the recognition of liberty on either hand, for such differences as do not impair the integrity of the system itself; which is all the liberty that any branch of the great Calvinistic family of churches has ever claimed or desired. Your Committee cannot see how it was possible for them to employ language more precise and guarded, unless they were prepared to substitute "private interpretations" for the recognized standards of the Church. To go further in either direction than they have done, would certainly lead to useless and endless "strifes of words." Language somewhere must find a limit. It would be impossible so to frame expressions on this subject, that those who are opposed to re-union may not find occasion to cavil and object. But the Committee hope and trust that the Article now reported will commend itself to all fair-minded men, as containing what is precise, yet not exclusive; definite, yet not rigid; specific, yet not inflexible; liberal, without laxity; catholic, without latitudinarianism. If exact uniformity in all shades of opinion, in technical adjustments, in philosophic theories, be regarded as essential to union, we should earnestly recommend the indefinite adjournment of the present movement. Nor would consistency allow us to rest here; our present organizations should be dissolved and exchanged for disintegration and individualism.

Nothing need be said in vindication of the Second Article, to those who are fully informed concerning the churches referred to therein. Your Committee had to deal, not with abstractions, but with facts and realities. The churches here described originated in a policy which was itself inaugurated by a remote necessity; their number is limited, and cannot be increased; the terms of their relationship are prescribed and limited also; their Presbyterial relationship is at present cordial, happy, and eminently useful; and some of them are deemed, by the Presbyteries with which they are connected, as among their most efficient and excellent churches. As nothing is intended by our action to disturb the present relations of these churches, so nothing is designed to be done, at any time, which can be regarded as inconsistent with good faith and honour; but such statements were made by those members of the Joint Committee more immediately representing the sections of country in which these churches exist, as led the Committee to believe, that the friendly counsel contained in this Article would prove not unexceptable to these churches themselves, and that the specification of a definite time might be an aid to them in perfecting that organization which is now suggested by Christian expediency.

The several Articles, which contemplate the combination and readjustment of the respective Boards and Committees of the two Assemblies, look only to economy and increased efficiency.

The recommendation contained in the Eighth Article calls for the briefest explanation, as it is believed that it will prove more satisfactory than the former Article, to which various objections were made. No disposition was manifest in the Committee to press invidious distinctions and preferences. Neither Publishing Committee is to supersede or indorse the other. Both, earnestly engaged at present in publishing what is received by the churches at large, as valuable literature in theology and practical religion, are advised to continue as now organized, till such a new Board or Committee shall be appointed in the united church, as, it may be supposed, would be prompted by every instinct of Christian propriety to omit painful and invidious references to past strifes, leaving undisturbed what is now, and ever must be, highly prized by all our ministers and churches.

As to the action of the Committee concerning Theological Seminaries, as embodied in Article Ninth of their report, all difficulty springs from the obvious fact, that there is no authority which is competent to forbid the endowment of Seminaries at any time by any individuals in our connection. Those Theological Seminaries which are now independent of ecclesiastical control, were founded before the disruption, and endowed by men representing alike what are now known as Old and New-School Churches. What was done then may be repeated again. A recommendation, looking to some uniformity of ecclesiastical supervision, is all which the Committee felt to be within their province or that of the Assembly; except that those Seminaries, now belonging to either branch of the Church, should have every guarantee and protection for their chartered rights which they might desire.

A new Article, here designated as the Tenth, has been introduced, in which some concession has been made on both sides, designed to reconcile conflicting claims and usages. Many churches and Presbyteries, in both Assemblies, claim the right, as now expressed in formal vote, of pronouncing upon the expediency of admitting, to their own membership, those who bear testimonials from correlative bodies. One Assembly now makes this obligatory upon all the Presbyteries. The Committee recommend the recognition of the right, and the abolition of the imperative rule. As all difficulties springing from this cause had their origin in times of suspicion and distrust which, it is hoped, are passing away, it is believed that the whole matter may safely be left to adjust itself in a new era of confidence and harmony. In this connection, however, the Committee would particularly refer to the next Article, (No. 11.) which emphasizes the duty of all our judicatories to study the things which make for peace, and earnestly recommends to the Presbyteries to conform to earlier and more ancient usages. The examination of ministers passing from one Presbytery to another is altogether unknown to the Presbyterian Churches of Scotland and Ireland; nor was it originally practised in our own. The extent of territory covered by the Presbyterian Church in the United States may have been one reason for another method, in later years, in our own country; but, inasmuch as the right and usage asserted and defended by some, and denied and discarded by others, were related to controversies which are past, the Committee are confident that practical difficulties, from this quarter, will be obviated by the adoption of their entire action in the premises. Amid the diversified practices which now prevail as to this subject in both branches of the Church, this recommendation of the Committee was designed to allay, and not to promote distrust and suspicion.

That some changes must be made in the present method and ratio of representation is apparent from the size of the two Assemblies. Differences of opinion also have long existed in both branches, as to the powers and prerogatives of the General Assembly as now exercised. Many are jealous and apprehensive lest these may transcend the limits of expediency and constitutional law. Whether the proposed re-union would create the necessity of enlarging the authority of the local Synods and modifying somewhat the power and province of the General Assembly, is a subject upon which, as not having been referred to them, the Committees have not felt at liberty to make suggestions or to take action, beyond that of commending it to the attention of the two Assemblies, which they do in the following terms, to wit:

"The Joint Committee recommend that each of the two General Assemblies of 1868 appoint a Committee of five, to constitute a Joint Committee of ten, whose duty shall be to prepare and propose to the first General Assembly of the united church a proper adjustment of the boundaries of Presbyteries and Synods.

"This Committee shall also recommend to the General Assembly any amendments of the Constitution, which they may think necessary to secure efficiency and harmony in the administration of a Church so greatly enlarged and so rapidly extending."

Thus have the Committee discharged the duty with which they were intrusted. Having acted to the best of their ability, according to all the wisdom they could command, their responsibility ceases. The grave necessity of decisive action is now devolved on the respective Assemblies and Presbyteries of the Church. That this responsibility transcends what ordinarily occurs in the life of men, no one will question.

The union contemplated in this report is one based on "mutual confidence and love." The Committees are aware that they have personally enjoyed peculiar opportunities, in the way of intimate fraternal intercourse, for the cultivation and expression of these Christian sentiments. Whatever differences may exist among themselves on subordinate matters, they have come to rest in mutual confidence concerning that which is of paramount importance. If the same sentiment prevails throughout the whole Church, organic union cannot be prevented; if it should prove to be wanting, no technical formulas, no cautious definitions, no well-guarded conditions, can produce union of any value or permanence. There is a so-called unity, which is like the freezing together into one solid mass of all incongruous and heterogeneous substances. Such icy compression is undesirable. There is another unity, which the Holy Ghost has compared to the living "body fitly joined together, and compacted by that which every joint supplieth, according to the effectual working in the measure of every part," making "increase of the body unto the edifying of itself in love." Such is the Divine model of ecclesiastical Union, combining diversity and harmony, liberty and love, and the whole instinct with life, and predestined to growth and perfection. Love demands few conditions, and confidence builds on something better than verbal guarantees. Your Committee has never expected to reconcile all local interests, all private preferences, all personal memories and prejudices. Content are they, if the Articles of Agreement, herewith reported and recommended, approve themselves to the thoughtful and judicious in both branches of the Church, as suited to promote, not the advantage of any school or sect, but the healthful vigor of the entire Church, the prosperity of the whole country, the honour of our adorable Lord.

We make no computation of majorities and minorities, in the united church, as related to past distinctions. We recognize no such idea as one body absorbing the other; our whole action is based on the principle of two bodies, now independent and equal, becoming assimilated and fused together in cordial "agreement as to doctrine, order, and polity, on the basis of our common standards, and the prevalence of mutual confidence and love." In such a sublime act, something must be trusted to the power of Christian sentiment; something left to be accomplished by faith in one another, as well as in our common Lord. Signs are visible in every quarter of increased confidence among Christian churches and ministers, long separated by ecclesiastical differences, now yearning for more of unity. As well might we deny the return of spring and the putting forth of buds and the tender grass, as question this obvious fact. Do not events indicate a Divine Leadership which it is our wisdom to observe and obey? Results have already been reached, under Pentecostal effusions of the Spirit from on high, surpassing the most sanguine expectations, rebuking unbelief, dissolving prejudice, and betokening greater things to come. Some things must be referred to the past. If we face the sun, our shadows are behind us. "Let the dead bury their dead." It is our Lord himself who teaches us, that all which is personal and private should be held subordinate to the claims and affinities of his kingdom. What was tolerated once may not be justified now. The future cheers and animates us with brightest prospects. The voice of the Son of God rebukes the weakness and wickedness of schism, and enjoins the unity of faith and love. Hope anticipates the time when, every dissension healed and forgotten by Christian charity, all branches of the Presbyterian Church, in all sections of our common country, holding the same Standards, shall be drawn together by patriotic and evangelical sympathies in cordial and indissoluble union. Glorious things are promised to the Church, "in the day that the Lord bindeth up the breach of his people and healeth the stroke of their wound."

Surely it will be for good and not evil, for joy and not sorrow, for strength and not weakness, if henceforth our rule shall be "One body and one spirit, even as 'we' are called in one hope of 'our' calling. One Lord, one faith, one baptism, one God and Father of all, who is above all and through all and in 'us' all."

"Now unto Him that is able to do exceeding abundantly above all that we ask or think, according to the power that worketh in us, unto Him be glory in the Church by Christ Jesus throughout all ages, world without end. Amen."

Signed, by order of the Committee,

REPORT OF THE JOINT COMMITTEES OF THE TWO BRANCHES OF THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH IN THE UNITED STATES, UPON LEGAL QUESTIONS TOUCHING RE-UNION.

We, members of the Committee appointed under the joint resolution of the General Assemblies of the Presbyterian Church, which met respectively in the year 1867, at the city of Cincinnati, in the State of Ohio, and at Rochester, in the State of New York, "to investigate all questions of property, and vested rights as they may stand related to the matter of re-union," beg leave to submit the following report:

We have had submitted to us under the terms of this resolution, certain documents, of which an abstract is found in an appendix to this report.

It is understood that the opinions herein expressed are based upon these papers.

They admit of a classification into these classes:

I. The instrumentalities by which the General Assembly holds and controls property. And herein
   (1.) The Trustees of the Presbyterian House.
   (2.) The Trustees of the Church Erection Fund.
   (3.) The Board of Education (N. S.)
   (4.) The Presbyterian Committee of Home Missions.
   (5.) The Permanent Committee on Foreign Missions.
   (6.) The Board of Education (O. S.)

II. Conveyances, devises, or gifts to, and grants to and from one or more of these bodies.

III. Charters of Churches.

IV. Devises and bequests not included in the second class.

I.—The first five of these instrumentalities, or corporations, are connected with the "New-School" General Assembly, viz., The Trustees of the Presbyterian House, The Trustees of the Church Erection Fund, The Board of Education, The Presbyterian Committee of Home Missions, the Permanent Committee on Foreign Missions. One of them became a corporation under the laws of Pennsylvania, and the other four under the legislation of New York. Their acts of incorporation bear a close resemblance in language, and constitute one scheme or design. The theory on which all are based is that the property interests of the General Assembly, instead of being vested directly in that body, are held in trust by corporations, for it. The trustees of these corporations are elected by the General Assembly, or in such manner as it may appoint; they are liable to displacement at its will; they manage their funds under its control or direction. The title to all property given to the Assembly for the purposes embraced in the act of incorporation vests in the particular corporation having the function to perform which the donation or bequest was intended to aid.

In other words, each corporation is, as it were, the machinery whereby the General Assembly carries forward the great interests of Church Erection, Education, Home Missions, Foreign Missions, etc., etc. They are but little more than committees of the Assembly, having impressed upon them the capacity of succession, and the power to take, hold, and dispose of land and other property. The questions which may arise are not different from those which would have been presented in case the General Assembly were itself the corporation, holding property, and the property rights to be investigated had been acquired by its own act, or by gift, devise, or bequest. To be more specific:

(1.) The Trustees of the Presbyterian House. This body originated under the report of the "Committee on the Polity of the Church" in 1854 (Minutes of 1854, pp. 502–3), which recommended that, if the General Assembly should appoint a Board of Trustees of the Presbyterian Publication House, it should be incorporated under the laws of Pennsylvania. The General Assembly appointed such a board, and the act of incorporation was obtained accordingly. The principal object of the charter seems to have been to permit land to be owned by the said Trustees for the business of the societies and churches connected with the Assembly. The Trustees are also authorized to hold any property in trust for the Assembly committed to them, or to the Assembly for them, by donations, bequests, or otherwise. This clause was inserted on the recommendation of the "Committee on Church Polity." The Trustees are elected by the Assembly, which has power to increase their number, while their management of the funds committed to their care is subject to the direction of the Assembly. Pamphlet Laws of Pennsylvania, April 21, 1855.

2. The Trustees of the Church Erection Fund. It was a part of the plan of the "Committee on the Polity of the Church" of 1854, that a body chosen by the Assembly as the "Trustees of the Church Erection Fund" should be incorporated under the laws of New York. An act was obtained accordingly. New York Session Laws, March 31, 1855. The Trustees having been designated for that purpose, in May, 1854, were constituted a body corporate and politic, for the purpose of aiding "feeble congregations, in connection with the said General Assembly, in erecting houses of worship," under certain conditions. The Trustees are to remain in office, and to be displaced at the will of the Assembly, and others to be appointed in their places. It is further provided that the "Church Erection Fund" is to be held and administered in conformity with the plan of the General Assembly.

(3.) The Board of Education. In 1856 the Assembly established "a Permanent Committee on Education for the Ministry," whose members were to be re-elected from time to time by the Assembly.

In 1858 an Act of incorporation was obtained from the Legislature of New York, constituting this committee a corporation to superintend the whole cause of Education, as the Assembly might from time to time direct. It was also empowered to take and to manage the property which might be given or devised to it, or to the General Assembly for educational purposes, and its members are subject to displacement and appointment at the pleasure of the Assembly. Session Laws of 1858, April 17.

(4.) The next of these corporations is The Presbyterian Committee of Home Missions.

This was incorporated by the Legislature of New York in 1862. It was constituted a body politic to assist in sustaining the preaching of the gospel in feeble churches and congregations in connection with the Presbyterian Church in the United States; and generally to superintend the whole cause of Home Missions in behalf of the said Church, as the General Assembly may from time to time direct. It was also to receive and manage any property which might be entrusted to the Church or the Committee for Home Missionary purposes.

The Trustees hold under the same control of the Assembly as has already been alluded to in the cases before described.

(5.) The Permanent Committee on Foreign Missions:

The last of these corporations connected with the New-School General Assembly, was chartered by the Legislature of New York. Session Laws of New York, Ch. 493, 1865.

Persons designated by the General Assembly were made a body corporate to superintend the whole cause of Foreign Missions in language nearly identical with that employed in chapter 340 of the Laws of 1862, concerning Home Missions.

(6.) Board of Education. (O. S.) The single Board to which our attention has been called, connected with that branch of the Church usually styled the "Old-School," is the Board of Education, chartered in 1841 in Pennsylvania, with an amendment in 1852. There had been a Board of Education, not incorporated. The want of incorporation being attended with practical inconvenience, trustees of the Board of Education were incorporated, numbering nine. They are elected by "the Board of Education in such a manner that one third go out of office every year. Their management of the trust funds is subject to the direction of the Board of Education. By the amendment to its Charter, the Trustees are entitled to receive and hold property devised, bequeathed, or given to them "for the purpose of aiding schools, academies, and colleges, or the cause of education generally."

Under this last broad power, we have not been informed whether any such devises, gifts, or bequests have been made.

This corporation, for like reasons as those which have been already stated, is simply the instrument of the General Assembly, and the considerations governing its rights to hold property are the same as those which would be presented if the property were held by the General Assembly itself.

For the sake of simplicity, assuming that the funds in question are held directly by each General Assembly, there are two classes of questions which present themselves for solution: One is, what is the effect of the proposed reunion on such property as the General Assembly holds simply as proprietor; second, what is the effect of such re-union in the case of specific trusts, such as would be likely to be found in devises, bequests, and voluntary conveyances.

The investigation of these two questions will arise also in connection with the other documents presented to us, such as the Charters of Churches, and devises and bequests to the General Assembly.

We will therefore defer their consideration until the other papers submitted to us have been described in general terms, when these points will be examined.

II.—We now proceed to the mention of the transactions entered into by these corporations. All which have been submitted to us are on the part of the "Presbyterian House." These transactions are of two classes.

The first class consist of conveyances regulating and defining the mode in which the property of the General Assembly is held, and declaring the trusts upon which the conveyance was made to the Trustees. Of this there is a single example. The second class of conveyances are voluntary, apparently either gifts from individuals, or from a number of persons combining their contributions. They are all conveyances upon specific trusts for the use of a congregation or congregations maintaining an ecclesiastical connection with the New-school General Assembly, and when that connection ceases, the trust either ceases absolutely, or is transferred to some other congregation having that ecclesiastical connection.

The instance of the first class referred to is a declaration of trust made by "the Trustees of the Presbyterian House" of certain lots of land in the city of Philadelphia. It appears that the General Assembly had declared that its will was that the property in question should be held by the "Trustees of the Presbyterian House" in trust, to permit and suffer the Presbyterian Publication Committee to use and occupy the land, subject to the General Assembly, and that the Trustees should execute a declaration of trust. This was done accordingly.

This property was conveyed to the Trustees of the Presbyterian House by Samuel Smyth, February 2, 1855. As there is no evidence before us of any specific trust in the conveyance from him, it is supposed to have been acquired for a valuable consideration for the use of the New-school branch of the Presbyterian Church.

The next conveyance which belongs to the second class of cases is an instrument executed by Samuel Work and wife to "the Trustees of the Presbyterian House" for a nominal consideration. The trust declared in the deed is, that the property shall be held for the use of a particular congregation, which are named as tenants at will so long as they remain in connection with the so-called New-school General Assembly, and when they cease to be so connected, then in trust for some other Presbyterian church and congregation as tenants at will which the Trustees shall approve, and which shall be in connection with a Presbytery in union with the General Assembly.

The next conveyance of the same class to "the Trustees of the Presbyterian House" is from M. W. Baldwin and wife for a nominal consideration. The property conveyed is to be held in trust for a particular church (the Tabor Presbyterian church) "so long as it shall continue in connection with that branch of the Presbyterian Church (called the New-school) and no longer."

The next conveyance is made by A. Whilldin and others to the Trustees of the Presbyterian House. The funds with which this property was acquired were contributed by Whilldin and others. The conveyance is in trust for a church and congregation in ecclesiastical connection with and under the care of the New-school General Assembly, to permit such congregation to hold as tenants at will, while their ecclesiastical connection continues undisturbed, and on their becoming incorporated upon certain conditions, to convey the property to them.

The only additional conveyance to the Trustees of the Presbyterian House is one made on behalf of the widow, children, and residuary legatees of Matthias W. Baldwin, to carry into effect the design of Mr. Baldwin, which had been frustrated by his death. The Trustees are to permit a particular congregation to occupy the property as tenants at will for the purpose of religious worship, so long as they shall remain in connection with and under the care of the New-school General Assembly and no longer. The last four conveyances create what for the sake of convenience and reference may be termed "specific trusts" as distinguished from the case where no particular designation of the uses to which the property is to be devoted is made.

III.—Charters of Churches.—These charters are of two kinds: One includes those which were created before the separation of the two branches of the Presbyterian Church, and in which of course no reference is made of adhesion to any particular branch; the other class, chartered since the disruption, specifically names the General Assembly to which the particular church adheres.

The first class is illustrated by a single case submitted to us, that of the First Presbyterian Church in the District of Southwark and County of Philadelphia.

This organization was effected in 1820. The congregation associated "for religious purposes," and held property for the support of a pastor or pastors, and other officers, and such pious and charitable purposes, as shall by the said society be established. It is only by its name that we can be made certain that this is a Presbyterian church.

We suppose that this instance involves the question of the status of all the churches connected with either General Assembly where there is no specific description of adhesion to any particular branch of the Church.

The second class of charters contain in substance this clause: "The faith and government of the said church shall conform to the faith and government of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America: and the said church shall be connected with and deemed to be under the care of that General Assembly which met last," &c., meaning the so-called New-school General Assembly. There is a further provision that there shall be no "alteration, change, or amendment whatever" in this provision.

Three such charters have been submitted which resemble each other so closely that it will be unnecessary to consider them separately. They are described in the Appendix.

IV. Devises.—The will of Mary Cornell is submitted. The testatrix provides that the proceeds of her residuary estate shall be devoted to the purchase of land to be for ever held and used by a church and congregation "which shall be in connection with that portion of the Presbyterian Church now designated in common parlance as the New-school." In case that connection ceases, the testatrix directs a forfeiture of the interest previously devised, and directs that the title shall vest in "The Trustees of the Presbyterian Church," &c., who are authorized in that case, to take all necessary measures to recover the land in trust for a congregation connected with that portion of the Presbyterian Church.

By reason of these various documents, questions are raised as to the relation of the Churches to each General Assembly, both where there is no specific provision as to adhesion to any particular branch of the church, as well as where such a provision is made.

It will be noticed that the documents recited present those forms of ownership:

First.—Property owned by corporations which are instruments of the General Assemblies as organs of the Church.

Second.—Property owned by those corporations with a specific trust in favour of one branch of the church exclusively.

Third.—Funds held by particular churches under their charters, which churches are in fact attached exclusively to one or the other General Assembly, without any express charter direction.

Fourth.—Funds held by particular churches whose charters require specific adhesion to a particular branch.

Fifth.—Devises or conveyances to particular churches, with specific provisions by the devisor or grantor, as to that branch of the church general to which the particular church shall belong.

For the general purposes of this report, we may condense these questions into two.

First.—What is the effect of re-union upon property held either by the General Assembly through its corporate machinery or by a particular church where no specific directions or trusts exist.

Second.—What is the effect of the proposed re-union where specific directions are given as to the particular branch of the Church to whose use the funds are to be applied.

When these questions are disposed of our duty is performed.

The only objection which can apparently be raised under the first inquiry is, that the funds in question are held under the so-called "law of charitable trusts," and that the proposed re-union is a departure from the trust which a court of equity will not sanction.

Before dealing directly with this question, there are some preliminary suggestions which may be made.

These bodies were once united; they were disrupted; they propose to reunite. They are one in faith and form of government. We cannot be expected to examine this question on the supposition that there are any fundamental differences between the two bodies either in doctrine or church government. No such facts are submitted to us. We have but the simple question, Is there any legal obstacle to the re-union of two bodies on the same confession of faith and under the same form of government to which they both originally adhered?

The question really is: Can the churches through their respective organs, the General Assemblies, form such a union as to merge the two Assemblies into one? If not, there are some serious inconveniences that would follow. Had there been no General Assemblies or Synods, churches divided from Presbyteries through some temporary alienation could scarcely return to their former relations. Had there been no General Assemblies, Synods torn asunder by local divisions could not meet together. Schism instead of harmony becomes the law of the Church. Then the law of the state requires that strength should be wasted instead of husbanded; that weakness should be chronic, and wounds for ever unhealed. Then the Church must for ever be divided into hostile camps, flaunting banners of defiance in each other's faces, instead of marching with united step to triumph.

We hold, on the other hand, that the presumption is, that the two bodies ought to unite, unless there is some clearly proved obstacle, on account of fundamental differences in faith or form of government, or incompatibility of united action.

This appears to us to be the law imposed by the Founder of the Church upon his followers, and therefore the law of the Church itself.

The law of the State seeks to administer such a trust as this upon the presumed intention of the donor of the trust funds. He must be supposed to intend to have the funds appropriated in accordance with the law of the Church; and the law of the Church must be presumed to be in accordance with the law of its founder.

It needs no argument from us, to establish that the precepts and spirit of Christianity require brethren to walk together who are agreed.

The history of the Presbyterian Church shows that it accords with these views, and that such is the law which its members actually recognize. There have, undoubtedly, been, from time to time, unfortunate, and, perhaps, in some instances, unnecessary divisions. Good men have always deplored them, and when the temporary obstacle has been removed, re-union has come. Force only kept the two bodies apart—the law of their nature has been union and re-union. Called, as we have been recently, to examine the history of these church movements, we have been continually reminded of the course of a full stream, which, meeting with an immovable obstacle, divides to pass around it, only to re-unite its forces at the very point where the obstacle ends. This strong tendency in the Church to be in full accord with the law of its founder, was never so marked as to-day, when the causes of dissension and division are reduced and removed. Though it may have been repressed, its strength is shown by the elasticity of its rebound when the pressure is removed.

These general considerations are not without importance, since this question must be determined by the law of the Church.

The property of the General Assembly must have been given to it in view of this law. It is not departing from the use which a donor impressed upon the funds bestowed, if it unites with other churches of the same faith and government, and thus increases its efficiency and power over the minds of the community. The property of any particular church must be presumed to have been given in accordance with the law of the individual church which leads to union with other churches of the same faith, and with the wider law leading the body of associated churches to unite with other churches of the same character.

This is no more than saying that every institution of man is subject to the law of developement or growth, and that one who bestows funds upon it must be supposed to intend to follow such law of developement.

These views are sustained by the highest legal authority of the State of Pennsylvania, in which many of these questions would arise if they should ever be presented to any court. They are believed to be in accord with the approved authorities upon this branch of the law.

The case to which we refer is McGinnis v. Watson, 41 Pennsylvania, (5 Wright) p. 7. This case bears so closely upon the topics now under discussion, that it will be well to state the facts at some length.

A congregation in Venango township, of that State, consisted of members of the Associate Church, and were in ecclesiastical connection with the "Associate (Presbyterian) Synod of North America." In that character, they having become incorporated, acquired land "for the use and behoof of the congregation." The Associate Synod, by a vote of a large majority of the Presbyteries, united with another Presbyterian body known as the "Associate Reformed Church." The Presbytery to which the congregation in question belonged, approved of the union. The Session of the Church approved of it, at a regular meeting. A minority of the congregation refused to go into the union, and connected themselves with a protesting Presbytery and Synod.

A bill in equity was presented in behalf of the minority against the majority of the congregation, to regain possession and control of the church property, on the ground that the grant of it was to a congregation professing the doctrines and adhering to the government of the Associate Church according to its original standards; and that the union is such a departure from these, that the dissenting members cannot be compelled to follow.

The case, therefore, clearly presents the point whether a portion of any individual church can resist the legislative act of the general body to which it belongs, when such act constitutes no material departure from the doctrines and form of government maintained by the denomination to which the particular church adheres.

The Court held that the legislative act of union was valid, and enforced its position by great wealth of illustration and strong argumentation. Its reasoning, in general outline, is that the Court must regard the law of the Church; that this law is not to be ascertained simply by regarding the particular church, but that recourse must be had to the general law of the denomination to which the members of any particular church must be presumed to have assented.

That part of the congregation which acts in harmony with its own law thus broadly interpreted, must be approved and sustained by the State law. All spiritual growth involves some change or developement. Every denomination of Christians admits that others must change in their progress towards union, though it regards its own system as too perfect to undergo change. These propositions are then enforced by instances derived from the history of the Church through many centuries.

Judging, as is thus seen to be necessary, the acts of those persons by the laws which were accepted among themselves, the authority of the Church to legislate upon its doctrines, forms, and practice, is clearly evinced. Changes and progress appear historically to be a recognized part of their ecclesiastical life. It is shown, then, how, though there has been much division among Presbyterians, there has been a strong tendency towards union, as shown in the union of Burghers and Anti-Burghers, Covenanters and Seceders, of the Synods of New York and Philadelphia, of the Church of Scotland in Nova Scotia and the Seceders. To these might now be added, union in the Australian Colonies; union in Canada; union in New Zealand; union in Queensland; union in South Australia; union in New South Wales. Here we seem to have found the law of the Presbyterian Church; the waiving of non-essentials to secure united action on fundamental principles. There is permitted to be diversity of sentiment where unsoundness in faith, according to the recognized standards, does not exist, while there is an agreement to abstain from agitating the questions which occasioned separation, or led to distinct organizations.

These principles will not lose their application, though the basis of union between the two branches of the Church may relax the former strictness on minor points; for there may have been good reasons for this relaxation, and of that the Presbyteries, Synods, and General Assemblies are the constitutional judges. Such proceedings cannot be condemned as unlawful without deciding that there can be no unions of the Church without a forfeiture of civil rights, and that the law well-nigh compels the perpetuation of divisions.

This enlightened judgment seems to us to require that we should answer the inquiry whether a Church forfeits its property by adopting the plan of re-union in the negative. On the same ground, there can be no forfeiture of the property which either General Assembly holds as proprietor, either directly, or by means of the corporations described in the outset of this report.

It may perhaps be suggested that the corporations referred to would no longer be under the control of the particular Assembly pointed out in the Act of Incorporation, when the two Assemblies became merged into one. The answer is, that the legislature must be presumed to be cognizant of that law of the Church which permits union, and therefore that it has employed words in granting these charters which are to have the liberal and comprehensive interpretation that the principles already laid down require.

The objection will probably be made, in another form, that there is a change of identity by reason of the union. It may be said that neither of the two bodies is the same as before, but that there is a composite body partaking of the nature of both, but in no proper sense identical with either. It will then be argued that a loss of identity involves a forfeiture of property, because the trust reposed by the donors of funds can no longer be administered by the organ which they selected.

This objection is answered in the case already noticed. Though there may be no formal literal identity, yet each body substantially exists in the new organization. What we must regard is the identity of social life, which admits of a mutual giving and reception of moral and mental influences, and a corresponding social growth. Social institutions must grow with society, adapt themselves to its intelligence and wants, to times and circumstances. They thus change and remain the same; when they lose this power of adaptation, they wither and decay. Pp. 27, 28, 29.

We do not express any opinion upon the effect of a change by either body in one or more of its fundamental principles of faith. No opinion of any value could be given on such a supposition, without an exact statement of the proposed change. We have assumed that the re-union is to take place upon the doctrines acknowledged by both parties before the disruption.

These views seem to be sustained by decisions in the cases of Gibson v. Armstrong, 7 B. Monroe, 481; Den v. Pilling, 4 Zabriskie, 653; 2 Richardson's Equity, 215; Attorney-General v. Gould, 2 Law Reporter, 495; Attorney-General v. Pearson, 3 Merivale, 400.

Second.—It only remains to consider the effect of the proposed re-union where specific obligations are imposed upon the ownership of the property.

It is material to inquire as to the intent of the grantor of the fund. There is no pretence that the grantors or donors, all of whom belong to the so-called New-

School Church, suppose that there is any material difference in respect to faith or form of government between the two branches. What evidence there is, is all the other way.

Thus, the charters which mark out with the greatest precision their separate relation to the New-School assert, that "the faith and government of the said church shall conform to the faith and government of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, and the said church shall be connected with and deemed to be under the care of that branch of the church,"—known as the New-School. The plain intention is to require the faith and government of the Presbyterian Church in general, but the care and connection of a particular branch of it. It seems to us, that the meaning of all these special clauses is, to provide for a particular relation and connection so long as the New-School branch maintains its separate existence, but there is no evidence of intention to perpetuate separation, alienation, and division. Every donor must be presumed to have made his gift with a full knowledge of the law of the particular church as modified by the legislation of the constituted bodies, Presbyteries, Synods, and Assemblies, to which the church belongs. This law leads to re-union, as we have before seen. The gift must then have been made with the probability of union foreseen. The donor's intention fully expanded really is this: "While the New-School and Old-School remain separate, my property must be devoted to the promotion of the interests of the New-School. I am aware of the legislative power of the New-School by its Assemblies to coalesce and unite with the Old-School. I am content to have that power exercised."

What is this but saying that a person intends that which is necessarily implied as well as that which is expressed?

We are therefore of opinion that there is substantially no difference between the two questions which, for the sake of examination, have been considered separately, and that the answer of the one is the solution of the other.

These views embrace in principle the special cases of gifts and conveyances to the "Presbyterian House," particular clauses in charters, and devises, as far as laid before us.

After this report was written, some deeds of trust were exhibited to us, which respected the title to property connected with the Princeton Theological Seminary. Some of these instruments we unhesitatingly consider to be governed by the principles that we have recognized. Others have special clauses entering into considerable detail, the bearing of which we have not had an opportunity to consider. We do not intend to express any doubt upon these clauses, but simply give no opinion. We concede that a donor might cumber his gift to one of these branches of the church with such limitations, conditions, or provisos, as to make it questionable whether re-union would not be a ground of forfeiture. Perhaps he might provide that his gift to one branch should be void in case of re-union, though it would admit of consideration whether a trust for the mere perpetuation of division and separation would accord with sound views of public policy.

However this may be, we desire to be understood as not expressing any opinion upon any special trusts not embraced within the instances set forth in the former part of this report. Should our opinion hereafter be desired upon the Princeton trusts, or others of a special nature, we shall be pleased to give it.

On the whole, we are of opinion that there are no obstacles to re-union growing out of the relations of that subject to property so far as those relations have been brought to our notice, and so report to your Honorable Body.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

THEODORE W. DWIGHT.

REPORT.

The undersigned committee, appointed on behalf of the Old-School General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, to investigate the questions of property and vested rights, which may arise from a re-union with the New-School Presbyterian body, have partially discharged the duty assigned to them. They met in conference the Hon. Daniel Haines, of New Jersey, and the Hon. Theodore

W. Dwight, of New York, the Committee appointed on behalf of the New-School General Assembly, and united with them in the investigation of these questions. The latter gentlemen have embodied their views in a report which has been submitted for our concurrence. It evinces much research and discrimination, and will be read with interest by those who appreciate the importance of the subject. In some of the opinions there expressed we are unable to concur. To others we give our entire assent.

1. In respect to property heretofore owned or controlled by the New-School General Assembly, or any of the instrumentalities or churches under its care, the investigations of Messrs. Haines and Dwight have been very thorough, and we see no reason to question the soundness of their conclusion, that this property will not be affected by the proposed re-union.

2. We agree with them also in the opinion that church property which was held before the division in 1838, will not be affected in its legal relations if the two branches of the church should unite. That property will stand where it would have stood if the division had not taken place.

3. We agree with them also in holding that property acquired since the division by either branch of the church, by deed or will, by gift or purchase, which has not been clothed with a special trust, placing it under the exclusive control of one branch, as distinguished from the other, will not be affected if the two branches should now unite.

4. Where such trusts do exist each case must be decided on its own special circumstances. The effect upon the property of a union with any other body will depend on the nature of the conditions imposed by the grantor or donor, or prescribed in acts of incorporation. The condition of much of the property connected with the Theological Seminary at Princeton will form a good illustration of this point. The deeds for this property were laid before us and were fully investigated. Its importance to the Old-school body is such that we do not feel justified in withholding our opinions respecting it.

On the 5th of May, 1843, James Lenox, Esq., conveyed to the Trustees of the Seminary the ground now occupied by the Library and the house of one of its professors. He accompanied the grant with this condition, which for convenience we have divided into two sections: (1.) "Provided always, nevertheless, and upon this condition, that if at any time or times hereafter, the said parties of the second part [that is the Trustees of the Seminary] shall pass from under the supervision and control of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, now commonly known and distinguished as the Old-school General Assembly, and its successors, or (2.) if at any time or times hereafter, the leading doctrines declared in the Confession of Faith and catechisms of the Presbyterian Church, such as the doctrine of universal and total depravity, the doctrine of election, the doctrine of the atonement, the doctrine of the imputation of Adam's sin to all his posterity, and of the imputation of Christ's righteousness to all his people for their justification, the doctrine of human inability, and the doctrine of the necessity of the influences of the Holy Spirit in the regeneration, conversion, and sanctification of sinners, as these doctrines are now understood and explained by the aforesaid Old-school General Assembly, shall cease to be taught and inculcated in the said Seminary, then, and in either such case, the grant and conveyance hereby made shall cease and become null and void, and the said premises shall thereupon revert to the said party of the first part, his heirs or assigns, as in his first and former estate."

The second branch of this condition would probably not be violated in the eye of the law until the doctrines there specified shall cease to be taught in the Seminary. On some of these doctrines it is vain to deny that the two branches of the Church are wide apart; and while we agree with our brethren that we cannot, as lawyers, undertake to examine and pronounce upon the effect of these differences of opinion, we cannot shut our eyes to the fact so well known to theologians on both sides, that such differences do exist. Nor can we hesitate to point attention to the peril which may ensue to this property and to other property similarly situated, if in consequence of the terms of a union with any other body, the doctrines specified in this deed, as understood and explained by the aforesaid Old-school General Assembly, may cease to be taught in the institutions thus endowed.

There is less difficulty in determining the results which must flow from violating the first branch of the condition imposed by Mr. Lenox, viz., if the Trustees of the Seminary shall pass from under the supervision and control of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, now commonly known and distinguished as the Old-school General Assembly, and its successors. In that event the property is to revert to himself and his heirs. The Trustees are, by the express terms of the deed, to be under the supervision and control of the Old-school General Assembly as distinguished from any other: in other words, from the New-school General Assembly. We are of opinion that if these Trustees should pass from the supervision and control of the former Assembly, as distinguished from the latter, or if they should be controlled and supervised by an Assembly known by another name, or constituted differently from the Assembly thus specially described by Mr. Lenox, the valuable property conveyed by his deed will be placed in jeopardy.

On the 25th of April, 1862, Robert L. and Alexander Stuart conveyed to the Trustees of this Seminary $50,000 in bonds of the Federal Government, and inserted in their deed the same condition in substance which has been quoted from that of Mr. Lenox, except that in the event of a breach of the condition the money is to become the property of the American Bible Society. They had previously presented to the Trustees of the Seminary the library of the late Dr. Addison Alexander on nearly the same terms, except that on the violation of that trust the library is to become the property of the Trustees of the College of New Jersey. The views which we have expressed, respecting the gift of Mr. Lenox, will apply to the gifts of the brothers Stuart.

This is as far as we have proceeded in our investigations. There may be property connected with the other institutions of the Church, or belonging to individual church corporations, in the grant of which other special trusts were imposed. We have not been supplied with the materials for forming a judgment respecting them. In due time, if they are laid before us, we are willing to give them our attention.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE APPOINTED BY THE ASSEMBLY OF 1867, ON THE BOARD OF DOMESTIC MISSIONS. (Minutes, p. 579.)

The Committee appointed by the last General Assembly "to investigate the affairs of the Board of Domestic Missions, and to recommend what measures are necessary to secure its greater efficiency," met at the Mission Rooms, in Philadelphia, Nov. 7th, 1867.

The Committee had no official information as to the particular reasons that led to its appointment. It was known that there were vague complaints of a general want of efficiency; that there was murmuring in parts of the Church, that they were neglected in its ministrations; and that fault was found with the management in various respects. In reply, it was admitted that the Church is not accomplishing what it ought, in this important department, but it was claimed that this is owing, not to the want of efficiency on the part of the Board, but to the want of liberality on the part of congregations. The Board cannot make brick without straw—cannot carry on and enlarge the work, unless the means are provided. The General Assembly having, at the urgent request of many all over the Church, dispensed with "a paid agency system," and adopted the plan of "systematic benevolence," the responsibility of developing the liberality and securing the regular contributions of the congregations, must necessarily devolve, under our system, on Synods, Presbyteries, Sessions, and Pastors. If they are negligent or inefficient in training and inciting the people to provide funds, the Board must be in a corresponding measure unable to respond to the various appeals for its help. The Annual Report, the monthly Record, and the weekly papers contain ample information of the necessities of this cause; but they seem either not to be read, or at least not effectually heeded and responded to.

Such complaints, and answers to them, bring no strange things to our ears. Within the last twenty years the General Assembly has been called to appoint committee after committee, to examine into the principles and working of the Board, and to recommend, if possible, a more excellent way of conducting this "outward business of the house of God." Every administration of the Board has been blamed, and thrown back the blame on the churches. The Minutes and Reports of Debates of the Assemblies of '48, '49, '53, '54, '59, '60, clearly prove this.

This periodical manifestation of dissatisfaction ought not to be regarded as evincing a mere factious spirit of fault-finding. It indicates, rather, a healthy, though it may be sometimes a misdirected desire, that a church whose organization is so admirably adapted to it, should be more efficient in this important work of home evangelization. Although our Church has greatly increased in membership, wealth, and other resources, there is yet no commensurate increase in the operations of this Board, which is the right arm of the Church. Nearly one half of our twenty-six hundred churches do not contribute at all to the cause, and many others come far short of their ability. The New-School Presbyterian Church, which has been concentrating much of its interest on this Home Department, has not only increased its contributions more rapidly than the Old-School, but it actually gives to this cause nearly one-third more per member. In that church, one hundred and ten thousand (110,000) members contributed eighty-six thousand (86,000) dollars, while our two hundred and forty-six thousand (246,000) members contributed only about ninety-six thousand (96,000) dollars to Domestic Missions, according to last year's reports. The Committee will not undertake to determine whether the fault lies with the Board or with the churches. All admit and lament that the Old-School Presbyterian

In view of this state of things, the Committee, with an earnest desire to discharge the duty imposed upon it, entered upon the inquiry, "What measures are necessary to secure greater efficiency" in this Board of Domestic Missions. It was assumed, first, that the whole Church is in its measure responsible for every part (C. F., chap. xxxvi. sec. 2; L. C. Q. 141; F. G., chap. vii; D. W., chap. iv. sec. 5); second, that the whole Church is fully able to meet the wants of all its parts. It has abundant wealth, and an adequate organization. The difficulty, therefore, is not in the poverty of the Church, nor do we believe that it is in the penuriousness of the people, but in the failure to bring into full operation the principles of our admirable system.

The Committee having every facility afforded to them by the Secretary and Treasurer, examined, as far as the circumstances would permit, the minutes of the Board, of the Executive Committee, and the books of the Treasurer. As the result of this examination, it would express the conviction that the business has been faithfully managed, with an honest desire to carry out the wishes of the Assembly, and promote the prosperity of the Church.

The Committee made inquiry respecting the methods and workings of other denominations and voluntary societies in this department, and are fully satisfied that this Church has in itself all the machinery necessary for developing; with the Divine blessing, the largest benevolence of the people, and for operating in the most efficient and successful manner. There is, however, an obvious failure to bring out the real efficiency of our organization; and this failure, it seems to the Committee, is greatly owing to the mode of constituting the Board. According to the present plan, it does not seem to come sufficiently in contact with, or represent all parts of the Church. It is not, therefore, as fully acquainted as is desirable with their capabilities and wants, and cannot manage this business as intelligently and efficiently as it ought. On examining the Minutes of the Board for the last twenty years, it was found that although composed of ninety-six members, yet seldom more than a dozen attend its meetings, and never, it is believed, has there been more than a fourth of the members present, at any one time; and of those present, seldom is there one residing more than two hundred miles from the Mission Rooms; so that by far the largest portion of the Church is entirely unrepresented. The members are elected, for the most part, without the opportunity of learning anything of their special qualifications. The same names are repeated, as a mere form, from year to year, some having been on the roll for twenty years, that have yet to be responded to for the first time.

What then is imperatively needed, is such a modification of the present mode of constituting the Board as will secure in it a proper representation of all parts of the Church, so that the interests and wants of no part will be overlooked and neglected; and so also that the influence of the Board may be brought to bear directly upon the developement of the benevolence of every congregation in the body. For this our Presbyterian system makes the most abundant provision.

Such a modification, therefore, is not only desirable in itself, but the principles of our order and government seem to demand it. The last General Assembly, in dealing with a kindred subject—Ministerial Sustentation (see Minutes, pp. 390–396),—virtually recognized the need of something of this kind, although it failed to adopt it completely. Two sister Presbyterian denominations have carried out the principle in the way proposed—the United Presbyterian quite fully, and the Southern Presbyterian church partially—with the most encouraging results. And that working, spreading church, the Episcopal Methodist, has acted upon it for some years with the greatest efficiency.

As, therefore, it is in accordance with the fundamental principles of our system, and has been fully tried and found successful, it is with no little confidence that the Committee now present and earnestly recommend to this Assembly the adoption of the following plan, as amendatory of that adopted in 1816, and amended in 1828, 1832–1834 (see Assembly's Digest, p. 352), assured that on candid consideration, it will commend itself to the whole Church.

1. That it be enjoined upon every Presbytery to appoint a Committee on Missions, of which the stated clerk of Presbytery shall be the Secretary, and one of its members shall be elected by the Presbytery as the chairman.

2. The chairman of the various Presbyterial committees of each Synod, shall constitute a Synodical Committee of Missions, whose chairman shall be elected by the Synod, and shall be ex-officio a member of the Board of Missions.

3. The chairman of all the Synodical committees, together with one layman elected by each Synod having over one hundred ministers, shall constitute THE BOARD OF MISSIONS OF THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH IN THE U. S. A. This Board shall meet twice every year, i. e., on the second Thursday of November, and on the second Thursday of May, at the Mission Rooms.

4. It shall be the duty of each Presbyterial Committee of Missions, to ascertain what vacant churches and destitute neighbourhoods there are within the bounds of its Presbytery requiring missionary aid; what unemployed ministers and licentiates connected with the body are willing to be employed by the Board; what amount of salary can be raised by the churches and neighbourhoods respectively, and what additional amount will be needed for the support of the gospel in each; and further, what amount of missionary contributions can probably be secured from each and all the churches in connection with the Presbytery, and report the same to the Synodical Committee of Missions.

5. Each ministerial member of the Board of Missions, or in case of his inability to attend, then the member next in order on the Synodical Committee, as an alternate, shall bring the reports of the Presbyterial committees of his Synod to the first meeting of the Board, and after that to each spring meeting. And the Board having thus all the information given in these reports, shall determine, after a full and impartial survey of the whole field, what amount of funds shall be appropriated to these various churches or destitute neighbourhoods. No vacant church, except in very extraordinary cases, shall receive a larger sum than it raises itself for the support of a minister; and if any church cannot, with such aid from the Board, support the gospel, it shall be united with some neighbouring church for this purpose. Nor shall any church receive an appropriation from the general fund, that does not report annually to the Board, and that does not also make collections for the Boards of Domestic and Foreign Missions and Education.

6. The Board shall at the same time estimate, as nearly as possible, the proportion that each Synod ought to contribute, to meet all the wants of the Domestic Missionary field; and the Synodical Committees shall estimate what portion of the Synod's share each Presbytery ought to contribute; and the Presbyterial Committee shall estimate what portion of the Presbytery's share each congregation ought to contribute, and seek to have it so do.

7. The Board shall elect annually a Secretary, Treasurer, and Executive Committee, consisting (besides the Secretary and Treasurer, who shall be ex-officio members,) of four ministers and three laymen, who shall meet once every month, or oftener if the Secretary shall find it necessary to call them together, to give him counsel and direction in relation to the operations of the Board. This Executive Committee shall make a report to the Board at every stated meeting.

8. The Secretary, who shall reside so near the office that he can be readily consulted by those visiting it for this purpose, shall keep a list of all the members of the Board and of the chairmen of the Presbyterial Committees, and a tabular statement of their annual reports to the Synodical Committees. He shall inform all the members of the meetings of the Board, at least ten days before the time of convening. He shall also inform them, a sufficient time before the meetings of Presbyteries, what churches have not made contributions to the Board.

9. The chairmen of the Synodical Committees shall inform the chairmen of the Presbyterial Committees what churches have not contributed to the Board during the past year, and they shall bring the neglect to the attention of the Presbyteries.

10. The Board shall make a full report of its proceedings to the General Assembly, every year.

cles, shall continue in operation; and all previous provisions that are inconsistent with the foregoing articles shall be annulled.

The present Board and Executive Committee shall continue until the new Board is elected by the Synods.

The Committee also agreed, after considering various suggestions urged upon them by members of the Board and others, to recommend to the Assembly, if it should see fit to adopt this modification of the present plan, to instruct the Board—

1. While giving due weight to the recommendations of Presbyteries, to direct the greatest measure of attention possible to the great missionary field lying in the far West.
2. To inquire into the expediency of having the Secretary visit the field more frequently.
3. To continue the District Missionaries, under the title of District Secretaries, for the present, where they are desired by Synodical Committees.
4. To inquire whether students may not be employed with advantage, for short terms, when recommended by Synodical committees; and also whether it will not be expedient to pay the expenses of ministers sent to destitute fields by way of experiment.

The Trustees of the Theological Seminary of the Presbyterian Church in Princeton, New Jersey, send to the General Assembly this their Forty-third Annual Report.

Since the meeting of the last Assembly official information has reached this Board of a bequest of six thousand dollars by the late William Shippen, M. D., of Philadelphia, for the endowment of a Scholarship; and a bequest of two thousand five hundred dollars by the late Rev. William M. Engles, D. D., of Philadelphia, for the founding of a Scholarship, to be called the Charlotte Engles Scholarship. These legacies are made payable at the termination of certain life-estates designated in the wills of the respective testators.

For several years past Messrs. R. L. & A. Stuart, of New York City, have placed in the hands of Dr. McGill one thousand dollars yearly, which have been expended in procuring instruction and training for all the students in the art of elocution. Three of the best teachers in the country have been employed with this sum to give profitable exercises as well as lectures during the term now closed.

The amount added to the Contingent Fund and invested since the beginning of the year is seventeen hundred dollars, making the sum total of that fund three thousand two hundred and eighty dollars.

The Rev. Henry B. Chapin resigned his agency for the Seminary in October last.

The Annual Report of the Librarian shows that there are now in the library twenty thousand three hundred and thirty-nine volumes, of which two hundred and sixty-nine were purchased during the year, and two hundred and sixty-five were obtained by donation as follows; from the Presbyterian Board of Publication, one hundred and seventy-nine volumes; Rev. D. M. Halliday, D.D., eighty volumes; Hon. George Sharswood, Political Ethics, one volume; Mrs. Robinson P. Dunn, a choice copy of Wetstein's New Testament in two volumes, quarto; John W. Hamersley, Transubstantiation, one volume, in antique style; Rev. Dr. McElroy, an elegant copy of Taylor's Hebrew Concordance, in four volumes, folio, once the property of Dr. John M. Mason, and containing occasional notes in his hand-writing; Robert L. Stuart, Esq., the Bible of Arias Montanus, edition of 1657, one volume, folio, the Hebrew and Greek with an interlined Latin translation, and numerous illustrations. The Rev. Wm. B. Sprague, D.D., has also given a complete collection of the Whitefield pamphlets, an invaluable contribution to the religious history of that period.

The Board of Directors of the Western Theological Seminary respectfully present the following as their Forty-first Annual Report.

J. Rogers Wilson,	"	" "
Jesse B. Wilson,	"	" "
Aaron Wilson,	"	Mount Union College.
Samuel S. Wylie,	"	Washington and Jefferson College.

Of these, J. Henderson Fleming and Algernon Marcellus were received from the Theological Seminary at Princeton, and Sandford G. Fisher and Edward Savage from the Theological Seminary at Chicago.

The whole number on the roll during the year was 73, and the new students received were the largest in numbers for the last six years, and in ability and scholarship quite above the ordinary standard.

The students were examined at the close of the term in the presence of a Committee of the Board, who report, "that they were highly gratified with the examination as conducted by all the Professors; and, on the whole, with the results of their teaching as exhibited in the answers of the students."

The Faculty report that the health of the Professors and Students has been ordinarily good.

One of the students was prostrated by sickness soon after he entered, and returned to his home and died in a few weeks.

They also report that the industry and faithfulness of the students in their work has been commendable. Twenty-five of the students have served their country in the army.

Mr. Woods, who was engaged as Instructor in Hebrew, and who filled his place to the entire satisfaction of the Faculty, has retired, and the Faculty were authorized to employ a suitable person to take his place.

The following students have completed the full course of studies and received the Diploma of the Seminary, viz., William F. Brown, Ebenezer Caldwell, John Creath, Thompson R. Ewing, Winfield E. Hill, William H. Hillis, Abia A. Hough, George M. McFarland, Thomas J. Milford, James M. Newell, John Rea, John H. Ritchie, James M. Roberts, Edward Savage, Horace S. Snodgrass, and Luke J. Wasson.

The Board of Directors would respectfully represent to the General Assembly, that in their view very serious evils must result to our educational system, by assigning different seasons of the year to different Seminaries for their Term of Theological Study:

1. Because the practical effect of such a course must be to hurry many of our students through the theological curriculum, so as to compress the studies intended for three years into the space of nineteen calendar months. This not only does not afford sufficient time for the thorough mastery of the subjects, but must be detrimental to the bodily health of such as are at all diligent in their studies.

2. It must tend to make the curriculum itself of a very desultory, if not fragmentary character, to the great injury of our standard of ministerial education.

3. It operates especially to the prejudice of those Seminaries whose course of study is based upon the plan of conducting three separate classes through each academical year.

The Rev. David H. Riddle, D. D., tendered his resignation as a member of this Board.

The term of office of the following members will expire during the sessions of the Assembly:

DANVILLE THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS.

The Directors of the Danville Theological Seminary, respectfully present to the General Assembly this, their Fifteenth Annual Report.

When the last annual report of this Board was made to the General Assembly, in May, 1867, this Seminary was in a state of suspension; and three of its chairs had been vacated by resignation of professors. And this Board in their Annual (14th) Report, for reasons stated therein, asked the General Assembly, first, to reorganize this Board and reduce the number of its members. Second, To fill the vacant chairs of professors. Third, To reopen the Seminary. Fourth, To establish a fifth professorship; and Fifth, To change the time of the opening and closing the sessions of the Seminary. All these things were done by the Assembly, save the last mentioned.

The change of the time in opening and closing the sessions of the Seminary was referred by the General Assembly back to this Board of Directors. See Minutes, Assembly 1867, page 341.

This Board now report, that on June 26, 1867, they met as reorganized by the General Assembly, and took into consideration the matter referred to them; and that after having maturely considered the same, took the following action thereon, to wit:—"The General Assembly having referred back to this Board the question as to the time when the Danville Theological Seminary shall be reopened; it was moved, that the Board now do, with reference to the time of reopening the Theological Seminary, what it recommended the last General Assembly to do, to wit: That it be, and it is hereby ordered that the yearly session of the Danville Theological Seminary shall commence on the first secular day of May, 1868—and extend to the last secular day of October, 1868. And so, from year to year, until the further order of this Board. This motion was passed unanimously.

Also the Rev. E. P. Humphrey, D. D., signified to the Board during said meeting, on June 26, 1867, his declinature of the chair to which he had recently been elected by the General Assembly, and the Board have therefore to report the chair of Biblical and Ecclesiastical History as still vacant, and hereby unanimously ask the General Assembly to fill said vacant chair at their ensuing sessions, if possible, with some professor who will enter upon the duties thereof immediately.

During its present sessions, May 4, 1868, the Professors of the Seminary thought it prudent to consult the Board touching the propriety of reopening the Seminary, and after again carefully considering this question, the Board resolved, that it is its unanimous judgment, that the Seminary should be reopened at this time; and, in accordance with this judgment, directed the Professors to go forward with their work therein.

Also, Rev. S. Yerkes, D. D., being present, and having signified to the Board of Directors his acceptance of the chair of Biblical and Oriental Literature, to which he had been elected by the General Assembly of 1867. Also Rev. R. W. Landis, D. D., being present, and having signified his acceptance of the chair of Church Government and Pastoral Theology, to which he had been elected by the General Assembly of 1867, by the requisition of the Board of Directors, and in compliance with the Plan of the Seminary, part 4, section 2, and paragraph 3, page 14, each did "publicly profess, that the standards of doctrine, government, discipline, and worship of this Church are the standards of his own faith; and subscribed a writing, setting forth that he has made the said public profession; and solemnly binding himself diligently to teach the system contained in said standards; and to teach nothing contrary thereto, so long as he shall continue a professor in this Seminary." Also an order was made for their more complete and public inauguration on a fixed day in October next.

This Seminary has been reopened under circumstances of encouragement, and amid indications of Providence that awaken the hope in the hearts of this Board, that the Divine favour will soon rest upon it in large measures—making it a blessing to the Church at large, and a praise to the name of our Lord Jesus Christ.

From this report the General Assembly will see that the Scholarship fund is very small, and wholly inadequate to the necessities of the Seminary, and the Trustees hereby express the earnest hope that the Assembly will devise and execute some plan for the speedy augmentation of this fund.

Also, this report exhibits the fact that the expenditures of the Seminary have been kept rigidly within its income. But this institution much needs the fostering care of the Church at large, and cannot efficiently perform the work and fulfil the end for which it was established without a still more liberal endowment.

THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY OF THE NORTHWEST.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE DIRECTORS.

The Board of Directors of the Theological Seminary of the Northwest, report to the General Assembly, that the Ninth Annual Session of this institution has closed under circumstances which indicate encouraging progress.

There have been in attendance during the term which commenced September 7th, 1867, and closed April 1st, 1868, twenty-three young men; all of whom have pursued their studies with commendable diligence, and with no interruption from serious illness.

Of these eight have entered the Seminary since the last report, to wit:

John B. Matthews,	graduate of	Watson College, Md.
S. T. Davis,	"	Washington and Jefferson College, Pa.
J. G. Bergen,	"	Nassau Hall, N. J.
David Clark,	"	Miami University, Ohio.
Alex. S. Peck,	"	Hanover College, Ind.
N. A. Rankin,	"	Nassau Hall, N. J.
J. W. Hutchinson,	"	Woodstock Academy, Ills.
Albert McCalla,	"	Monmouth College, Ill.

Messrs. Augustine Breese, Edward Cornes, George M. Lodge, Thomas Galt, Joseph M. Wilson, and John B. Matthews, having gone through the prescribed course of study, and having passed the usual examination, have been awarded the customary certificate of graduation.

It is especially gratifying to record that a growing interest in behalf of the foreign mission work has appeared in the Seminary, and that Mr. Cornes, of the last graduating class, has already sailed for Japan, the field of his future labours, under the auspices of our Board of Foreign Missions. We understand that others also of this class have the duty of entering upon the foreign work under prayerful consideration.

During the past year, as heretofore, the students have been employed in Sabbath-school and other evangelistic labours in Chicago and vicinity, affording continued illustration of the wisdom of planting Seminaries in fields where, from the number of the population, such labours are practicable.

The Faculty and Committee of Examination, in their reports to the Board at its recent meeting, speak in terms of high commendation of the uniform diligence of the students in their studies, and of their exemplary Christian deportment.

By the action of the General Assembly of 1867, Rev. Willis Lord, D. D., Prof. of Biblical and Ecclesiastical History, was transferred to the Cyrus H. McCormick Professorship of Didactic and Polemic Theology; and although in accordance with the recommendation of the Assembly, the Executive Committee, in conjunction with the Faculty, endeavoured to procure the services of some competent person to give instruction in the chair thus vacated, their utmost efforts were futile. Drs. Lord and Elliott, however, in addition to the duties appropriate to their respective professorships, have given some instruction, the one in Ecclesiastical, the other in Biblical History, whilst Dr. Halsey, with health much more firm than at the period of our last report, has been able to impart full instruction in the department of Pastoral and Historical Theology and Church Government. We have reason to thank the Great Head of the Church for his continued favour to these faithful labourers in the cause of theological learning.

The Board at its recent meeting feeling however the need of having the institution fully manned, and relying upon that God who has so manifestly exhibited his favour to us in the past, resolved, by a unanimous vote, to ask this General Assembly to fill the Professorship of Biblical and Ecclesiastical History, now vacant.

The term of office of the following named Directors expires at the present meeting of the General Assembly, to wit:

Ministers—J. G. Bergen, D. D., J. H. Nixon, Robert Patterson, D. D.

Ruling Elders—Charles Crosby, J. D. Thorpe, J. Sheets, David Keith, Warren Norton.

Attention is called to the fact, that of this Class the Rev. J. M. Lowrie, D.D., has died since the last report, and the place of the Rev. A. A. E. Taylor, resigned, remains unfilled.

The class going out in 1869:

Ministers.	Ruling Elders.
I. N. Candee, D. D.	J. C. Grier,
J. Fleming,	L. Clark,
W. S. Wilson,	Charles A. Spring,
J. W. Sterling,	J. L. Williams,
H. R. Price,	H. K. Clarke.

Of these it is proper the Assembly should know that Rev. J. W. Sterling has resigned.

The class going out in 1870:

S. T. Wilson, D. D.	Samuel Howe,
F. N. Ewing,	John Woodbridge, Jr.
J. P. Safford, D. D.	Henry Phelps,
F. C. Brown,	J. McKee Peoples.
J. G. Monfort, D. D.	J. C. Walker,
J. D. Mason,	J. M. Ray.

The attention of the Assembly is called to the fact that this class has an excess of two members, one minister and one ruling elder, over the other classes upon the Board.

The class going out in 1871:

R. G. Thompson,	A. P. Waterman,
W. W. Harsha,	N. C. Thompson,
R. C. Matthews, D. D.	W. G. Holmes,
H. M. Robertson,	James L. Lamb,
D. C. Marquis,	H. G. Spafford.

As the reports of the Trustees and the Treasurer are herewith transmitted, containing detailed statements of our financial condition, it is only needful here to say, that the institution has been enabled through God's blessing upon the labours of our efficient financial agent, largely to reduce the debt resting upon us six months ago—and if his success in the future equals our expectations we hope to be wholly free from all indebtedness when called to make our next report.

At a meeting of the Board held in September last, Rev. J. M. Faris, our former very successful financial agent, who had resigned some months before, and Rev. W. B. Truax, an alumnus of the Seminary of the class of 1861, were elected agents. Mr. Faris did not see his way clear to accept, and Mr. Truax, who accepted and entered upon the work November 1st, has since then prosecuted the agency to the entire satisfaction of the friends of the institution. He has been received with great favour by the churches, and has met with liberal responses to his appeals for aid. We are encouraged to believe from his past success, that with the Divine blessing upon his labours, the Seminary will be placed upon a firm financial basis at no distant day.

Rev. I. N. Candee, D. D., who was an active financial agent of the Board, at our last report, resigned in November last.

Good board, during the past year, as heretofore, was furnished to the students at a cost of $2.50 per week, and the Directors are confident that the expenses to young men entering this institution, need be no greater than those attending a course at any of the other Seminaries of the Church. We can give assurance that the price for board will not exceed, per week, the sum above named.

ABSTRACT OF THE ANNUAL REPORT FOR 1867–8.

Though threatened with embarrassments in the middle of the past year, God's mercy brought us through, and the churches answered our appeals for aid. Two of the members of the Board have been removed by death, Rev. Dr. Krebs, and Rev. Dr. J. M. Lowrie, of Indiana. Three of the missionaries have died, Rev. George Porter, of Iowa, Rev. Thomas Bellows, and Rev. F. Steins, of New York. Six hundred and thirteen missionaries have been in commission during the year, distributed over thirty-two States and Territories; working earnestly in the faith of the gospel, and receiving, in many cases, their reward from the Lord of the harvest. Fifty-nine churches have been organized, and eleven have become self-supporting. Three thousand three hundred and eighty-two have been added to the churches on profession of their faith, and on certificate two thousand one hundred and twenty. The entire membership in our missionary churches is twenty-five thousand five hundred and fifty-three. Four hundred and fifty-two Sabbath-Schools, with four thousand one hundred and fifty-five teachers, and thirty-one thousand nine hundred and seventeen scholars, are reported. There was promised to the missionaries $112,080.50. This is below the ability of our Church, and utterly inadequate to the increasing demands of our country. Our receipts were $113,109.69. An excess of the year preceding of $16,131.88. With a balance at the beginning of the year, and the command of a reserve fund, our available resources were $164,044.04. Thus we met the demands on us of $146,600.05.

We have continued the system of district missionaries, as the Assembly of 1867 ordered them to be called, instead of secretaries as we proposed. We have six working in six of the Western States. We feel assured of the value of the system when rightly conducted; and it is capable of enlargement and great success.

Boxes have been furnished by the ladies of many churches to the amount of $22,163.08, a gratifying increase over preceding years. Besides these, there have been donations of bells, books, and sums of money privately sent, which reveal an interest in this great cause.

Our work is twofold—1st. To supplement the salaries of ministers toiling in feeble churches; and we venture the assertion that diligence on part of Presbyteries might relieve the Board of much of this, in evoking the sleeping ability of many of the churches so aided. 2d. The great design of our fathers in the erection of the Board, which was to extend the limits of the church by sending missionaries into unoccupied fields, and along our advancing frontiers.

The Church has two grand schemes—Missions, Foreign and Domestic—the one contemplates the teeming millions beyond our continent, and in the immeasurable fields swarming with degraded life. Ours is the land we love and where we dwell—we begin at Jerusalem—we have now more than four millions of square miles; a field in its magnitude worthy of profoundest study. In the conversion of this land to Christ the heathen world has the deepest interest. We have a population of forty millions, hourly swollen by the immigration of men seeking to improve their condition under the fullest liberty; and our own natural increase, making it certain that in thirty odd years we shall number 100,000,000, and then have less than thirty to the square mile. We have a few brethren in Colorado, not enough to form a Presbytery; none in the regions beyond, Nevada, Idaho, Dacotah, Washington, and Utah.

The character of the population is an important element in the calculation. There is enterprise, education, intelligence, and energy; but there is error, superstition, infidelity, and looseness of morals—this makes the necessity of early and urgent action. Properly cultured by the softening influences of religion, it would be of immeasureable value to the world; if degraded by the debasing tendencies of our corrupt nature, it would be a curse to itself and a scourge to mankind. The immigration from Europe, so greatly stimulated of late years, is deeply popish, or as sadly infidel.

The demand for labourers is great, and the appeals from our brethren are affecting. Exhausted themselves by abundant labours, unable to overtake the rapidly developing fields, they look to us for brethren to share the toils and honours of their frontier work. Important positions are mentioned, which promise much for vigorous and early efforts. Never was there so great demand for the right kind of men as now. It is true there is labour, and toil, and self-sacrifice; these are all for the honour of the members, and the missionary's crown of rejoicing in the day of the Lord Jesus. Yet we cannot, for our means are insufficient, and the churches do not come up to our help.

Men that preach the gospel should surely live by the gospel. It is the simple duty of each church to support its own minister, without aid from other sources, if able at all, and nothing will so cramp and dwarf religion as undue reliance on other aid. When they have taxed themselves to the utmost, it will be time to seek the aid of the Board. All who are aided should steadily aim at independence. The Board will welcome all proper applications. All we desire is the conservation of entrusted funds, and the unfolding of the Church's growth and power.

Our review bids us be thankful, and though we have not been able to overtake all the opportunities which offered, nor occupy all the points of commanding importance, yet we have made some progress—we have held our own and made some inroads on the abounding desolation. Fields of mission labour have been better arranged—churches consolidated, and efforts towards independent existence been successfully made. The immigrants who went west were of a better class than heretofore; more thrifty and intelligent and moral. Yet, alas, there was too much of the infidelity, formalism, and superstition of the old world. Our own people have advanced. The war has not been without its beneficial results—men have been made more thoughtful, large-hearted, nobler in their aims, and more awake to the necessities of our country. They know our land must have the gospel—that our institutions, saved in the last decisive appeal to the sword over armed rebellion, are to repose on the firm foundation of God's word. And when the sublime anticipations of the men who brought the gospel to our shores, that it might put forth its unhindered power, are realized, who can doubt but that truth, freedom, and righteousness will triumph. Missionaries will go forth preaching the gospel of love, and love will reign. The gospel will cure all the evils which afflict us, and nothing else will.

The year which has closed, was one of blessed revival. The reports are very precious, and the joy of our brethren was like the joy of harvest. They have been cheered and encouraged amid their self-denial. Their's was the joy of angels, when one sinner repenteth. We bear testimony, that these missionaries, taken as a whole, are true men—anxious to receive the blessing—for this they labour, and for this they pray; they watch for souls—and God has rewarded this watching—has opened the windows of heaven. It is to be remarked, that in many cases, these gracious visitations were in connection with the Week of Prayer—they expected great things, and they attempted great things—nor were they disappointed. In some cases, the accessions have been marvellous, and the churches were edified. This is abundant recompense for all we have done in sustaining these brethren, and surely such tidings may well urge the Church to greater effort, and larger benevolence. Thanks be to God for his unspeakable gift.

Our trust is in God—that the blessing is not for this nation and this time only—but for all nations and all ages after us. Our beloved Church must meet her share of this grand responsibility, or stand aside and give up her stewardship—must accept the responsibility and be thankful for the honour. Let us grasp the opportunity, and stand by this fair land, in this the hour of her spiritual agony. We received the trust from our fathers, now sleeping in the dust of their honoured graves—we must carry it, till we fall and leave it to others. The Church lives, though man dies—the word of the Lord liveth and abideth for ever. The sure and glorious end shall come, and the hope of Gov. Bradford, of Puritan memory, shall have its joyous fulfilment in the chorus of ransomed believers—"that as one small candle may light a thousand, so the light on these shores may in some sort shine even to the whole nation and through the world." We labour not for this land only, though that is work and glory enough for any church, but for all lands. The eyes of the world are upon us—the sympathies of the nation are with us—the peaceful character of our intercourse with eastern nations has impressed them favourably. Then if our people were all righteous—if our seamen would carry a pure gospel to the shores they visit, then would the ships of Tarshish bring their sons from afar, their silver and gold with them, unto the name of the Lord its God, and to the Holy One of Israel, because He hath glorified Thee. How sublime the prospect! How grand the work! Therefore the gates shall be open continually; they shall not be shut day nor night: that men may bring unto Thee the forces of the Gentiles, and that their kings may be brought.

ABSTRACT OF THE ANNUAL REPORT FOR 1867-68.

The portion of the Report devoted to the department of Ministerial Education presents a subject of more than common interest.

Inner Life of the Candidates.—In the Reports of last year and that preceding, some important statistical information and facts, gleaned from the records of the Board and other sources, were presented. In this it is said: "We enter upon another field of information and suggestion, which ought to touch still deeper strings of tender emotion. Without revealing the names, or present position of the writers, the correspondence of the candidates, during the past two or three years has been looked over, and such extracts selected from the letters, as would reveal the spirit of the writers, their leading purposes, and their sentiments as to their studies and calling. And we may truly say, that the exceptions to the general elevated tone of these letters, which we find in our large files, are very few." The extracts are grouped under several heads, the more fully to exhibit the inner life of these young brethren, and the means by which God has seen fit to direc their way. These are "Consecration by parents," "Experiences of young men seeking an education," "Sentiments as to duty," "Self-denial of students," "Appeals of teachers," "Overflowing of gratitude," "Influence upon fellow-students," "Applications from soldiers," and "Influence in the army."

Coloured Candidates—In accordance with the permission of the last General Assembly to relax temporarily in favour of coloured men in the South the rule requiring of candidates when received, "at least three months study in the Latin language," five of the promising young men at the Biddle Memorial Institute have been taken under the care of the Board. This in no wise conflicts with the distinct and important work of the Church's Committee on Freedmen.

Relations of Presbyteries to Candidates for the Ministry.—In order to present to the Church the number of candidates aided by the Board, compared with that of those not aided, and to make some important suggestions in regard to the care of presbyteries over all candidates, efforts have been made during the year to collect the information required, which is presented in a tabular form in the Report; we regret that we have not room for it here.

Candidates during the Year.—The following table gives a view of the number of candidates during the year:

in their Theological course,	119
in their Collegiate course,	98
in their Academical course,	77
Entire number received from the beginning, in 1819,		3522

"The Church will see with comfort and hope the large increase in the number of new candidates received. Last year there were eighty-one; this year one hundred and six; which is an addition of almost one-third to the previous number. We thank our Master for this evidence of favour to his Church. And the Board takes courage to press more earnestly upon Christians and their offspring those high and constraining principles and motives which can alone fill with faithful recruits the ranks of the army of salvation, or can sustain them in the conflicts before them. These are, love to God; believing prayer; a determination to seek out wherever Satan has bound them in chains, and to save, by publishing the grace of Christ, that which was lost; and willingness to make all the preparations needful for the work, endure all sufferings, consecrate all property, wholly give self, give sons and daughters for life and death. How soon would this spirit crowd our seminaries, and carry the gospel to every creature!"

State of the Treasury.—The contributions for the year have been to Candidates' Fund, $38,950; to School Fund, $4,414. The payments for candidates,

$42,279; for schools, &c., $3,705. Total receipts, $43,364; $1,644, more than last year. "While the contributions to the Ministerial Department have been nearly the same, those to that of General Education have been nearly doubled, as compared with last year. And yet so large are the draughts upon each treasury that we must appeal to churches that have not contributed to make liberal collections for them. Especially is this the case in the General Educational Department, where the numerous appeals for help from the schools of various kinds and grades have already nearly consumed the contribution of the Day of Prayer for Schools in February; so that we must appeal to brethren who have sent us nothing for them yet, to remember the urgent pleas which they will read in the second division of this Report, in behalf of the Parochial schools, academies, colleges, the German and French mission schools, and others, which deserve our best wishes and our generous and effective aid."

Summary of the Work done in the Department of General Education from the Year 1847 till now.—This is presented in several parallel columns, and brings to light some very important facts for the consideration of the church at large in regard to the history of the efforts in behalf of General Education. "The first column shows from a careful examination of our records, that the number of institutions aided by the Church increased from 1848 till 1855, when it began to diminish. At the time of Dr. Van Rensselaer's death, in 1860, it had diminished more than one-half, that is, from sixty to twenty-seven. It fell as low as eleven in 1863. It is again on the increase, and is now up to the average (twenty-five) of the years 1859—61.

"The second column shows the number of Presbyteries that have aided the work. This has been very irregular in successive years. The average has been over eighteen each year. During this year contributions have been sent to us from twenty-six.

"The third column tells the number of churches that have contributed each year. The average number has been twenty-nine. This year it was fifty, a number only exceeded in two previous years.

"The fourth column gives the contributions for each year. It is to be explained in regard to it that the heaviest amounts were given by a smaller number of individuals in the Eastern Synods, until within a few years. Even yet a few generous benefactors do as much as all the churches together. But for a number of years, in order to bring the cause fully before the Church, and to encourage exertions in behalf of a better education for the children of the Church, they gave in much larger amounts. A gentleman now deceased, who was connected with the Brick Church in the city of New York, gave five thousand dollars per annum for several years. We can hardly look for such sums at present from any source. Our trust is in the small contributions of those who love the Saviour and will aid us as the Lord enables them, that are scattered in the churches all over the land; many it may be are poor, but follow their gifts of money with prayers that will make many rich."

Reports of Schools, Academies, and Colleges.—These are numerous, full, and interesting, covering twenty-nine pages of the Annual Report. The increased activity of the Presbyterian Church in the field of academic and collegiate education is encouraging. Several new institutions have been established. One of these, "Birmingham College," Iowa, announces in its first annual report two hundred and eighteen students, male and female, with a good building, apparatus, &c. Others have been much prospered. Of Lafayette College it is remarked: "The extraordinary pecuniary success of this institution should be a lesson to others all over the land. In the face of previous prejudices and difficulties, it has secured within three years, the sum of three hundred and sixty thousand dollars, or, to speak with exactness, two hundred thousand, with pledges of one hundred and sixty thousand more, when the full amount of two hundred thousand dollars more has been subscribed. Like activity and zeal, where the cause is manifestly a worthy one, and the agents to promote it intelligent, earnest, prudent, and reliable, must secure, in ordinary cases, success."

It is said, "The effort to build up a fine literary institution for the populous Presbyterian region of which Wooster is the centre, promises to be an eminent success. The site of twenty acres of land, in an elevated position, is admirably adapted for the purpose, close by the town. It was the gift of one generous gentleman. The subscription for the fund devoted to the construction of the building now amounts to near $125,000; the main portion of it collected in the town (of five thousand inhabitants) and county. Their hearts are in the work, and it must succeed; the movers in the enterprise are men who look to the great ends for which the intellects of men should be cultivated and enlightened."

Schools among Foreign Populations.—The accounts from the French and German schools are as interesting as the narratives of foreign missionaries. They are minute, and furnish delightful proofs of God's converting power in the hearts of some of the scholars. We cannot at this time give more special information as to them. The report of the Board says, "Our ministry and people are beginning to feel the importan e of reaching the immigrants from the continent of Europe to the United States, and their children, with the influence of the gospel. The Board has had some encouragement to its efforts to enlist attention to the schools among them, though not so much as it should have had, considering the number of these people, and the danger which their presence threatens both in Church and State. It is a fact which should be deeply pondered, and excite us to action, that they are already beginning to move in antagonism to religion in the matter of education, to endeavour to banish the Bible and prayer from schools, and to introduce school-books suited to their views, in some parts of the country where they have sufficient influence to hope for success."

Want of Men and Means.—The want of men for the wants of the Church is shown from quotations to that effect. An appeal is made for larger contributions next year of means to educate those whom the Lord is calling.

"When God is blessing the operation of the Board, the Church is called upon to respond by its free and hearty support. He has added one-third to the number of the candidates depending upon it for assistance, and has increased the various classes of schools springing up in fields both near and remote, to bless with their fruits our own people, and to realize to us the promise, 'the sons of strangers shall build up thy walls.' And the Board feels justified in calling upon those who love the Lord to rejoice in those evidences that 'in his favour he has had mercy upon us,' and to bring their gifts that we may perform his work as we ought. Though the contributions to General Education (schools, &c.) have been almost doubled the past year, yet we need twice the last amount, at least four thousand dollars more, during the remainder of the year, to enable us to meet the expectations of teachers in their numerous fields of self-denying toil, and to give them what their schools, academies, &c., ask; and that how little compared with what they need! We look to the many pastors and Christian friends who have not yet aided the cause, to remember it at a time when they may be able. But we cannot ask it to be done at the expense of the other Department. We need an additional sum this year to support the new students for the ministry."

The Great Motive.—"It is little any of us can do to draw out the sympathies of the heart of man, or to get his efficient help for any good work, until we set him on fire with the love of Christ. In that love there is a power which will 'constrain' him to labour, to give, to suffer, gladly; counting it all joy to do whatsoever that Master calls him to do, to go wheresoever he points him to go, and to be ready also to die if by that death he may glorify him. No other motive is so powerful to unlock all the treasuries of affection, and motive, and earthly possessions, as the love of Christ."

A BRIEF ABSTRACT OF THE ANNUAL REPORT.

In giving an abstract of the Thirty-first Annual Report of the Board of Foreign Missions, it is difficult to set forth in figures, or even by facts to exhibit what has been done for the spiritual renovation, the moral improvement, the social and intellectual elevation of the people where our missionaries are labouring; and still more difficult for any mind to comprehend, from such simple statements, the nature, the quality, and the extent of the Church's gifts for this cause, or what has been achieved, by means of these, in the different missions of the Board.

Missions and Missionaries—These missions are found among the Jews and the Indian tribes of this country; the Chinese in California; the Romanists of Brazil and the United States of Colombia; in Japan, China, Siam, among the Laos, and in India; in Liberia and Corisco in Africa. In these countries the Board has 79 foreign missionaries, 4 missionary physicians, 21 ordained native and licentiate preachers; 17 assistant missionaries from this country, besides the wives of missionaries; native helpers, 184,—or, in all, a force of 370. There are 44 organized churches, with a membership of over 1600; to these, as far as reported, have been added during the past year nearly 300 communicants.

New Missionaries.—The missions of the Board have been reinforced during the year by 11 ordained ministers, one licentiate, one physician, and 11 assistant missionaries; of these 18 were new labourers.

Deaths.—Two ministers have been removed by death—the Rev. A. G. Simonton, of Brazil, and the Rev. Ishwari Das, of India; the one a foreign missionary, the other a native minister, but both well qualified and at an age when seemingly best fitted for great usefulness in their respective fields. Mrs. Noyes, of Canton, was also called to her rest soon after reaching her station.

Two native brethren have been ordained in India, and two licensed to preach the gospel, and one in Siam.

Schools.—In the schools of various grades, are 6750 children, all more or less brought under gospel influences. What is encouraging in this department is the large number of females attending schools in India; one of the many evidences of change for the better in that land.

Finances.—The receipts of the Board have been $285,308; the expenditures, with the debt of last year of $35,472, have been $312,828, leaving a balance against the treasury of $27,250. The gifts of the Children of our Church for this cause were unexampled in her history, amounting to $45,340. The sum of $50,700 have been expended for extra exchange. The monetary derangement of our country interferes greatly with the progress of the missionary work.

Help Needed.—Amidst so much that is cheering in the work abroad, so much that is inspiriting in Christ's providential movements among the nations of the world so much that tells of preparation and advance for his reign of righteousness in our earth, it is sad that the Board has again to close its year in debt, and which confronts the Committee as they act upon the estimates of the coming year. If this debt could but be removed and the Board go forward at the beginning of a new year, unencumbered, and free from such a depressing load, much more could be done for the Master and for the perishing. But as the cause is his and must advance, he can call forth, in his own way and time, the sanctified wealth of his people and give a quickened impulse to the onward missionary movements of the age, until his way shall be known upon earth, his saving health among all nations.

ABSTRACT OF THE THIRTIETH ANNUAL REPORT, 1868.

The past year has not been a favourable one for enlarging its business transactions. Great caution has been necessary to avoid losses. Trade, including the trade in books, has been much restricted. Nevertheless, the Board is happy to report that it has made some advance in every department of its operations. It has published a large number of new books, has sold more than in any former year, has extended its gratuitous distributions, and its publications have gone forth into every part of our own land and to distant countries.

Its receipts have also been in advance of the preceding year. Its work has found general favour in the eyes of the ministers and people of our Church. And far above all, we have ample cause to rejoice in the many evidences that God has graciously owned and used the agencies and publications of the Board as instruments for the conversion of sinners, the reclamation of backsliders, and for encouraging, comforting, and instructing his professing people.

I. The Department of Production.

The Board has issued during the year,

The reprints of former publications during the year have been,

Of books,	175,750
Of tracts,	246,000

		556,750

In addition to the above, there have been printed during the year,

Of the Sabbath-School Visitor,	1,084,000	copies.
Of the Home and Foreign Record,	146,750	"
Of the Annual Report of the Board,	3,500	"
Of the Report on Re-Union,	3,500	"
Of the Report on the Sabbath,	3,500	"

The Sabbath-School Visitor.

We are gratified to state that the Sabbath-School Visitor continues to grow in favour with the Sabbath-Schools. Its circulation was reported last year at 82,000 copies monthly. Since that time it has reached 90,000 copies, a gain of 8,000 copies.

The General Assembly of 1866, adopted a resolution declaring, "that as soon as the Board can find it financially prudent to publish the Sabbath-School Visitor twice a month, instead of once, the importance of the paper requires that it should be done." The Board, persuaded that the time had come for carrying out this direction, began, in January last, to issue the Visitor twice a month, leaving it optional with each school whether to take it monthly or semi-monthly. The price of the paper has been fixed at one cent per copy, when eight copies or more were sent to one address.

The Record.

The Record is equally the organ of all the Boards of the Church; the executive officers of each Board editing its own pages. It is only noticed in this Report, because of its being published by the Board of Publication. We have great pleasure in stating that a very large increase has been made to its subscription list, since the date of our last Annual Report. At that time 10,250 copies were published monthly; now 16,000 are issued, being a gain of 5,750. The cost of the paper in excess of its receipts was $3225.61, from January 1, 1867, to January 1, 1868, the deficiency being $408.22 less than that for the year preceding. The increase of subscription, which has occurred mainly during the latter part of the year, indicates that the deficiency may next year be further and very considerably reduced. This deficiency, which covers the cost of about 3,000 copies sent gratuitously to ministers, licentiates, and candidates for the ministry, is made up at the end of each year, by the several Boards in proportion to the space occupied by each.

II. Department of Distribution.

1. Sales in the Depository.—During the year under review 248,801 volumes have been sold in the Depository, being an increase of 22,178 on the sales of the year preceding. Of tracts, the sales have amounted to 379,526 pages, an increase of 4,826 pages.

The net value of these sales is $69,214.29, an increase of $5,006.82 upon the year previous.

This sum includes only the sales in the bookstore, not those effected by colporteurs, which are elsewhere stated.

The value of books sent to our theological seminaries by order of the General Assembly, and to authors and editors, is $1,135.55.

2. Distributions by the Executive Committee.—The amount contributed during the year to the Distribution Fund has been $2,157.73. This has been principally contributed by a few liberal Christian friends, and a few Sabbath-schools. The amount expended in grants made by the Executive Committee in answer to special appeals, has been $2,835.47, as follows:

To Mission and other needy Sabbath-schools, Freedman's schools, &c.	11,622	volumes.
" Ships of War,	368	"
" Humane institutions,	146	"
" Ministers and feeble churches,	1,664	"
" Individuals, for gratuitous distribution,	2,455	"
Total of volumes granted,	16,255
Pages of tracts granted,	213,195

3. Distribution by Colportage.—During the past year 146 colporteurs have reported 9,522 days of labour, having sold 66,177 volumes and distributed gratuitously 36,721 volumes and 996,653 pages of tracts. They also report that they have visited 79,947 families, with a large proportion of which they have conversed and prayed.

The above statement does not include a number of colporteurs who have had commissions, but who failed to report. Nor does it comprehend the work done by a large number of voluntary distributors, who have without commission and without compensation distributed a large number of the Board's publications in their respective vicinities.

Many students from our Theological Seminaries are expecting to spend their summer vacation in this work, and the Board is always ready to employ, at a liberal rate of compensation, such of them as furnish the required testimonials. It is a noble field for acquiring an experience which will tend to enlarge their subsequent usefulness in the ministerial life.

Total of Distributions.—Bringing together the several amounts already mentioned, we obtain the total of distributions made during the year as follows:

Volumes sold at the Depository,	248,801
" sold by Colporteurs,	66,177
" given by Colporteurs,	36,721
" granted by the Executive Committee,	16,255
Total,	367,954

The pages of tracts distributed have been as follows:

By sale at the Depository,	379,526
Gratuitously by Colporteurs,	996,653
Granted by Executive Committee,	213,195
Total,	1,589,374

Besides these the Board has issued,

Copies of the Sabbath-school Visitor,	1,084,000
" of the Home and Foreign Record,	146,750
" of various reports,	10,500

Sales in the Depository,	$69,214 29
Sent to Seminaries, Authors, Editors, &c.,	1,135 55
Sales by Colporteurs,	41,552 57
Sabbath-school Visitor,	11,404 18
Home and Foreign Record,	5,939 35
Total,	$129,245 94

This is an increase of $9,010.17 on the sales of the year preceding.

This total, it should be remarked, includes credit sales and donations, and therefore does not agree with the Treasurer's account, which exhibits only the cash received.

The catalogue value of these sales is about $153,500; the difference consisting in discounts allowed to booksellers, ministers, &c.

III. Department of Sustentation.

The total of receipts into the treasury during the year, excluding, of course, the balance in hand, March 1, 1867, has been $149,083.65, an increase of $3,382.13 over the total of the year before.

The aggregate expenditures of the year have been $152,042.60, an increase of $14,702.44, which has been caused by making an unusually large addition to the stock on the shelves of the Depository.

The cash received from the sales of books, tracts, and periodicals, has amounted to $116,272.02, which is $2,364.18 more than in the year preceding.

The balance in the treasury at the end of the year is $10,172.42.

The Colportage Fund.— The receipts for colportage during the year have been $29,005.95, and the expenditures $26,164.36.

The number of churches contributing to the Colportage Fund has been 778.

We ask the attention of pastors and churches, and especially of that large number who have done nothing during the last year to aid the Board in carrying on its colportage work, to the following resolution of the General Assembly of 1866.

"That the right arm of the Board, its system of colportage, ought to be more directly presented to their churches by pastors and ruling elders, as the chief claim of this department of church enterprise, for their liberal help."

The first Sabbath in May has been set apart by the Assembly for a simultaneous collection in all the churches for this Fund, with a recommendation that whenever the collection cannot be taken on that day, it be taken on the earliest Sunday afterward, when it is possible.

We make an earnest appeal for a liberal response to this recommendation, and we enforce it by simply reminding our brethren, in the various congregations, that every contribution which is given, helps to send a living voice, accompanied by a well-tried tract or book, to perishing souls who either live under the droppings of the sanctuary but enter it not, or are in the regions beyond and seldom or never hear the ordained minister of Jesus. Help, brethren, help thus to preach the gospel to them.

BOARD OF CHURCH EXTENSION.

President—Rev. S. J. Niccolls, D. D.
Corresponding Secretary—Rev. Henry I. Coe.
Treasurer—David Keith.

THIRTEENTH ANNUAL REPORT.

By the blessing of the Lord we can report to the General Assembly unexampled success in the work of Church Extension. In no equal period of its history have the operations of your Board been so large or shown so great progress as in the twelve months ending April 1, 1868.

During that time 948 churches or 119 more than in the preceding year, gave a sum of $5,264 larger than was ever contributed by churches in a single year to our funds. The receipts were $50,317, or thirty per cent. in excess of any similar period. The applications for aid were nearly twenty-two per cent. beyond those of the previous year. The appropriations exceeded those of 1867, twenty-two per cent. in number, and fourteen per cent. in amount, aggregating $53,454. The payment to churches were $58,174, or forty per cent. beyond those of the preceding year.

Applications.—During the year ending April 1, 1868, one hundred and eighty churches sought aid to the amount of $106,577, averaging $592 to each church. Adding to these the applications on file and undisposed of April 1, 1867, the Board had before it during the year two hundred and thirty-nine applications, calling for $147,277. There remained on our register April 1, 1868, awaiting the receipt of further information, applications from one hundred and fifteen churches, calling for $79,375.

Appropriations.—Appropriations were made during the year to one hundred and twenty-two churches, whose names and localities are given in the Appendix. The amount granted to these churches was $53,454.50, being an average of $438.15 to each church.

Appropriations amounting to $1300 were during the year withdrawn from four churches, because not properly called for within the two years allowed for that purpose. One of these was, however, soon after renewed.

One hundred and thirty-two churches during the year drew their appropriations, amounting to $58,174.50.

Receipts and Expenditures.—The balance appropriated and unappropriated on hand April 1, 1867, was $52,411.21. The receipts from April 1, 1867, to April 1, 1868, were $50,317.78. The entire available means of the year were therefore $102,728.99. From the Treasurer's Report in the Appendix it appears that the expenditures were $61,460.46. The balance in the Treasury April 1, 1868, was consequently $41,268.53. There were, however, unpaid at that date liabilities amounting to $29,480, leaving an unpledged balance of $11,788.53 to meet applications already filed (and that may at any time furnish the required information), amounting to $79,375, or nearly seven times the sum on hand to meet them. Presented in the usual tabular form, the financial position of the Board April 1, 1868, was this, viz.,

Pledges already made, ...	$29,480 00
Applications filed that must be acted on as soon as the required information reaches the Board, ...	79,375 00
Total demands, April 1, 1868,	$108,855 00
Total means, " "	41,268 53
Deficit of means, April 1, 1868,	$67,586 47

Aid needed.—Inasmuch as the average cost of the churches the Board has hitherto taken the responsibility of aiding has been about $2,500, while our average grants do not reach one-fifth of that amount, it has been asked whether the churches aided could not by extra effort have raised this sum themselves, and dispensed with assistance from the Board. In answering this inquiry it should be borne in mind, that the conditions on which the Board makes its grants, are such as to stimulate the liberality of recipients to the utmost, and that the history of our appropriations shows, that for every dollar appropriated by the Board, at least another dollar was drawn from the field itself that could not otherwise have been obtained. It is, moreover, a fact established by the most careful examination, that the churches aided by the Board generally exercise great self-denial, and tax their own resources and those of the communities in which they are located, very heavily. The aid granted has therefore, in most cases supplied what was lacking, after the largest possible sum had been raised from the people themselves. A burden but a little beyond the unassisted ability of a church to lift, is in fact as immovable to that church as though it were far heavier, and the necessity for aid is as real, if not as large, in the former as in the latter instance. If the need of aid were not urgent and wide spread, more than 1200 unsolicited applications would not have been filed with the Board in the last thirteen years, and 830 different churches would not have pressed their requests to an appropriation. When one-third of the entire number of our churches thus urge their wants, the necessity must be great and real.

What has been done.—In the last thirteen years your Board of Church Extension has received $376,178.25, of which sum nearly $260,000 was from churches. The number of congregations contributing to its funds during the year under review, was nearly six-fold the number contributing in 1856. It has aided 830 different churches to obtain church properties free from debt, worth nearly $2,500,000, and that will comfortably accommodate 175,000 worshippers. These results have been reached without the employment of any salaried collecting agents, and without any expenditure whatever, borne by the Church at large, or by general contributors.

The work enlarging.—The permanent and vital character of the Church Extension work appears from the increase of applications, and from the enlargement of the Church itself. Within three years the applications have nearly doubled, both in number and amount, and are now far in advance of any previous period of our history. Last year, though not entirely freed from the embarrassments caused by our late civil war and the divisions incident thereto, our Presbyteries reported the addition of nearly 32,000 communicants on examination and certificate, and the organization of eighty-five new churches, or nearly one-half as many in a single year as during the five preceding years. Nearly all these new organizations will sooner or later need aid in the erection of their sanctuaries.

Shall not then earnest prayer ascend to the King, who has promised to take pleasure and be glorified in the houses His people build, that he would incline those who have hitherto helped this work to continue their aid, and persuade our 1600 churches, who are not now enrolled as its supporters, to remember its wants in the time to come.

FUND FOR DISABLED MINISTERS AND THE FAMILIES OF DECEASED MINISTERS.

Rev. Joseph H. Jones, D. D., Secretary, 524 Spruce St., Philadelphia.
George H. Van Gelder, Esq., Treasurer, 320 Walnut St., Philadelphia.

THIRTEENTH ANNUAL REPORT TO THE TRUSTEES OF THEIR COMMITTEE ON THE FUND FOR DISABLED MINISTERS IN NEED, AND THE NEEDY WIDOWS AND ORPHANS OF DECEASED MINISTERS.

The first records of the Committee were made in 1852. The only applicants for aid during that year, were two ministers and six widows. The whole amount contributed for distribution was six hundred and fifty dollars. Within the year ending April 30, 1868, the Committee have assisted fifty-eight ministers, sixty-seven widows, and eleven families of orphans, among whom have been dispensed twenty-six thousand one hundred and ninety-one dollars. The balance of four thousand three hundred and seventy dollars, reported by the Treasurer on the first of April, has been expended already in meeting the large drafts since made, during the months of April and May.

Some additions have been made to the permanent fund, all of which have been regularly reported in the Record. A cause which appeals so earnestly to the sympathy and conscience of Christian men, needs no other advocate than such facts as are presented to the Assembly by the Trustees in their annual report. As long as the support of ministers generally, is so precarious, and in many cases, very inadequate, some provision for those who become disabled, is indispensable. This is the only method thus far devised by our Assembly for compensating, even in a small degree, the unrequited labours of those who, by reason of sickness or age, are incapable of providing for themselves. As has been reiterated so often by the Assembly in their annual declarations to the churches, "it is a claim which addresses itself not to our charity and brotherly kindness, so much as to our sense of justice." The State provides a pension for her disabled servants. Immigrants from other nations form beneficial associations for the relief of their countrymen, who have become needy and afflicted in this land where they are strangers. Persons of kindred tastes, professions, or callings, combine together for the relief of their suffering brethren. Some of these secular organizations are older and more liberal in their contributions than are those of the church for a similar purpose. Thus, in the manifestation of concern for their brethren, and of practical sympathy in providing for their temporal wants, "the children of this world reprove by their example, 'the children of light.'"

Letters received by the Committee from all parts of the Church, express increasing interest in the cause, and none evince more joy in its progress, than our missionaries, both foreign and domestic. It is no evidence of a want of zeal in these devoted men, nor of a proper trust in Providence, that in their remote fields of labour they revolve at times, with deep solicitude, the contingency of chronic disease, which may disable them in early life, or the imbecility of old age. They cannot so far divest themselves of humanity, as to leave these possible events wholly out of the account in deciding whether, in view of the manifold trials of missionary life, they will be able to endure hardness as good soldiers, in such an arduous warfare. The Committee are confident that nothing has served so much to allay their anxiety, and suppress inordinate fear, as the establishment of this fund. The support thus pledged by their brethren, is at once a token of their fraternal love, and of the care of a benignant Providence. The comfort imparted to many who are already compassed about with the innumerable evils that often attend penury, disease, and age, is most gratefully acknowledged.

It is attested by communications to the Committee, too numerous to be reported, but which would be read with lively interest. A clerical friend writes concerning a venerable Christian lady: "I wish that you could converse with her, if but for one half hour. You would be deeply impressed with the excellency of both her head and her heart. Language cannot exaggerate the value to her of your annual remittances. They are always welcome, always needed, and the Committee may be assured, that they are economically and prudently used."

One of the forms in which the fund proves eminently helpful, is in meeting severe, and sometimes sudden emergencies, by the giving of temporary relief; or, such as is needed only for a time. A young mother, the widow of a missionary in the West, was commended to the Committee for help. By a judicious use of two or three annual appropriations, she has become qualified for a position in a literary institution, where she is able to support herself. In other instances, ministers have been disabled by excessive anxiety and overwork. A morbid condition of both body and mind, has made them desponding, incapable of labour, and almost bereft of reason, while pondering over their own sufferings, and the wants of a helpless family. The relief of mind afforded by the fund has wrought a happy change in their health, which could not be effected by the physician. "Our suffering brother," writes a stated clerk, "has so far recovered, that he is able to resume his labours, and will not ask for another remittance. His condition was so alarming, as to cause serious apprehensions about the result. I verily believe, that the efficient remedy in his case, was administered through your Committee. Your appropriation, under God, appears to have been the means of saving his life." Two years ago, one of our young ministers was arrested in his labours by the state of his throat and chest. He is submissive and hopeful, trusting in a gracious Providence, to restore him to health, which he thinks, is improving. Should his expectations be realized, he will not need nor ask further aid. Not unlike this, is the case of a missionary, still in early life, who, after a severe struggle with threatening pulmonary disease, has resigned his commission. In his retirement he writes, "by the blessing of God, I am slowly recovering; and I hope soon to be restored to the delightful work of preaching the gospel. It was with much diffidence that I applied through the Presbytery for assistance. My services in the church have been of so short duration, that I did not think myself entitled to aid. I feel that it ought rather to be given to others in similar need, but more worthy than myself. And yet, what would have been my condition without it? And now let me express my heartfelt thanks for this timely assistance. I cannot tell you how grateful I feel to the church, and to the God of our Zion, that I am so kindly remembered and cared for, in the hour of my affliction. It has removed a great burden from my heart, and has reminded me of many precious promises of God to his children, even to the most unworthy."

Another minister in middle life, hopelessly crippled by some chronic complaint, was obliged to resign his pastoral charge. Though possessed of some land, he wanted the means to enrich and hire labourers to till it. Having little knowledge of farming, and with strength only to hobble about with difficulty, he was constrained to ask through the Presbytery, temporary assistance from the fund. A letter was received from this afflicted brother, giving an account of the efforts of himself and family, to maintain themselves. "When I was no longer able to preach," he says, "and we were compelled to look to our farm for support, we all went to work to the extent of our ability, and even beyond it. My wife attended to her household duties in the morning by the light of a candle, and then spent twelve hours in out-door labours. I have gone to the field on my two crutches, left one in the corner of the field, and with the other in my hand or under my arm, I have dropped corn, or pulled weeds, till my strength was exhausted. My children, of course, helped as far as they were able, the oldest of whom, at that time, was but ten. The youngest has since been removed by death. The others, if spared, will render more assistance in future; and we hope, that, under God, we shall be able hereafter to maintain ourselves. We feel truly thankful, that thus far, we have received so promptly all that the Presbytery have asked."

A minister at the West, of more than four-score, writing with a tremulous hand, a short, and almost illegible letter, "thanks those, who in their loving-kindness have made such provision for their aged brother. They are remembered in my prayers both night and morning. Should I live till next July, I shall be eighty-four years old. When the Lord sees fit to take me and my benefactors home, may we all meet with those who unite in singing the song of Moses and the Lamb, in that city where they have no need of the sun, neither of the moon, for the Lord God giveth them light, and they shall reign for ever."

An invalid widow, writes to the Committee in behalf of herself and four orphan children, acknowledging a remittance with "heartfelt gratitude, for so great a kindness." "God," she says, "has been a father to the fatherless, and a friend to the widow. Would that those who thus minister to our necessities, might know, how great is the favour they confer, and how deeply we feel our obligation. Let others, who have been bereaved and afflicted like ourselves, put their trust in God, who will never see the most unworthy of his disciples forsaken, nor suffer them to want bread."

Such are only samples of many letters to the Committee, in which the partakers in this bounty of the Church, give their grateful feelings utterance. Not a few of them are so disabled by disease or age, as to be incapable of any sort of remunerative labour; and but for the Fund, they would have no visible source of procuring the necessaries of life. Among them are cases of blindness, consumption, palsy, and mental imbecility. Three have been removed by death since our last report. The Committee state, with regret, that in many churches collections for the cause are made irregularly, and that quite a number have hitherto given nothing at all. Although the Committee, thus far, have been able to grant, in every instance, all that the Presbyteries have asked, yet the average amount of our appropriations has of late been so much increased, that without a corresponding increase in our receipts during the coming year, the demands on our treasury will exceed the means to meet them. The Trustees are instructed by the Assembly, to add to the permanent fund, not only large donations and legacies which are given for this purpose, but any surplus of the current receipts not needed for distribution. Hitherto the income from the annual collections of the churches has not been so large as to permit any portion for investment. This direction of the Assembly affords an opportunity to the special friends of the fund, to enlarge it to any extent they please, by their contributions, which will be invested or disbursed by the Trustees, according to the wish of the donors. In view of the conflicting opinions in the Church on the subject of such a fund, it is believed that this gradual way of augmenting it is not only the least objectionable, but that it will be an effectual way. The little flock of converted Chinamen at Shanghai, are glad to hear the annual report of the Trustees, through the interpretation of their pastor. Its facts strike a tender cord in their hearts, and they send us every year a token of their sympathy, in a generous gift. The contribution of four pounds four shillings and eight pence this year, is a small advance on that of the last. The letter which accompanied their donation expressed much affection for their suffering brethren on this side of the globe, and the pleasure they feel in contributing to their relief. The past year has furnished gratifying evidence of a deep interest among the ministry in the welfare of their disabled brethren, nor do the Committee believe that any one of all the causes in which the Church is enlisted is more firmly fixed in her affections. They cannot doubt of either its permanence or its prosperity, as long as it is so conducted as to enjoy the confidence and fostering care of the Assembly, with the favour of God.

ABSTRACT OF THIRD ANNUAL REPORT OF THE ASSEMBLY'S COMMITTEE ON FREEDMEN.

In accordance with the direction of the last General Assembly, the Committee on Freedmen have continued for "another year" the effort to plant the Church, with its educational and gospel privileges, among the people committed to their care. The officers and Executive Committee of last year were re-elected, and served with faithfulness, and without a division in counsels throughout the year. The Executive Committee has met statedly once in two weeks, and with the Secretary has kept a constant and direct oversight of all parts of the work, pushing it forward with energy, and enlarging it as rapidly as the Church afforded the means. On the third day of February, 1868, the Treasurer of the Committee, Alexander Cameron, was called to his rest, in the fifty-third year of his age. He was a good man—"one who feared God and wrought righteousness." David Robinson, Esq., a member of the Committee, and a ruling elder in the First Church of Pittsburgh, was elected Treasurer at the death of Mr. Cameron, and served to the close of the ecclesiastical year, without salary.

The three-fold work of raising funds, enlisting and sending missionaries to the field, and of establishing and directing the work of the missions, has been prosecuted upon the same general plan as last year, which was endorsed by the Assembly. Modifications, to some degree, have become necessary in the control of the missions, to accord with the authority and proper functions of Presbyteries, which have been organized as the outgrowth of the work among the Freedmen. While the Committee have required a Monthly Report from all Teachers, according to blanks furnished, and a Quarterly Report of the same kind from all ministers in commission, and have paid no salary except for services rendered, they have permitted the Presbyteries of Catawba and Atlantic to determine the organization of churches, the location of schools, and the building of houses of worship within their own bounds; also to appoint and direct the labours of their ministers and catechists.

In accordance with the authority given by the last Assembly, in its action requesting the Boards of the Church "to co-operate with it (the Committee), in their several departments, in such a manner as may seem best fitted to promote its ends," application was made to the several Boards, who have rendered all the assistance required; and transportation for the teachers has been obtained from the Freedmen's Bureau, and also aid in building, renting, and furnishing school-rooms.

On the 1st of May, 1867, there remained in the treasury a balance from the contributions of last year, of $2,549.32; barely enough to meet the demands for the salaries of missionaries at the end of that month. With this balance and the hope of help from the sources indicated, the Committee entered upon the work of the year. They commissioned ministers, teachers, and catechists, as the way was made clear, with faith in the Lord, and his people, that a support would be provided for all whom Jesus called to this self-denying labour. While no month has passed without leaving the Committee with an empty treasury; and twice during the year the treasury was largely overdrawn, yet the Committee would report that no missionary has either had his salary diminished, or been compelled to wait a week after it was due.

* Deceased.

The work has been sustained with unremitting effort throughout the year, in its three departments, each of these departments requiring constant attention.

The following summary will exhibit the work and its results:

I. Of Funds.

Balance from last year,	$2,549 32
Collections from Churches,	19,688 06
Individual and miscellaneous contributions,	8,666 77
By Freedmen for support of Schools and Churches, (not in Treasurer's Report),	3,694 38
By Freedmen for buildings, (in cash and work),	4,570 00
Appropriations by Boards of Domestic Missions, Education, and Church Extension, with those of the Government, for transportation of teachers, rent, and building school-houses,	26,700 00
Total,	$65,868 53
Balance in Treasury May 1, 1868,	1,908 91

The whole amount contributed by the freed people, as reported to the Committee, for building school-houses, manses and churches, and for support of ministers and teachers, is $8,871.27. Besides this, much was given, in work and money, which has not been reported, and a number of the churches have made contributions to the Boards of the Church.

II. Of Missionaries and Teachers.—The Committee have had in commission and in the field, since the last report, one hundred and sixty-five Missionaries, at a cost to the church of $20,181.45, or an average salary of $250. Of these missionaries there were: ordained ministers, 32; licentiates, 4; catechists, 10; student catechists, 43; teachers 76. Of these one hundred and ten were of the African race.

III. Missions and Schools.—A synopsis of the monthly reports, from all the missions and schools, is preserved in the office of the Committee, in tabular form. Thus the statistical history of each is preserved, and the progress of the work indicated. These reports present the following results, viz.

Stations occupied by Schools since May 1, 1867,	46
Abandoned, because affording no promise of a Presbyterian Church,	1
Temporary schools taught by students of Lincoln University during vacation,	7
Schools in operation May 1, 1868,	38
Pupils in the same,	2889
Number Sabbath-Schools reported,	51
Number pupils in the same,	3812
Whole number churches,	60
Whole number communicants in these, May 1st,	4603
Baptisms reported,	1202
Marriages reported,	112
Number church buildings completed during the year,	23
Manses, or teachers' houses,	7
Church buildings begun,	8
Lots for church buildings secured where building has not begun,	7

I. Collection of Funds.—This statement of results reveals the fact that the advance in contributions has been in no degree proportionate to the enlargement and success of the work, and the Church ought to be startled with the evidence that the deficiency increases with an alarming ratio. While the annual contributions to the cause have increased from $21,100.03 to $28,354.83, and the number of contributing churches from 528 to 719, the increase of expenditures, arising solely from the success of the missions, and the consequent enlargement of the work, has been from $24,316.55 to $63,959.62.

The Committee during the present year have expended $29,347.97 more than the outlay of last year, and this increase was made necessary, in order to secure permanence in the churches and schools established. It has been such as ought to be expected in a successful mission. It is the answer of God to the prayer of his Church, "Let thy Kingdom come."

The failure of the churches to meet this increasing demand of successful work, among the Freedmen, has been a constant source of perplexity to the Committee. At the end of every month have they been called to face an empty treasury. At the time of the last Report there remained in the Treasury barely enough to pay the salaries due at the end of May, and with the special demands, made by the necessities of the other departments of the work of the Church, there seemed little hope of being able to sustain the missionaries already in the field. Hence unremitting efforts were made, by correspondence, by publication of appeals, and by personal visitation of pastors and churches, to secure sufficient collections to retain the missionaries in the field during the summer. In this work the Secretary was assisted by the volunteer services of two of the missionaries, who were members of the last Assembly. The Rev. Eben Blachly, of Kansas, and the Rev. W. L. Miller, of North Carolina, spent two months each in successful labours among the Western churches. The seed sown by their hands is still yielding a harvest. An arrangement was made with the Secretaries to have the cause of missions among the Freedmen presented with that of the Boards at the meeting of the Synods; and thus the work was placed in the same position as the other departments of the Assembly's missions. And, with the blessing of God upon these efforts, the work has gone steadily forward in every department.

When the difficulties under which the Committee has laboured from the beginning in raising funds, are considered candidly, the success which has attended their efforts is far greater than could have been anticipated. Some of these difficulties the Committee would bring before the Assembly, with their earnest petition that all possible efforts may be made to remove them. 1. The position which this work is made to hold in the scheme of the Church's operations, is manifested in the fact, that no separate column in the annual statistics of the Church, in the Assembly's Minutes, is allowed. Thus the Assembly's Committee is, virtually, placed before the Church as an outside agency, or a voluntary association, and sent forth to glean after the appointed reapers. 2. The time, appointed by the Assembly, for an annual collection for this work, viz., on the first Sabbath in October, is shown by experience to be both inopportune and unfortunate. 3. A third difficulty is found in the fact, that many pastors are persuaded that the existence and operations of the Committee tend to create, and keep alive, heart-burnings and an uncharitable spirit, between Northern and Southern Christians, and the Committee is, either thoughtlessly or designedly, identified with the Freedmen's Bureau. Nothing can be more unjust to the work, or to the spirit and intentions with which it has been conducted. Of the twenty-six Ministers in the field on the 1st of May, fourteen are either natives of the South, or have spent by far the larger part of their ministry among the Southern people. The Committee have no more connection with the Government in the prosecution of their work than the Board of Foreign Missions has in its labours among the Indians. 4. The position of the Committee as a temporary agency, is a great hindrance to success in the work, and to a proper increase of the funds. The impression seems to be general, as each Assembly meets, that the Committee will be dissolved, and hence Church Sessions do not put the cause upon their schedule of permanent collections, and the same work of solicitation is to be done every year, and the footsteps of the Assembly's servants are nothing more than tracks in the sand.

II. Of Labourers.—The character and qualifications of Missionaries to be employed, must be determined by the peculiarity of the field, and the nature of the work to be done. The work the Committee have attempted to do, falls into three general divisions.

1. The gathering of congregations, and the organization and establishment of regular churches. This includes the whole work of securing lots, building houses of worship, and maintaining regular gospel ordinances.

2. Parochial schools, both day and night, where all classes may receive the rudiments of an education. A congregation, none of whose members are able to read the Bible, need something more than the regular church ordinances, and preaching of the gospel. The "great commission" must be interpreted literally, by every Missionary who would be successful in evangelizing the Freedmen, "GO TEACH ALL NATIONS."

3. The education and equipment of labourers for all departments of the work, from among the people themselves. The aim has been from the beginning, to so establish and purify society among the Freedmen, that they can speedily have charge of the whole work for themselves. Hence the appointment of all Missionaries has been made with reference to these three departments. In the present condition of the people, the Minister, the Teacher, and the Catechist, must labour together in the same general field, and these departments so overlap each other, that the work of one class of missionaries is not complete without that of the others.

Ministers have the care of from three to eight churches, preaching statedly, and administering the Sacraments to them. They also superintend the schools, teaching in the same as opportunity offers, and in addition, give regular instruction to Catechists under their care.

Teachers labour five days in the week, six hours a day, and generally they have night schools, three nights of the week, from seven to nine o'clock. One day of the week is usually spent in visiting the people, and in teaching them to order their households. They hold prayer-meetings, teach Sabbath-schools, and assist Catechists in the conduct of Sabbath services in the absence of the minister.

Catechists are associated with the Ministers, as assistants in visitation, in gathering congregations, and the maintenance of public worship. They superintend Sabbath-schools, and in many cases teach on Saturday. They are chiefly candidates for the Ministry, and spend a part of each week in study, under tuition of the Teacher or Minister.

No difficulty has been found in enlisting either Teachers or Catechists. Female Teachers, with the true spirit of missions, are to be found in all parts of the Church, who are ready to enter the work, and bear all its trials and reproaches, upon the promise of a bare support. And the Committee would renew their testimony to the singular fidelity, and moral heroism with which these Female Teachers have performed their work. Without society or sympathy, they have toiled on, seeking to lay the foundations of a Christian society, and to teach the ignorant "all things whatsoever" Jesus has commanded.

Ministers endowed with the peculiar spirit and qualifications, necessary to success in this field, are more difficult to find. The Committee would, however, record the fact, with devout gratitude, that men well adapted to the work have been led to enter upon it—all, indeed, that the Church has enabled the Committee to support—and they have exhibited a degree of faith, wisdom, and godly zeal, in the midst of reproach, danger, and trial, which ought to make their names precious to the Church. The roll of churches and communicants, with the houses of worship completed, and the permanent institutions planted, are the witnesses of their faithfulness and untiring patience. These Missionaries are rapidly reducing their work to Presbyterial order, and are using the order and discipline of the Church, to purify and elevate Christian society among the Freedmen. Three Presbyteries, with their fifty odd churches, organized within two years, all of whose Ministers are sustained by the Committee, now ask for the sympathy and supervision of the General Assembly.

(1.) The Presbytery of Catawba.—This Presbytery, which was recognized and enrolled by the last Assembly, and placed under the Synod of Baltimore, was, upon their own petition, at the last meeting of that Synod, divided, by a line running southwest from Weldon, in North Carolina, through Columbia, South Carolina, and Augusta, Georgia, to the mouth of the Savannah river; thus leaving in Catawba Presbytery, all the churches and missions established in North Carolina, except those at Wilmington and Fayetteville.

(2.) The Presbytery of Atlantic.—By this action of the Synod of Baltimore, the Presbytery of Atlantic was formed, to include all the Ministers labouring south of the line of division. This Presbytery was organized according to the order of Synod, on the 1st day of January, 1868. It consisted of six Ministers, with three Licentiates under its care, and enrolled, at the time of the organization, eleven churches. Of the Ministers, two were white men; four, with the three Licentiates, were of the African race. This Presbytery now consists of eight Ministers, with one Licentiate and thirteen churches. They have appointed the Rev. William T. Carr, late of the Presbytery of Baltimore, and a graduate of the Western Theological Seminary, their Commissioner to the General Assembly, and they ask to be enrolled as a Presbytery regularly organized.

(3.) The Presbytery of Knox.—In November of 1867, an application was received by the Committee, from four Ministers in the State of Georgia, to be aided in their work among the Freedmen. They stated that three of them had been ordained to the full work of the gospel ministry, "among their own people," by the Presbytery of Hopewell. With their application for aid was a memorial, which they requested the Committee to present to the General Assembly, praying to be taken under the care of the Assembly, as "The Presbytery of Knox, in the State of Georgia." This Presbytery seems to have been organized as an independent one, by the three colored men, who had received ordination at the hands of the Hopewell Presbytery, and they had ordained a fourth man, and have one licentiate and eight regularly organized churches under their care.

The Committee, after a full investigation, made by a Missionary sent, at their own request, to visit them, granted commissions to all these brethren, and appointed a Minister, who kindly volunteered to bear his own expenses, to superintend the organization of their work.

All the papers in this case in the possession of the Committee, are laid before the Assembly, with the request of these brethren, that if their action shall be found consistent, they shall be recognized and enrolled as the "Knox Presbytery, in Georgia." They are all coloured men, and with one exception, have the Presbyterial endorsement of the Southern Church. The field occupied by this Presbytery is very large, and one of the most promising for the establishment of an African Presbyterian Church, that has yet come under the inspection of the Committee. It includes the field of the successful labours of the late Dr. C. C. Jones, of precious memory.

If this Presbytery is recognized by the Assembly, the opportunity will be afforded, at once, for the organization of a Synod, for which both the Presbyteries of Catawba and Atlantic have petitioned. The Committee would respectfully and earnestly ask the attention of the Assembly to this petition for the erection of a Synod, under the conviction that it will tend greatly to develope and establish the missions among the Freedmen. A practical and energetic Synodical review and control is greatly needed, and is greatly desired, both by the missionaries and the churches.

III. Education of Ministers.—The field of operations among the Freedmen is divided into missions, schools, and the education and preparation of native ministers and teachers. In this last department the Committee are happy to report that singular encouragement has been afforded. The leaders of the freed people are, almost without exception, religious leaders, and maintain their influence chiefly by the religious feelings of the people. This peculiar state of things has its difficulties, as well as its advantages. It gives peculiar shape to the work in this department. Candidates for the sacred ministry are to be found in every community. Almost every man who is moved with a desire to obtain a liberal education, inspires his efforts with a determination to preach, or teach the religion of Jesus. The work is, not to turn the attention of young men to these offices, and lead them to listen to the call of God, but to select, out of the multitude of candidates, those who are called indeed. Men by the hundred are to be found, who plant themselves upon their right to preach the gospel, as secured by visions, and dreams, and audible voices, as distinct as the thunder of the skies, and as articulate as the mongrel dialect they speak.

The question is not whether the Freedmen shall have ministers and religious teachers of their own race,—that they have already,—but it is whether the Presbyterian Church, true to its historic faith and missionary zeal, shall help them to a ministry accepted of God, and able, through grace, to lead them to a full developement of Christian life and power.

1. As a means to this end the Church has already established "Lincoln University," near Oxford, Pa. The Committee have taken the liveliest interest in the endowment and full equipment of this institution, and attention is called to it, as to-day exercising a most potent influence upon the whole work of the Church among the Freedmen. This University has now an efficient faculty of eight members, with one hundred and fifteen students in attendance. Forty of these are Freedmen. The students are gathered from fifteen States, which fact evinces the wide-spread influence exerted by the institution. There are, at present, in the Theological department, fifteen; in the Collegiate, eighty-two; Preparatory, eighteen. Of these students forty-eight are candidates for the ministry. Three-fourths of the whole are members of some evangelical church. Four Professorships are already endowed, and about $10,000 is needed, just now, to increase the accommodations made necessary by the growing success of the University. A Presbyterian church has been organized by the Presbytery of New Castle, in connection with the college, composed entirely of students. To this church, thirty additions have been made during the year, by profession of faith. Ten promising young men have gone into the great harvest within the last year, and thirty more have made application to the Committee to be sent to the Freedmen, to labour during the summer vacation in establishing and teaching schools. For this work they ask for no support, save that which they may be able to obtain from the people. The Church has much to hope for in the future work of this institution. There is to-day no more efficient agency for the establishment of the Church among the freed people, or for providing a proper ministry for them.

2. The High School at Quindaro, in Kansas.—This Institution was established under the auspices of the Assembly's Western Committee, and adopted by the Synod of Kansas. Under the superintendence of the indefatigable Dr. Blachly it had gone quietly forward in the face of great discouragements. During the last year it had one hundred and fifty pupils on its roll, who have made encouraging advancement. This school has accumulated property, consisting of the seminary building; and three dwelling-houses for teachers, valued at $6,200. On this there is a debt of $500. Efforts are now being made to obtain an efficient Principal, who shall be able to give instruction to a theological class. Also to secure land for farming and gardening purposes, that the students may be instructed in agriculture, and trained to habits of industry.

3. Biddle Memorial Institute.—This Institute, located in the city of Charlotte, N. C., has enjoyed signal favour in the last year. Since the 16th of last September, when the session opened, forty-three students have been admitted; twenty of them candidates for the ministry, and twenty-three are seeking preparation for the work of teaching. Great care has been exercised in admitting the students, and all of them have been commissioned as Catechists, being required to spend part of their time in labour among the people, in visitation, in Sabbath and Saturday-schools, and in prayer-meetings. The Institution has been incorporated under a Board of Trustees, under the laws of North Carolina, and now enjoys the labours of three ministers, as Professors, viz., Rev. S. C. Alexander, Rev. W. L. Miller, and Rev. A. C. Dennison. These brethren are also labouring vigorously, in planting and supplying churches.

A beautiful site, of eight acres, has been secured for the Institute near the city, the generous gift of Col. W. R. Myers, a citizen of Charlotte, and the main building is now being placed upon it. Two houses for the Professors have been completed, free of debt. Eight thousand dollars are needed now, to complete the work begun, and to furnish these brethren with the facilities necessary to enable them to do the work well, to which they have been called. The freedmen have taken hold of this enterprise with great vigor, and are spreading its reputation far and wide; but their absolute poverty prevents them from doing much toward its material prosperity. The student catechists have no means of support, save their scanty savings, and what the Committee have been enabled to give them. One hundred dollars a year will enable one of these brethren to pursue his studies and do the work of a catechist, and efforts have been made, with some sucess, to procure temporary scholarships from Sabbath-schools, and from benevolent individuals, to be used for this purpose. If the churches could be induced to take hold of this work, more than a hundred promising young men could be gathered to the Biddle Institute during the next session. Men who have been trying to preach the gospel to their benighted brethren, and have discovered their own ignorance, beg the opportunity of here receiving instruction, from the word of God and the standards of the Church. Shall they beg in vain? Let the Church rise to a conception of the proportions of the grand problem now placed before us: WHO SHALL TEACH THE TEACHERS OF THE AFRICAN RACE? Not only here, but in the land of their fathers? Has not God indicated by a voice not to be mistaken, in the success that has followed the efforts made in these institutions, that the time has fully come when the Church should arise and build these Schools of the Prophets?

THE CONTINGENT FUND AND THE MINUTES.

1. This fund is indispensable to the organization of the General Assembly. It pays the salaries and expenses of the Clerks, the Janitors, the Delegates to Corresponding Bodies; for printing, and for the Stationery used by the officers and members during the Sessions; besides the whole cost of printing and publishing the Minutes annually.

2. To meet the increasing cost of the Minutes, the General Assembly, at Newark, in 1864, ordered that the price be seventy-five cents per copy; and previous regulations authorized the Stated Clerk to withhold the Minutes from any Presbytery that will not send in time the full price, including postage, and post-office address for each Minister and Licentiate on the list transmitted. When the sum transmitted is not sufficient, the Minutes will be sent only to the Stated Clerk, and others on the list, as far as the money will pay, according to the rate fixed by the Assembly. Any individual, officer, or member in the church, may obtain a copy of the Minutes by subscribing for the same, and paying before the 1st of June.

3. By act of the General Assembly at Pittsburgh, 1865, the Stated Clerk, the Treasurer, and the Secretary of the Board of Trustees, are made a Committee to assess the several Synods, in order to bring the Contingent Fund out of debt, and keep it out of debt, the assessment being subject to approval by each Synod.

TO THE STATED CLERKS OF SYNODS.

It is the duty of the Stated Clerks of their respective Synods to send up to the Stated Clerk of the General Assembly an annual report, stating, in brief, the number of Presbyteries, ministers, churches, licentiates, and candidates, within their bounds, and particularly all changes which may have been made in the arrangement of Presbyteries. By the Assembly of 1841, (see p. 425,) it has been made their duty also to transmit to the Stated Clerk of the Assembly the time and place of meetings of their respective Synods.

STATED CLERKS OF PRESBYTERIES

ARE EARNESTLY RQUESTED

1. To make their Annual Reports to the Assembly. If they have no printed blanks, after the form on the next page. Blanks can always be obtained gratis, on application to the Stated Clerk.

2. To make their Reports in fair, distinct writing, especially the columns of figures.

3. To make them as accurate and full as possible. If, in any instance, churches do not report to Presbyteries, it is desirable that their number of communicants should be inserted from their last report.

4. To report no cents. The Assembly has so ordered. If, therefore, they are reported, the Stated Clerk of the Assembly is obliged to throw them out altogether, or to incorporate them with the dollars. This costs him a serious amount of labour, to which he ought not to be subjected.

5. To add up each column of figures with care. Many still neglect this, and thus oblige the Clerk of the Assembly to do what they should do themselves.

6. To append to the statistics of Presbyteries a brief account of the changes which have occurred during the year—such as the number of licensures, ordinations, installations, dismissions of pastors, organization of new churches, and the names of ministers deceased.

7. To transmit their reports to the Stated Clerk, at the meeting of the Assembly, or to W. SARGENT, Esq., 821 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, not later than the first day of June, fully post paid.

N. B. The General Assembly, in its sessions at Nashville, Tennessee, directed that the Presbyterial Reports should be made out at, or before the Spring meetings of Presbyteries, and read in Presbytery, for ratification and sanction.

☞ Blank forms for Sessional Reports are not furnished by the Stated Clerk of the General Assembly, but are kept for sale by the Presbyterian Board of Publication, 821 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia.
